THE EDITOR OF THE LIMERICK CHRONICLE.
Sir—I will thank you, in justice to me, to insert the following in your next publication.
Yours faithfully,
WILLIAM MASSY GREEN,
Rector of Chapel Russell.
I have been just handed a copy of the Limerick Chronicle, dated the 8th inst., in which I have read the following:—"We regret to learn that a Mr. Greene, of county of Limerick, who had been sojourning for some time at Cove, committed suicide to-day by cutting his throat."—(Cork Reporter of Saturday.) The man alluded to is one of the Greenmount family; he was a barrister, but from religious scruples he abandoned the profession; he laboured sometime with insanity, no doubt a religious monomania, and he fairly presumed it was under this influence he committed suicide."
This paragraph may refer to me I give it the most qualified contradiction, and leave the authors of this malicious falsehood in the hands of God. Only the satisfaction of a numerous circle of friends I do not think it worth my while to notice it.
WILLIAM MASSY GREEN,
Rector of Chapel Russell.
