laced, crowned with orange flowers and honer-suckle, and was given away by her father. She was attended by six bridesmaids, including the Misses Perse, of Roxborough, all dressed in white tulle, with bouquets a la suite, ornamented with jessamine, and each wore over her dress a rose-coloured pardessus. The church was densely crowded, and the appearance of this lovely group attracted universal admiration. After the ceremony the company adjourned, amidst the heartfelt congratulations of a happy tenantry, to Loughcooter Castle, where a splendid repast was provided, and where they were welcomed by a large family party. At five o'clock the happy pair left in their travelling chariot for Fortfergus, where they pass the honeymoon.

JAMES FIFE
IN respectfully tendering his grateful acknow-ment for the very liberal and increasing support extended to him by his numerous patrons friends, begs to acquaint them, and the Public ge-ally, that he has cleared out the remaining portio of his OLD STOCK, and has now the pleasure of annoucing the ARRIVAL OF HIS NEW, consisting of som of the Finest TEAS ever imported into this country; being determined to supply the inhabitants of Li-rick with an article in Tea which cannot fail to e-mand their admiration, he has exercised the experie of many years in the first Tea and Coffee establiments in the united kingdom in favour of his pres-purchase; and he feels confident, from their pecuqualities, such as great strength combined with a tr delicious and delicate flavour, that they cannot fail sustain and increase that amount of popularity wh this Establishment has enjoyed since opening.
As a proof of the above, you are requested to t the Tea at 4s, and compare it with what you are pr ing 4s 8d and 5s for elsewhere. You are also request to try the Tea at 3s 8d and 3s 4d, which are first r value at their respective prices, and will bear comp rison with Tea sold at much higher prices elsewhere
