DEATHS.

At Parteen-house, on Monday last, after a protracted illness, which she bore with Christian fortitude, Mary, relict of the late Lieut. James Beveridge, Royal Artillery. To the relief of her neighbouring poor she always contributed with a generous urbanity; and the sincere tears of gratitude which bedew the cheeks of the wretched, whom she so often relieved in their affliction, are corroborative of the estimation in which she was generally held. But, it is interesting to know that she left this vale of probation and sorrow with a consciousness of having faithfully served her Redeemer; and a consolation to eleven young children who are left to bewail her loss, to reflect upon the many virtues which adorned her earthly career.
