MATRIMONIAL ADVERTISEMENT, From a New York Paper.

WANTED.

A young Lady, about seventeen or twenty one years of age, as a wife; she must be well acquainted with the necessary accomplishments of such; she must understand, washing and ironing, baking bread, making good coffee, roasting beef, veal, &c. boning a fowl, broiling a fish, making faris, plum pudding, and desserts of all kinds, preserving fruits and pickles, expert with the needle, keeping a clean and snug house; must know reading, writing and arithmetic; never been in the habit of attending the ball-rooms; she must have been taught true and genuine principles of religion, and a member in church of good standing. She must not be addicted to making too free use of her tongue, such as repeating any report that is injurious to her neighbour; of using taunting language to any person about her house. Any lady finding herself in possession of the above accomplishments will please address to Alphonso. It will not be required that she should exercise all those requisites, unless a change in fortune should take place, at which time it will be necessary, in order to live with such economy as to prevent a trespass on our friends, whose frowns and caprices we otherwise must endure, what every man of noble mind will despise.— At present she shall have a coach and four at her command, servants in abundance, a house furnished in the first modern style; shall always be treated with that tender affection which female delicacy requires, and nothing shall be wanting that will be necessary to contribute to her happiness.

We sincerely lament the disappointment of the Directors of the General Charity School, founded in order to afford the inestimable advantages of a religious & moral education to all the Poor Boys, without distinction of Parish or Religion throughout this City and County. We recollect above £180 received at a Charity Sermon for St. John's School ten Year's ago, and when only about Eighty Boys were the objects thereof, and we perceive only about £45 received at the Seimom on the 4th inst. when nearly a Thousand Boys were to be pleaded for. This sum is far indeed short of the Rent, little more than half thereof, without speaking of the great expence of fitting up and Painting new Desks and Forms for so many Boys, and furnishing them all with framed Slates, Lancasterian Lessons, Pencils, &c. which, together with the Master's Desks, &c. can be viewed completely finished in the course of this week, and the Boys are all to commence next Monday morning.

It is, however, hoped, that the Public will insure the success of this benevolent undertaking, by Subscribing each according to his means, for who would deny the small pittance of a Pound, to promote the well being of Society and the happiness and comforts of the Poor, instead of throwing back upon the World, and into all the deplorable misfortunes of ignorance and vice, a regular succession of One Thousand Poor Boys, who in this House of Mercy, will be always trained up in the happy baths of Sobriety, Industry, and Virtue—thus securing their happiness both for this and the next life, since according to the Holy Scriptures, "Train up the Child in the way he should go, and when he is old he will not depart from it."
