knows that there are always more penalties in a football clash than in hurling, due to more handling of the big ball and consequently a tendency to collaring, especially since the picking off the toes and passing were introduced into the football code. The whole cause of the many fouls cannot be attributed to "speed-merchantism" as the whistling was confined chiefly to two Ahane hurlers who did as much, if not more, for the old county than any other players at our premier game.

OBITUARY

MRS. BYRNE, KNOCKANEY.

The death occurred recently of an old and highly-respected member of a popular East Limerick family, in the person of Mrs. J. Byrne, Knockaney. The deceased lady, who was a native of Kilcullane, Herbertstown, was greatly loved and admired by all who came in contact with her. A huge concourse of mourners and friends escorted the remains to Knockaney Parish Church, where Office and Requiem Mass were offered up for the repose of her soul. The immense cortege which attended at the interment in Knockaney Cemetery was alone proof of the high esteem in which the deceased lady was held.

The chief mourners were—John (husband); Gerard, Paddy and Jack (sons); Phyllis (daughter); Patrick Ryan (brother); Mrs. Flavin and Mrs. Fogarty (sisters); Sister Mary Declann, Mrs. Collins, Mrs. Hickey, Mrs. Ryan, Daisie, Cissie, Kathleen and Eileen Byrne (sisters-in-law); Michael Byrne and Matthew Fogarty (brothers-in-law), and also the deceased's nephews, nieces and cousins.
