

ARMY.

ation of forty men was made port Pratt, in consequence, as tion to Government from Sir part of the county is in a state e.

is arrived in Fermoy on Tues- not are ordered to join the regi- ot at Jersey.

th regt, is ordered to join the wounded soldiers belonging giments, arrived at Leith from rior Budgen, about 200 strong, from Fort Cumberland, Ports-action of the inefficient 2d bats, be issued from the War Office he officers to be continued on f.

3d royal veteran battalion, at are under orders for Orkney, ived on Wednesday at Athlone,

City Regiment were inspected s. at Kinsale. His Lordship neat appearance, but expressed h, in the highest terms of appro- my of the Regiment After the ssued an order of thanks to the ra of companies, for the perfect found the battalion.

militia underwent their half by Lieut. General Hay, who issued the following brigade

o express his satisfaction, at the ia. to-day, in the field.—The : arrival of the corps in Athlone, ects credit on the zeal and exer- Officers. The Lieut. General t the interior economy is under-

y order of Lieutenant General HAY Major, and Brigade Major."

Walker of the Royal dismissed the regiment, having martial, of ringing bells, break- &c. at Liverpool.

ed at Athlone, and fills the si- ficer of the Athlone Recruiting it Col Hunt, changed to Scot-handsome marble tablet, erected

To memory of ED GRIFFITH, C SHERWOOD,

RY BUCKLEY,

ussars (British,) who fell in the 1815. This stone was erected testimony of their respect, est pro patria mori. 15. 1815—At a general court re 9th July, 1814, and on sub- out. of the 47th regt. of foot, charge, viz :— and infamous conduct, such as fan officer and a gentleman, in ut the 14th of June solicited forget all past differences, and chinson to agree to live on terms th him for the future, and after iliar intercourse, entering the on the 4th inst. (July, 1814.)

the good understanding he had g Lieut. Hutchinson to fight word of honor to Major Cheyne against Lieut. Hutchinson, and reaking so serious an engage-n duty on the morning of the challenge Lieut. Hutchinson his n breach of the articles of war, and military discipline.

court found the prisoner guilty several instances, and sentenced

The Earl of Clare has been pleased to appoint the Rev. John Fitzgibbon, A. B. to be one of his Lordship's chaplains.

There are now three vacancies in the Irish Representative Peerage, caused by the deaths of the Earl Glandore, Earl Wicklow, and Lord Callan.

At the late Quarterly Examinations held in Trinity College, Dublin, the following Students obtained Certificates: Mr. Corballis, Mr. Trail, Donovan, sen. Lacey, Lardner, Hayes, Apjohn, Mr. Thomas Mr. Stevelly, Molloy, O'Leary, Mr. Langrishe, sen Boyton, Crampton, jun, Porter, Mr. Barton, sen. Mr. Reeves, Kenny, O'Leary, Mr. O'Hanlon, Henry, 2s. Thomas Heffernan, and La Pierre—And the following obtained Premiums:—Mr. Denis Browne, Mr. Plunket, Mr. Rice, Nash, Armstrong, Phelan, Lenigan Darley, Mr. Alexander, Is. White, Silley, Mr. Thompson, Hinds, sen. Killaly, Lynch, Mr. Rea, Mr. Carpendale, O'Shaughnessy, M'Elligott, Mr. St. Lawrence, Siletto, Lee, and Bellett, sen.

Thomas Heffernan who got a certificate, is son of William Heffernan Esq. of this city, and though he has not attained his 18th year, he has frequently received premiums, and shews uncommon ability and talents in his different examinations.

A murder of a very atrocious nature was committed on the 19th inst, almost at the avenue gate of Edmond Malone, Esq. of Ballinahown, near Moate, on the person of John Gilligan, a peaceable and industrious man The circumstances attending this abominable deed, as they have been represented to us, are as follow :—

The deceased, John Gilligan, who was a Roman catholic, and a loyal man, attended a neighbour's funeral to the Seven Churches, on the day stated. Near the church yard was a public house, into which he went to get some refreshment — In the house was a man who offered to shake hands with Gilligan, which he did; but not saluting in the significant way, by which the affiliated ruffians of that county know each other, the fellow cursed him and said he was no man.— Gilligan made scarcely any reply, but departed for home — On his way, he was overtaken by the person in question, who, in a very riotous humour, repeated that he was no man and that there were on the road but one and himself, implying, as it is to be presumed, that he, and the man he alluded to, were Carders. In flourishing his stick, for intentional aggression, he struck Gilligan under the eye, who pushed him into the ditch. He immediately, however, got out, and ran off with considerable expedition, saying, he would have a party at Ballinahown, and murder Gilligan. He kept his word. When Gilligan and his brother reached Ballinahown, they were attacked by this miscreant, and a numerous mob, armed with cudgels, &c. John Gilligan was almost instantly killed by a blow on the head of a stake, or some very heavy weapon, which broke his skull. The other Gilligan, his brother escaped.

An inquest was held on the body of John Gilligan, which, notwithstanding the examination of ten or eleven witnesses, who were present at the transaction, could not discover the murderer's name—all denied any knowledge of him.

Saturday last, information was brought to Collock, that a gang of highway men, consisting of three, had robbed various passengers on the road. The police officer there, in consequence, sent out a man that very night, to all appearance unarmed, and to pass as a casual traveller; a party of officers were appointed at the same time to follow, and be near him when necessary. As it was expected, the traveller was stopped by the banditti, and his money, as usual, demanded; being well mounted, he suddenly turned from the robbers; and giving the concerted signal, his party instantly rode up to his aid; but sower mounted and prepared for such an event were the ruffians, one only was taken of the gang. He calls himself John Ingleby; he has been fully committed from the Police Office, Duke Street, Dublin, to take his trial at the commis- sion, and no fewer than three persons, in the robbery of whom he had been concerned, are ready to appear against him as witnesses.

A farmer's house in the neighbourhood of this town, was attacked, a few nights since, by some ruffians, who forced an entrance, and threatened the owner with their vengeance, if he continued to give work to some labourers he employed, and who, it appears, reside in a distant part of the county.—Kerry Evening Post.

On Sunday a quarrel occurred at Inch, in the liberties of this city, between some strange labourers and a man of the name of Tierney and his wife and son. From words they soon proceeded to blows, and the consequence we are concerned to say, was, that one of the labourers was killed, Tierney's scull was fractured young Tierney's was nearly cut off by the blow of a spade, and the woman's arm was broken. Some of the party must have received serious injury, but we have not heard the particulars. The cause of the quarrel having been differently related to us, we defer entering into the subject, until we have learned the result of the inquest.—Kilkenny Moderator.

On Wednesday night last, the sentinel on the baggage cars, of the Tyrone militia, was attacked by four men, who attempted to cut away some trunks; and on being obliged to relinquish their booty, one of them fired at the sentinel from the new gate near the Weigh house, and wounded him in the hand. The sentinel thinks he wounded one of them in the neck with his bayonet, which may possibly lead to a disco-

MARRIED.

On Saturday morning last, Mr. Richard Smith, to Miss Mary Escher, both of the New Theatre Royal, in this city. In London, Sir F. G. Pouke, Bart of Lowesby Hall, Leicestershire, to Miss Henderson, the rich and sole heiress to the late A. Henderson, Esq. M. P.

On Thursday last, Francis C. M'Gillicuddy, Esq. to Bliza, daughter of John Curry, of Miltown, Esq.

DIED

Saturday last, at his house in William street, the Lady of Andrew Watson, Esq. Alderman.—In the discharge of the respective duties of wife, mother, friends, and benefactress, she was in most unexcelled, in many unequalled.—In her the poor have lost a steady friend, and her charitable disposition and seasonable relief to the distressed, will long be recorded, in this city.

In Cork, at the advanced age of 90, Mrs. Kennedy, relict of the late Thomas Kennedy, Esq. formerly Surveyor of the Port.

In Jamaica, Surgeon Lawless, York Light Infantry Vol- unteers.

At his house in Merrion-square, Dublin, on the 23d inst, Robert Earl of Wicklow Viscount Wicklow, and Baron Clonmore.—His Lordship was one of Representative Peers for Ireland.

LIMERICK MARKET PRICES.

	S. D.	S. D.
Wheat, .. .. .	1 5 to 1 6	1 6	} per stone.
Oats, .. .. .	0 7 1/2	0 8
Barley, .. .. .	0 7	9 0
Tallow, (rough) .. .. .	8 0	0 0
Pork, .. .. .	0 0	0 0	per cwt.

Price of Butter—114s.—110s.—102s.—92s.

SEWDISH TIMBER AND DEALS.

The Calypso, Linquish, from Uddawalla, in Sweden, HAS ARRIVED TO MEADE AND FANNELL, WITH A CARGO OF Prime Red Wood, from 12 to 18 Inches Square, AND Red and White Plank, Which are at their Deal Yards in Henry Street, and George's Street, on moderate terms. Limerick, Oct. 31.

ARRIVED TO JONAS MORRIS, 149 149 14, RUTLAND-STREET, A fresh Supply of Old Double Berkly and Double Gloster CHEESES. He is as usual well supplied with WINES AND GROCERIES, Limerick, 10th Mo. 23.

TALLOW BY AUCTION. To be Sold by AUCTION, On FRIDAY next, the 3d of November, At Hall's Commercial Buildings, AT THE HOUR OF ONE O'CLOCK, 185 Casks first quality Yellow Candle Tallow. JUST ARRIVED Per the MARY from St Petersburg, to DENIS CONNOR. Cork, October 28, 1815.

OLD PAINTINGS. FROM Mr. SMITH'S acquaintance with the Works of the Old Masters, and his knowledge of the processes of the Schools of Italy and Flanders, he engages to Clean and Repair Old Pictures in a way that has uniformly given perfect satisfaction, wherever he has been employed. He also buys old Paintings and Prints of every description. No. 1, Ellen Street, } Oct. 31, 1815. }