rick, Hon. Secretary, reported that continued progress in athletics was made during the year. Limerick, he pointed out, had 169 registered athletes and 13 affiliated clubs.

Cappoquin was selected as the venue for the Munster Championships in 1944.

Mr. J. O'Kelly-Lynch (Limerick) was elected President and Mr. M.
Slattery (Limerick), Hon. Secretary, both selections being unan-mous.

"BUSINESS AS USUAL"

This is the time of the year which, previous to the war, brought to our homes those colourful seed catalogues, bright as spring itself, with all the gloriously coloured promise of the loveliness of gardens in summer time. Paper shortage and declining supplies cut away many of these gifts, but we are pleased to find that Messrs.
Power & Sons, Waterford, are still holding to the old custom, and are now issuing their 1944 list, complete as ever and in itself a highly artistic example of the printer's craft. To those who find happiness in gardening, this catalogue will prove an ever-handly encyclopaedia, the use of which will help to speed many a pleasant hour in these drap times.

DEATH OF LIMERICK PRIEST ABROAD.

It is with deep regret we have learned of the death in Australia, recently, of the Very Rev. Cornelius O'Regan, of East Maitland.
The late Father O'Regan was born in Ballinlough, Kiltteely, Co. Limerick, and was the youngest brother of the late Fathers Patrick and Thomas O'Regan, both of whom have died in Australia, and of Mrs. Catherine O'Neill, of The Four Elms, Co. Limerick.

NOT SO SIMPLE

The further development of coalfields was not so simple as might appear, states Mr. D. W. Bishop, A.R.S.M., F.G.S., in a review of Irish mineral resources. The re-opening of a long abandoned mine may be far more expensive and dangerous than the development of a new one.

Before the Corporation meet did you meet the Manager?—Y I told him that I heard that would be brought before the me-ing—the question of the allegaction of the foreman making mo-gas than me last July. I had rais-this matter before with the Ma-ager and had given him the fac-I wanted to have the facts agafresh in his mind, and he said

The residence is covered with thatch and iron. The out-offices comprise cow house (to tie 11 cows), stables (2 horses), car house and piggeries; all covered with slate and iron.

The Auctioneers can confidently recommend this attractive and extensive holding to intending purchasers, the lands being sound healthy and most productive.

A deposit of one-fourth the purchase money with 5 per cent. commission required on purchaser being declared.
