Best moved for leave to bring in a bill to amend vent act.—under that act he said, that many great frauds were practised on the public, that there were many persons now in prison for debt, who chose rather to spend their fortunes there than to pay their just debts. His objects in bringing in the bill were two—first, to enable the fair creditor to compel such persons to give up their property as far as was necessary to pay their debts—and secondly, to punish fraudulent debtors, persons, who procured large credits without the ability or inclination to pay them. After a few remarks from Messrs.
Bathurst, Horner, Lockhart, Abercrombie, Hurst, and Haring the question was put, and leave given to bring in the bill.

order, require, provided, that no person shall at any time for the space of six months from the date hereof, presume to transport to any parts out of Ireland any pig-iron, bar-iron, hemp, pitch, tar, rosin, turpentine, anchors, calbles, cordage, masts, yards, bowsprits, oars, oakum, sail cloth, or canvass, or other naval stores; (sheet copper excepted,) or do ship or lade any pig iron, bar iron, hemp, pitch, tar, rosin, turpentine, anchors, cables, cordage, masts, yards, bowsprits, oars, oakum, sail cloth, or canvass, or other naval stores (sheet copper excepted,) on board any ship or vessel, in order to transporting the same into any part beyond the seas, without leave or permission first being had &c obtained from the Lord Lieutenant or other Chief Governor or Governors and Privy Council of Ireland, upon pain of incurring the forfeitures inflicted by an act passed in Great Britain in the thirty-third year of his Majesty's reign, entitled, "an Act to enable his Majesty to restrain the exportation of Naval Stores, and more effectually to prevent the exportation of salt petre arms, and ammunition, when prohibited by proclamation or order in council;" but it is nevertheless our pleasure that nothing herein contained shall extend or be construed to extend, to any of his Majesty's ships of war, or any ships or to any boats in the service of his Majesty, or employed or freighted by his Majesty's Board of Ordnance, or by the Commissioners of his Majesty's Navy; nor to prevent any Ship or Vessel from taking or having on board such quantities of naval stores as may be necessary for the use of such ship or vessel during the course of her intended voyage, or by licence from the Lord High Admiral of Great Britain, or the Commissioners of the Admiralty several Articles to Great Britain, or to his Majesty's Yards or Garrisons, or to his Majesty's Colonies or Plantations in America or the West Indies, or to Newfoundland, or to his Majesty's Forts and Settlements on the coast of Africa, or to the Island of St. Helena, or to the British settlements, or Factories in the East Indies: Provided that upon the exportation of any of the said articles for the purpose of Trade to Great Britain, or to his Majesty's Yards and Garrisons, or to his Majesty's Colonies and plantations in America or the West Indies, or to the Island of Newfoundland, or to his Majesty's Forts and Settlements on the Coast of Africa, or to the Island of Saint Helena, or to the British Settlements or Factories in the East Indies, the exporters of such articles do first make oath of the true Destination of the same to the places for which they shall be entered Outwards, before the Entry of the same shall be made, and do give full and sufficient Security by Bond, (except as herein after expected,) to the satisfaction of the Commissioners of his Majesty's Customs, to carry the said articles to the places for which they are so entered outwards, and for the purposes specified, and none other; and such Bond shall not be cancelled or delivered up until proof to the satisfaction of the said Commissioners, by the production within a time to be fixed by the said commissioners—and specified in the Bond of a certificate or Certificate, in such form and manner as shall be directed by the said Commissioners, shewing that the said articles have been all duly landed at the places for which they were entered outwards: But it is our pleasure, nevertheless, that the following articles, viz.
Bar-Iron, White and Tarred Ropes, Tallow or Mil Grease, Tarpaulins or Waggon Covers, Pitch, Tar and Turpentine, shall be permitted to be exported upon payment of the proper Duties, without bond being entered into by the Merchant exporter, to any of the British plantations in the West Indies, or to any of his Majesty's settlements in South America; provided the Merchant exporter shall first verify upon oath that the articles so exported are intended for the use of a particular plantation or settlement, to be named in the entry outwards, and not for sale, and that the said plantation or settlement has not been before furnished with any supply of the said articles during the same season; and provided also, that the exportation of said articles shall in no case exceed the value of Fifty Pounds Sterling for any given plantation or settlement, whether by one or more shipments within the same season.

And the Commissioners of his Majesty's Custom, are to give the necessary directions herein as to their may respectively appertain.
