

llicted with spasms in her stomach, so as to be most excruciating pain; she was confined the principal part of Sunday and Monday.

GENERAL ADVERTISER.

CORK—TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 17, 1811.

ted on Friday that a cause of defamation in the Consistorial Court of this Diocese, Mr. James Nealan and Mr. Wm. Carroll, both y; but we were not then aware that informa- in assault had been lodged by the parties re- or we should have waited until the decision lay had taken place before the Recorder. parties were found guilty—when the Recorder William Carroll Esq. and ordered him to be ely discharged; Mr. James Nealan he fined of 5 marks—and it appears that in the pre- ce he had broken the peace in violation of nce, entered into to a large amount on a sion. His Worship ordered that his recog- should be estreated, and that he should be im- proceeded against for the penalty. arle has issued a decree relative to Frenchmen n countries. They cannot be naturalized in countries without his authority: but even hey be naturalized, their children are to be d as aliens. Frenchmen naturalized abroad his permission, shall incur the loss of their pro- France.

ay an assistant surgeon and eleven rank and e 90th regt. and two serjeants and forty-one file of the Galway militia, all afflicted with the a, under the command of Lieut. ———, of t, left this city for the temporary barracks at

Joseph O'Loughlin, jun. has been appointed Dem- p Distributor for the town of Rathkeale, in ty.

Monday morning a most melancholy accident d at the Old Market place, Cork. A horse ar attached to him, took head and ran most fu- through the streets towards Mallow-lane, over- every one who came before him; by which, nsequence of the streets being so extremely , many persons have been seriously injured.— d of four years old has been killed, and several in general women, have had their legs and ken.

l which took place before the sub-commission- wise for the district of Londonderry, last week, a particular notice, as being, we believe, the first ind that has taken place. It was an information an eminent brazier of that city, under a late parliament, which forbids any person in that make or repair any still, still-head, or worm, a license, under a penalty of £100. After a d patient trial which lasted several days, and a rable display of legal talent and ingenuity by on each side, the court was pleased to pronounce ndant guilty, and to inflict the penalty prescribed ct.

Grace the Lord Lieutenant has been pleased to Henry Sargent, Esq. of Caher, to be perma- track master in that town.

EMENT—A young lady, the daughter of a wine nt, has eloped, within a few days, from Mar- or Gretna Green; and, for fear of not finding a or to the old blacksmith, has taken a parson r. In fact, a young Reverend Cantab is the man. The divine has, however, to pray, for usand good reasons, that she may attain the age ty-one, of which she wants but four years and a This dutiful young woman did not forget, on r rival at Canterbury, to send a few lines by a , informing her friends that she had as much nce to see Scotland as four good horses would er.

ough "birds of a feather will flock together," as plified by the marriage of Mr. Crow and Miss their association is not more natural than ano- nimonial union which recently took place, and ch Miss Peas was, with all due solemnity, con- to Mr. Bacon.

counties and cities thereof, having for its design the sin- gle object of petitioning Parliament for the redress of any public or private grievance, is a legal assembly, within the express meaning of the statute, emphatically called the bill of rights

That we do not hesitate in giving it as our opinion, that the Government of Ireland has no legal power or authority whatever delegated to it, by the laws of the land, either to arrest or disperse any of the mem- bers of a meeting assmbl'd for the sole purpose of carrying into effect the lawful object of petitioning the legislature.

That we consider the act of a Magistrate, who, under the authority of a proclamation, will venture to arrest, and hold to-bail, any of the members of a meeting le- gally constituted as aforesaid, as a gross violation of the liberty of the subject, and extraordinary assump- tion of power beyond the law, and contrary to the ex- press intention even of the convention act, which, in its concluding section, clearly provides, that the right of petitioning for any public grievance, shall remain as it was before the enactment of that statute.

Resolved—That his Majesty's catholic subjects com- pose a great majority of his people of Ireland; that we rejoice in, and are vain of, the well known fact, that they constitute a great part of the army and navy of the United Kingdom: and that, during the half century, which our highly venerated and good old King has reigned, they have eminently contributed to every vic- tory, obtained by his fleets and armies, thro' out the world. We therefore appeal to our liberal protestant countrymen, whether such services, and such subjects, do not merit other rewards, than to be proscribed by an abominable code of penal statutes, and thereby dis- tinguished from our esteemed fellow subjects, as slaves in our native land?

Resolved, That we are as firmly attached to our King and constitution as any other class of his Majes- ty's subjects; that we equally contribute to support the burthens of an expensive war, and every other exigency of the state. We therefore consider our being deprived of any portion of that civil liberty which is fully en- joyed by other subjects, (not more or less deserv- ing than we are,) as an injury, the injustice of which we will never cease to deprecate—and as a public grie- vance, for the redress of which we will never cease to petition, till the persons composing the legislative power of our empire, shall have become converts to reason and justice, and redress the wrongs of four millions of the people of Ireland.

That we should view the arrest of our respected fel- low-catholics, namely, Messrs. Taaffe, Sheridan, Breen, Bourke, and Scullog, with deep anxiety and alarm, were we not indebted to that singular circumstance, for rousing the nation from its apathy, and producing the happy effect of uniting the people of every religion against an attack, which, but for their concurrent ex- ertions, would have terminated in the extinction of (next to the trial by jury, and liberty of the press,) the most invaluable privilege of the constitution, the right of petitioning.

That a petition be presented to Parliament early in the ensuing session, for the entire repeal of those penal statutes, which, in proportion as they injudiciously af- fect our rights and privileges, reflect disgrace on the existing laws of the empire, and exhibit to all the other governments of Europe, the monstrous political ac- omaly, that of subjects of the same nation being govern- ed by a different code of laws.

That the following persons be requested to prepare said petition, and they are hereby directed to concur and co-operate with those gentlemen appointed by the cities and counties throughout the kingdom, as a con- stituent part of the general committee of the catholics of Ireland:—Randal Kernan, John C. Hickson, John Lawless, John Kernan, James Rossiter, N. Sweeney, Anthony Fox, Terence Mehan, Philip Maguire, and Thomas Maguire, Esqrs.

Resolved, That our cordial thanks are eminently due, and are hereby given to the Earl of Fingal, and the ge- neral committee of the catholics, for the firm and con- stitutional stand made by them on the 21st July last, in defence of the subjects' undoubted right to petition the legislature.

Resolved, That the thanks of this meeting are due to the liberal and enlightened protestant noblemen and Kett on a former occas on having fired a shot at Bishop, for which he would have prosecuted him but for a rea- son we will not at present mention), fresh words arose, through the instigation of Hackett's wife, when the hus- band drew a knife from his pocket, and gave Bishop such a cut across the bottom of the belly, that his entrails fell upon the ground. Two Medical gentlemen were immediately called, who did every thing in their power, but without effect, as the miserable man lived but about forty-eight hours after receiving the wound, and departed in the greatest agony. An Inquest was held on the body, and a verdict of Wilful Murder brought in against Hackett and his wife, who, for the present, have eluded the hand of Justice.

A few days ago the wife of one John Hennessey, living at Knockgraffon about two miles from Caher, was found strangled near her own house: she had a mark of violent pressure on her neck, and some signs of in- jury in the small of her back. The story her husband tells of the matter, we understand, is this—that per- sons were in the habit of trespassing on their ground, and Hennessey and his wife going out on the night when the murder was committed, they were pursued by some people; he husband escaped from them—but as his wife fled by another direction, he did not find her till the morning following, in the state describ- ed.

The 33d regiment which has been in India for some years, is now on its way to England.

Several transports have arrived at Plymouth from Cork, bound to the Isle of Wight; they are detained there by contrary wind and have volunteers from different Irish Militia Regiments on board for the time.

The officers belonging to several 2d batts. of regts. in Portugal, whose first batts. are there also, are now on their way to England to recruit, the men having been drafted into the first battalion.

Mr. Leake, comptroller of army accounts, has been permitted to retire with his full salary of 2000*l.* a year, and Colonel Drinkwater is appointed in his room.

BIRTH—At Glenwilliam, in this county, on Monday, the lady of George Massy, Esq. of a son.—At his Lord- ship's seat at Garbally, on the 9th inst. the Countess of Clancarty, of a daughter.

MARRIED—A few days ago, at Bellisle, the seat of Thomas Monsell, Esq. Devaynes Smith, of Kilcommon, in the King's county, Esq. to Miss Eliza G. Dickson, daughter of the late R. P. Dickson, Esq. of Mount Earl, in this county.—In Dublin, Mr. Wm. Osborne, of that city, silk manufacturer, to Miss Ann Jones, only daugh- ter of Mr. John Jones, Printer, and Bookseller.—At Brighton, the Hon. H. Butler, third son of the late Vis- count Mountgarret, and brother to the Earl of Kilken- ny, to Anne, daughter of the late John Harrison, Esq. of Newtown House, North Riding, Yorkshire.

DIED—Friday morning, on the Grand Parade, Cork, Mrs. Lucas, wife of Mr. Heyward Gillman Lucas.

EXPORTS—Duchess of Bedford, Liverpool, 1096 barrels oats, Robert Baker, and sons; 7 bags 17 cwt. feathers, J. & A. F. O'Neil.—Diana, Liverpool, 319 barrels oats, 12 tons rags, 4 casks—400 dozen runnets, 68 bales and loose, 44 dozen dyed calf skins, 119 salt hides, kips and runners, 3 bhds—50 dozen salted calf skins, 20 marble blocks 148 casks, 148 firkins—12 tons butter.—Hope, Liverpool, 1487 barrels oats, 5 bales and 6 trunks old wearing apparel and furniture, 1 bedstead, 2 palliasses, 12 chairs, 1 garde vine and commode, J. & A. F. O'Neill.

Prices of Corn, Sept. 17.

Wheat per stone.....	1 s. 9 d. to 2 s. 0 d.
Oats	0 9½ to 0 10
Barley.....	1 0 to 1 1
Flour.....	23 0 to 30 0

ASSIZE OF BREAD.

	lb.	oz.	dr.
Twelve-penny.....	4	7	1
Sixenny	2	9	4
Four-penny.....	1	7	6

PRICE OF BUTTER—SEPT. 17.
Fullbowed—1st. quality 108*s.*—2d. 104*s.*—3d. 96*s.*— 4th 88*s.*