

DEATHS.

This morning, at the house of her sister, Mrs. Scully, in the Crescent, universally and deservedly regretted, Katherine Lyons, daughter of the late Denis Lyons, Esq. of Croome house, JP,—a lady whose life was a bright model of the purest practical benevolence, and of religious principles the most fervent and sincere.

This morning, at an advanced age, at his house, Thomas-street, Charles M'Namara, Esq., for many years one of the most eminent wine merchants in the South of Ireland—a gentleman of strict integrity and punctuality in all his duties.

At Carrick-on-Suir, on the morning of Sunday, the 31st ult. with the most pious resignation to the Divine will, in the 66th year of her age, Margaret, relict of the late James Lenihan, Esq. of Waterford, and mother of the proprietor of the Limerick Reporter and Tipperary Vindicator. During a widowhood of almost thirty years devoted to the most vivid and anxious solicitude for the welfare of her children, she enjoyed their deep love and veneration in return, and ensured the respect and esteem of all who knew and admired her virtues. The illness which terminated in death left her in possession of her mental faculties unclouded to the last moment. Yesterday evening her remains were accompanied to their last resting place on earth, at the cemetery attached to the Church of the Franciscan Convent, Carrickbeg, by all the Clergy of the town and neighbourhood, and a concourse of sorrowing relatives and friends to whom her memory will long be dear. May she rest in eternal peace.

At Knockbrack, near Abbeyfeale, on Tuesday, Bartholomew Harnett, Esq. son to the late William Fuller Harnett, Esq. of Knockbrack, and son-in-law to the late Patriek Hayes, Esq. Feale cottage, Abbeyfeale. Mr. Harnett has been a kind husband, a fond and affectionate parent; he was facetious and his society was courted by all who knew him. His sudden and premature death has left a blank in society which will not be soon filled up. His remains were conveyed to the family vault in Abbeyfeale by a large concourse of highly respectable friends and relatives.
