BOY'S SUCCESS

Usher's Kiosk, publican, Broad street, was charged with a breach of the Licensing Act on the 29th June.

Mr H O'B Moran, City State Solicitor, appeared for the prosecution, and Mr J S Gaffney, solicitor, defended.

Serjt Kenny stated that he found a man named Buckley on the licensed premises at about 10 30 o'clock at night. When he asked him to account for himself being on the premises within prohibited hours he replied that he had been in Clonlara the night previous and had only come home that morning, and thought he was a traveller. The publican abused witness. Buckley lived in the city.

The defence was that when Buckley was ordered out of the premises at 10 o'clock, he said he was a traveller.

The case was adjourned for a fortnight for legal argument.

James Boland, senior, James O'Brien, and John Boland were charged with the larceny of timber value for £19, the property of Mr W G Peacocke, who stated in evidence that the timber was taken from a house in Michael street, which was unoccupied. He had, he added, complained of the destruction caused to the house, and which ran into £500.

The Justice adjourned the case for a fortnight to give the accused an opportunity of paying compensation.

Michael McKnight, publican, Wickham street, was fined 40s for supplying drink to a non bona-fide traveller.

Ellen O'Donovan, Garryowen, was fined 40s for selling new milk containing 21.6 per cent of added water, and deprived of 18.3 per cent of its fat.

A fine of 20s was imposed on Bridget O'Halloran, Francis street, for selling new milk deprived of 11.7 per cent of its fat.

A penalty of 10s was imposed on Jas Hanratty for exposing for sale whiskey containing an excessive percentage of water.

Mr P J Forrest, Corporation Food and Drugs Inspector, prosecuted.

THE LATE MR W. A. MACARTHUR.

The following is a list of wreaths sent at the funeral on Thursday of Mr William A. MacArthur, Mountain View, Laurel Hill, whose demise is widely regretted, and deep sympathy extended to his daughters in their bereavement:—"In loving remembrance for the best of fathers," Elsie and Aggie, daughters; Buyers and Superintendents, Wm Todd & Co.; Harold and Nancy Rainforth; George Lavells and family; A J and F E Hayes; Mason's Order, four wreaths; Mr and Mrs Lalor.
The chief mourners were—Mr A J Smyth, Mr G O'Keefe, Mr W F Pike, Mr Hassett, Master J Hassett, Mr Wallace.

The remains were borne by the buyers of Messrs Todd and Company from the Church to the hearse and by members of the Masonic Order from the hearse to the graveside.
Rev Mr McCausland assisted Rev A W Neill in the service at the graveside.

ROWING NOTES

Coming Limerick Regatta

Our rowing correspondent writes enthusiasts and their followers are keener forward to the Limerick Regatta, which held on the 23rd inst, with the en-dors. The Committee are making speciments to accommodate the public inand although starting the programme than usual have decided to disqualify a starting post at the hour fixed on Special notices to the captains and crew punctuality in this respect are to be the umpires and starters will have instructions not to deviate under any cir-from the Committee's orders. On the of last year appeared the names of crews, which proved, as has been since in a recent report, that the Limerick one of the most popular fixtures in Ireland. oarsmen are busy each evening, and fol-individual club's work it is expected that the trophies will remain in the city.

Athlunkard Boat Club and Shannon Club will be represented by senior eight Limerick Boat Club will have crews for the events, with the exception of a sen-A useful under-age crew, who defeated at Dublin last month, promise big things.
Cork and Limerick, while Shannon after drawing a bad station in Galway quite a good performance, and won both events at this fixture. I have seen A.B.C., particularly in the junior class very well, and showing plenty of swing, which promises well for this year.
The St. Michael's crews available are in maiden and junior boats, and with ten day's training ought to be there about. The local clubs will be repre-Cork, where it is expected in rowing cir-several of the trophies will return to Limerick Regatta follows Cork, and entries are forecasted (details later), and revival of the fixture nearly a quarter of a ago, all records are likely to be broken coming Regatta.
