

from Rochefort, in company with the which we know to have been cap-several other vessels from the coast of either with an aid-de-camp of General and arrived at Alexandria.

fect Le Roy affects to speak with con-the result of the contest. He assures that the land and sea service are equed to defend Alexandria to extremity, our troops will never re-embark, if they fore Menou's arrival. The Moniteur, talks of the struggle as doubtful, and by no means very sanguine.

members there cannot be much difference our army and that of the French ; are all British ! while that of the enely made up of a mixed rabble of na-every description, on whose fidelity Menou has but little ground to place impnce.—Besides, Menou must leave a part ps in the strong places, instead of bring-hole against Gen. Abercromby, whose be estimated at about 20,000 men. es of Europe will now be upon Egypt, intelligence from that quarter will forto come excite the most lively interest. y expect advices from General Aber-a few days. [Star.

Stewart arrived at the Admiralty, this with dispatches from Admiral Parker hagen. A truce for four months has uded with the Danes.

esty, on Saturday, rode on horseback ath, to visit her Royal Highness the Wales, and the Princess Charlotte.

y, the Royal Assent was given by Com-the Habeas Corpus Suspension, Irish the Rolls, and several other bills.

ht, about ten o'clock, seventeen per-arrested under authority of a Warrant Duke of Portland, by Mr. Shaw, a ffenger, with a party of the Bow-street a Public-house, in Fore-street, Cripsuspicion of being assembled there for ditions and Treasonable purposes.— ers, for safety, were immediately taken e. Some papers of a seditious tendency upon some of them.

eman in Portsmouth has received a an Officer in Lord Nelson's fleet, of following is a copy :

Copenhagen Roads, April 3, 1801.
Dear Sir,
ave leathered them well, and I am I have no time ; God bless you all."

DUBLIN, APRIL 23.

Office, Dublin Castle, April 20. has been pleased to make the follow-

LIMERICK.—APRIL 25.

Extract of a letter from Dublin, from respect-table authority, April 22.—"The Lord Lieutenant is expected here on Monday : he has not yet appointed a Commander in Chief ;—General Harris does not come over in that capacity, being a junior General to some who command in this kingdom, who in that case would resign."

Not wishing to be the first to convey to the ears of his fond Parents, the death of a beloved Son, we omitted inserting in the London Gazette last post, that Lieutenant William Henry Long, of the Marines, (Son to Captain Long, of this City) was killed on board the Isis Man of War, in the glorious attack by the Fleet under Lord Nelson ;—he had not attained the age of 22 years, and was much respected by the Officers, &c. of his Corps.

On Wednesday, Colonel Howarth inspected the Brigade of the Royal Irish Artillery, quartered in this City for some time past, under the command of Captain Crawford, which, in consequence of the Union, are to be incorporated into the British Artillery :—The Colonel passed the highest eulogiums on the Military character of Captain Crawford, whose Brigade does honor to the Service.—We have to regret, that the new regulation has caused Captain Crawford to resign his command in the Artillery, going out on full pay ; his merit, as a most excellent Officer and Martinet, is, however, so universally known, that he has been appointed to be Major in the North Cork Militia, at present quartered in Wicklow.

We contemplate with pleasure the great relief which must be afforded to that useful, tho' much distressed Poor of this City, the Staff Manufacturers, by the intended Masked and Unmasked Ball, on the 1st of next Month : the influence of the exalted Characters who have devised the plan, will, however, need the assistance of all the Gentry in the adjacent Counties ; for the price of admittance being but Five British Shillings, except Charity stimulate as many Guineas, the receipts will by no means answer their expectations.

New Olimpick Circus, near the Theatre, Cornwallis-street.—The Royal Troop of Equestrians, from Astley's Theatres, London, Dublin, and Cork, consisting of 12 of the first Performers in Europe, which will make their first appearance on Wednesday next, April the 29th ; as it is impossible to be ready by Monday, as was advertised, on account of the great preparations making at the New Olimpick Circus, which is to be entirely covered in, and temporary Boxes and Pit erected in the inside, as were originally the London Amphi-theatres.

We are informed that Notices have been posted