JAMES HOGG,
BEGS respectfully to acquaint his Customers and Patrons in Limerick, that he has just returned from the Manufacturing districts with Supplies of New Goods, which the depressed state of trade enabled him to purchase on most favorable Terms. Amongst other Novelties, J. Hogg, would particularly call public attention to the following New Patent Inventions for which he has been appointed Agent:—

JONES'S PATENT TABLE KNIVES,
YATES' PATENT PORCELAIN LETTERS AND FIGURES FOR SIGNS.

The Patent Table Knives are so constructed that the whole of the edge comes in contact with the Plate, instead of the Point only as is the case with all Table Knives now in use.

The Patent Porcelain Letters and Figures are a beautiful and economical invention. The Letters are warranted to resist the action of weather, and there is an elegance in their appearance which cannot be equalled by any other material.

Specimens of both Patents will be shown at the Warehouse, and every explanation given.

New Pattern Plates, Fenders, Fire Irons, German Silver, Plated Ware, London Urns, Tea and Coffee Pots, Glasses, Brushes, Saddlery, and House Furnishing; Hardware in general always on hand in great variety, in future direct from the Manufacturers.

Royal School of Banagher.
CUBA HOUSE,
DR. FAHIE, Ex-Scholar, T.C.D. Master.

THE Course of Education embraces everything necessary for the Universities, the Naval and Military Colleges, and Civil Engineering; and, from the considerable sums lately expended on repairs, under the superintendance of an eminent architect, the House is most comfortably fitted up for the accommodation of Boarders. It is beautifully situated, commanding an extensive view of the Shannon, and of a highly cultivated country, while Dr. Fahie, distinguished by no other appocations, shall devote his undivided attention to the comforts and improvement of his Pupils.

Though the foundation be Classical, Mathematics and English Literature shall form integral parts of the business of each day; and the cultivation of the Modern Languages receive that due attention which the rapidly increasing communication between the several countries of Europe so imperatively demands.

Presuming on his Collegiate character and long experience being over ten years principal of one of the most respectable Boarding Schools in the South of Ireland, Dr. FAHIE hopes he may prove himself not altogether unworthy the high testimony borne to him by two distinguished Prelates, from whose letters in connexion with his recent appointment, he begs to give the following extracts:—

"I have known Dr. Fahie for many years as principal of the Boarding School, having long resided in his immediate neighbourhood, where he always stood, deservedly, in the highest estimation for first rate Classical attainments, and unimpeachable moral and religious character."

(Second Extract.)
"I shall feel much pleasure in stating (if applied to) that in your progress through Trinity College, Dublin you obtained great distinction as a Classical Scholar; that your conduct was unexceptionably correct, and that you have had great experience and success as a Teacher. . . . I do not know who the other Candidates are, though I admit that it will not be an easy matter to find one more highly qualified than yourself."

Printed Prospectuses, respecting Terms, &c. may be had by applying to Dr. Fahie, Cuba House, Banagher.

A GERMAN, of good character, would be ENGAGED.

Who respectfully remark, that the DEVON Cattle are some of the handsomest of their class, and are worthy of more than common attention.—The DURHAMS are pure bred and superior milkers. The crosses between the Durham and Devon's, of which there are two generations, cannot be surpassed for thrift, quality or hardiness, without excessive size. The Ayrshire's are imported from CUNNINGHAMSHIRE, and are handsomely marked, hardy stock. The sheep are bred from the far-famed stock of Mr. SMITH, of Dishley, and possess quality rarely to be found with grass-fed stock, they are LARGE LEICESTERS of the best blood in England, giving wool, thrift, early maturity and hardiness, with size, seldom found, except with forced fed Stock.

Part of the beautiful flock of Rams will be hired by Auction; the remainder sold.

This Sale is less important in extent than many others, but as far as regards perfection in the respective classes of breeding, more important than any the Auctioneers have had the honor to notice recently.
