WHEREAS there are now Publick Market places established for Live Cattle of all kinds, for Fowl, Milk, Butter, Huxtries of all Sorts, and also Yards enclosed for the reception of Horses and Cars. The Mayor gives Notice, that if he shall find any Person or Persons Incumber the Streets or Flays with such Inhabitants of the City will assist him in keeping those Passages clear which they have at a great expence made for the advantage of the Publick. And whereas they have been much annoyed for years past by the Inhabitants of the Cellars in the main street, frying Meat and Fish at the Cellar-doors, and indeed in the Street, the Mayor strictly forbids any such practices for the future: and desires that each Huxter's Cellar shall have a small Label affixed over the entrance, with the following words An Huxter's Cellar,—and no other Sign whatsoever.

It appearing to the Mayor, that the Poor of this City are much imposed upon by those Persons who bring Turf for Sale from the County of Clare, in small round Baskets. He is determined that from and after Monday the 25th Inst, none such shall be permitted into Town, and that for the future they shall supply themselves with such Baskets as are made use of in carrying Turf to the town of Ennis, two of which Measure One Statute Kish.

The Publick will take Notice, that the Sedan Chairs are numbered; and the Turf-Boats measured, and that a registry of the latter will be kept in the Mayor's office, for Inspection.

As the Flaggging is nearly finished, and the Winner approaching, the Mayor requests that the Inhabitants will be so very good, as to have Conductors affixed to the several water Spouts, where necessary.
