PARISHES OF GREAN - MISCELLANEOUS FEATURESDerk Cottage -- Inhabitants 1

See name of townland. J. O'D.

Situated in the S.E. corner of the Td. of Derk, on the W. side of the road from Pallas Grean to Emly, and on the N. side of the Village of Palatinestreet.

This cottage was first built in 1780 by Mr. Wm. Hefferman, and was a thatched house until 1830 when it was rebuilt by one of the family, Mr. Jno. Beary, whose widow now occupies it. It is about 60 feet long, 20 feet wide, and is 2 story high.

Newpallas -- Inhabitants 2

Newpallis -- J. O'D.

Situated on the middle of the E. boundary of Garranemore, and in the N.W. corner of Garranebeg, townlands, on the main road from Limerick to Tipperary, and also on the road from Cappamore to Grean, crossing nearly at right angles.

Newpallas, commonly called the New Line, is the beginning of a village, having at present (1840) 5 houses in it, viz., a licensed public house which is also a Post Office, a School House and 2 houses with groceries. It is intended to build an Established Church at an expense of £900, capable of containing 80 persons. Three of the 5 houses are 2 story high, including the School House, which was built in 1820 at £300 by the Erasmus Smyth Board. There are 50 to 20 boys and girls attending daily, of whom 10 are Protestants, the rest Roman Catholics. The Master is paid £20 per annum from the above mentioned Board, and is provided with an house and garden.

Carriganaffrin -- J. O'D.

The Mass Rock (Eng.) -- Inhabitants

Situated in the S.W. corner of Lackanaskagh Td., and about 4 chains W. of Fingall's Table (See under Knockseefinn).

This rock, which is a beautiful glen, is almost circular, about 80 feet in diameter and 5 feet higher than the surface of the ground. It is said to have got its name from Mass having been celebrated on it by a Fr. O'Brien (whose relative is the present Revd. T. O'Brien Costelloe, P.P. of Abington). He celebrated Mass on the rock with the consent of the Bishop, who was sending him to France. After the Mass he exclaimed: "If you send me to France, send Knockgreen with me." And the Bishop, seeing him so fascinated by the beauty of the famous hill, permitted him to stay at home.

I do not believe this story. J. O'D.

Móta na Pailise.

Moat of Pallas -- J. O'D.

Moat -- Barony Map

Situated in the N.E. corner of Cloghaderreen Td.

This moat or fort, which is circular, is one chain in diameter. The top of the moat is green and flat, and the sides gradually widen to the base, which is about 40 feet from the summit. It is composed of earth, and the inhabitants of the district, in digging about it, find small bones, etc., mixed with the earth.

Rath Cree 33

Not known to the people by this name.

Ballinacree is the name of a townland in the adjoining parish of Latten Co. Tipperary.

Situated at the middle of the E. boundary of the Td. of Longstone.

This fort, which is circular, is about 2 chains in diameter, and 5 feet high. It is composed of earth, and around it grow some hawthorn bushes. Its centre, instead of being flat as is usual, is concave, in depth about 6 feet, from which cause it is called Rathcree, or the "Heart Fort".
