

Thomas Meany, a carrier of Messrs. Fitt, of this city, fell off a laden car at Newmarket-on-Fergus yesterday, and died of the injuries this morning.

Wednesday night 16 sheep were killed on the lands of Laughton, near Moneygal, the property of Lord Bloomfield, and the fat taken away by some persons unknown. A few nights ago six sheep were killed in the neighbourhood of Ballina and Birdhill, and the fat carried away.

A shocking murder lately took place at Corofin. It appears that the son of a fisherman named Bennett, in that locality, had been missing for some days, and information was given to the police that a human body was visible in Inchiquin Lake. They discovered the body of the unfortunate young man with the head broken, as if by a hammer, the throat cut, and a cord tied round the neck with a large stone attached to it. What renders this murder more horrifying is, that there is too much reason to believe that the father of the deceased was the perpetrator of the bloody deed. A coroner's inquest was held on Saturday, and a verdict of manslaughter found against Thomas Bennett, who was committed to Ennis gaol.

The May Eve bonfires were almost invisible on Monday evening, not even indicating the embers of their former fires.
