At Jubbulpoor, East Indies, Manaton C. Ommaney, of the E. I. Company's Civil Service, to Louisa E. Costley, daughter of Lieut.-Colonel Costley, of the Hon. Company's Native Infantry.

DEATHS.

Suddenly, on Thursday evening, Mr. Francis Creagh, of Lower Glentworth-street. He was engaged as usual at business during the day, and in perfect health five minutes before his death, when he suddenly dropped upon the staircase, and never spoke after.

In Mungret-street, Catherine, widow of the late Mr. John Allen.

In North Great George's-street, Dublin, Lady Ferguson, relict of the late Sir Andrew Ferguson, Bart. of Londonderry, and mother to Sir R. Ferguson, Bart. M.P.

Mahetabella Wilson, daughter of George Wilson, late of Bettyville, county Dublin, and wife of George Wilson, late of Spring-hill, and now of Termon Glebe, county Tyrone.

Lieut. Bartholomew Sullivan, Royal Marines, late of Rockwell-cottage, Kenmare, county Kerry.

At the King's Arms Hotel, Fermoy, whither he removed a few days since from his detachment in Rathcormac, for the benefit of his health, Lieut. Metcalfe, 95th Regiment, sincerely regretted by his brother Officers.

At his house, Leinster-row, Dublin, Edward Fitzgerald, Esq.

In Stafford street, Gabriel Clarke, Esq. M.D. fifty years a Practitioner in Dublin.

In Dublin, the Rev. George Alcock, for thirty years Incumbent of the united parishes of Graig and Ullard, in the diocese of Leighlin.

Suddenly, in Dingle, James Hickson, Esq. a respectable merchant of that town.

At an advanced age, the very Rev. John Corrin, a Dean of the Roman Catholic Church, and for more than fifty years Parish Priest of Wexford. He was universally beloved and respected by all classes of the inhabitants, being remarkable for his humane and benevolent disposition ; but what endeared him most to all who had the pleasure of knowing him personally, or hearing of his amiable character, was the praiseworthy and humane part he took at the time and on an occasion of great public excitement ; having been the instrument in the hands of God of putting a stop to the massacre on the Bridge of Wexford in 1798, when it was intended by the insurgents to put to death every Protestant they had in custody who would not join them. Just as they had finished the inhuman butchery of 97 unoffending individuals, and in the act of hurrying more into eternity, Father Corrin, in the most humane manner, rushed on the Bridge and at the risk of his own life saved those on their knees ready to be piked, and prevented the further effusion of innocent blood.

In Armagh, in her 73d year, Jane, relict of the late Rev. Thomas Carpendale, many years Master of the College of Armagh.

Sidney Anne, eldest daughter of John Fox, of Moyally House; King's County, Esq.

At Armagh, Percy Jocelyn M'Master, Esq.

In Enniskerry, William Turner, Esq. late of the firm of Messrs. Croker and Co. of Dublin, merchants.

At Ballynoran, near Carrick-on-Suir, Mrs. Moore, wife of Christopher Moore, of Kilmacthomas, county Waterford, Esq.

At Carrick-on-Suir, Mr. John Bourke.

At Clongee, Mayo, Richard Moore, Esq. killed by a fall in hunting.

In Cashel, Mrs. Mary Fitzgerald.

In Berkeley-square, London, Lady Julia Hobhouse, wife of Sir John Hobhouse, M.P. and sister of the Marquis of Tweeddale.

At Hythe, near Southampton, Mrs. Amelia Barry, aged 90.

At Thorpe, Surrey, Elizabeth Lucy, relict of the late Captain Temple Hardy, R.N. aged 71.

In Devonshire-street, London, Harriet, relict of P. Tilghman, Esq. and eldest daughter of the late Admiral Milbanke.

In Cavendish-square, Sir George Leman Tuthill, Knight, M.D.

At Wakefield, in his 85th year, Richard Burrell, Esq.

At Waltham, Lieut. Geo. Shaw, R.N.

At Tooting, Matthew Lumsden, Esq. L.L.D.

At Edinburgh, Andrew Skene, Esq. advocate.

At Savanna la Mar, William Coote, Esq.

At Berlin, the Hon. Sevilla Howard, wife of Henry F. Howard, of Cornby Castle, Esq. and daughter of Lord Erskine.

At Lisbon, aged 17, Susan, only daughter of Edward Gibbon Wakefield Esq.
