a number of country people appeared on the shore. It was then for the first time ascertained where they were. They were in Ballycotton bay, and the Sirius lay on the rocks in Ware Cove, so named from a vessel called the Ware having been lost there many years ago. The Ballycotton coast guard boat and two fishermen's boats hove in sight. They immediately proceeded to take the people from the ship, which was a service of great danger, as the surf prevented their going alongside, and they had to row quickly by the vessel, and catch each person as he fell from above them.—By this means all, with the exception of the mate, who remained on board, were removed from the ship, and those on the rock were taken ashore by the rope and lifebuoy. The passengers being landed, the fishermen and country people got into the ship and commenced pillaging her, heedless of the coast guard officers, and continued during the day until a large body of police were brought in from the country, and 200 Marines from Cove.—None of the clothing or luggage of any of the passengers has been saved, being either stolen or washed out of the vessel. The cargo is lost, and the vessel is a total wreck. The cargo was estimated at £30,000, and the vessel at £15,000. The latter was insured for £10,000. A soldier belonging to a recruiting party in Middleton who accompanied a number of policemen to show them the wreck, fell from one the cliffs and was killed.

Captain Wynne, inspecting officer of the Board of Works, has proposed to the Kilrush relief committee to pay the labourers on the roads, &c., in food, instead of money, to reduce the wages 25 per cent.; and to establish cheap food depots, thereby inducing the population to return to agricultural work. The committee has approved the plan.

Captain Lawson, County Inspector of Constabulary, gives awful description of destitution and disease in Sligo and Mayo. A number of persons died suddenly on whom inquests were not held.

At Sligo Quarter Sessions, Martin Lynch, who had been employed on the public works, was sentenced to ten years transportation for cow stealing.

The Board of Health for Carlow is in active operation, whitewashing the houses of the poor, and supplies clean straw, for the prevention of typhus fever.

The Waterford Harbour Commissioners have raised the salary of their clerk, Mr. Curtis, from £100 to £140 a-year.

The inhabitants of Waterford have formed a relief committee in that city, for the purpose of baking and selling bread to the labouring poor, at a reduced price.

The Athlone commissioners have forbid the shameful desecration of the Sabbath at the January fair of that town.

The Cork Examiner of Monday states that 12 a day die of starvation in Kilmore, five and twenty a day in Skull—more deaths than ever in Skibbereen, and greater destitution.

The Claddagh fishermen, Galway, have memorialled the Lord Lieutenant for a sum of money to redeem their fishery gear from the pawn-office!

Francis Agnew, Esq., of Knockmany, near Dunganon, while putting a cap on his gun, on Wednesday, accidentally shot his only daughter.

The vice-chairmanship of the Hibernian Mining Company, is vacant by the death of W. H. Porter, Esq. Lord Lucan's order for a criminal information against the Mayo Telegraph newspaper, is made absolute.

The Bank of England has subscribed £1,000 to the Irish relief fund, and Lord Dysart £500, London Assurance Company £315, Atlas company £200, Mr. Hudson, M.P. Lord Mayor of York £200, and Lord Westmeath £200.

The London famine relief fund for Ireland have allocated £300 to the diocese of Limerick; Cork, £900; Kilmore, £500; Tuam, £1045; Cashel, £500; Killa- loe, £300; Ossory, £300; Meath, £250; Derry, £240; Armagh, £270.

The following appeared in part of last impression: The Mayor has this week fined several venders of bread stuff in mitigated penalties, for having light weights in their establishments; also several carmen employed on the turf quay, for having short kishes.

SOUP KITCHEN FOR ST. MICHAEL'S.—At a meeting of the Clergy of all persuasions and inhabitants of St. Michael's Parish, held to-day, Archdeacon Maunsell in the chair, for the purpose of establishing a soup Depot for the parish, it was unanimously resolved on motion of Rev. Benjamin Jacob to establish same as the most desirable mode of relieving present destitution. A subscription list was then opened for persons to contribute by monthly payments, or otherwise, after which a committee was named to carry out the objects in view, and resolutions adopted which shall appear in our next. £70 was subscribed on the spot as donations, including £50 from Messrs. J. N. Russell & sons—and parties put down their names as monthly subscribers to the amount of £20.

To Millers, Capitalists, &c.
TO BE LET,
ON A LEASE OF YEARS RENEWABLE FOR EVER,
Together or separately, and immediate possession given,
THE EXTENSIVE
FLOUR AND OATMEAL MILLS AND PREMISES, AT

Blackwater, near Limerick,
INCLUDING the Corn Store, two Kilns, Offices, Stabling and Dwelling-house, containing six Pair of Mill-stones on Wheat, and four on Oats, with all the necessary Machinery for the manufacture of Flour and Oatmeal, driven by two Water Wheels, and a thirty-horse Steam-engine, lately erected.
Also, the FLOUR MILLS at ROSMADDA, adjoining the above, containing seven Pair of Mill-stones on Wheat, with all the necessary Machinery, which are quite new, and nearly completed, the Mill having been re-built within the last six months.

Also, the Retail Concerns, Offices, Bakeries and Stabling, situate on George's-quay, Limerick—all of which Concerns have been carried on by the present Proprietor for a long time, and their character needs no comment.

Seldom has the market afforded such an opportunity of entering at once into a working Concern with such advantages, which must be examined to be justly valued.

The Mills are situate within two miles of Limerick, upon the Blackwater River, at the junction of all the great roads leading to Limerick from the Counties of Clare and Galway and the recent alterations and improvements made in the Broadford and Scariff roads, render the market at the Mill door one of the best in Ireland.

By a trifling outlay, the present ample water power could be greatly augmented by an alteration of the Water-course.

Application to be made to SAMUEL CASWELL, Esq. George's-street, or to JOHN FOGGARTY, Architect, Thomas-street, who will shew the Premises, or give Cards to view them.

To save trouble, a Fine is expected.
