

DEATHS.

On Sunday last, of consumption, brought on by the fatigues of his Ministerial duties, the Rev. P. O'Malley, late Roman Catholic Curate of Ballinrobe.

At Castle Eyre, county Cork, Sampson, only son of William Lowth, Esq.

At Saintfield, Somerset Corry, Esq. C.C. Police of the county Down constabulary.

At the falls of Niagara, Upper Canada, Major Adam Ormsby, second son of the late John Ormsby, Esq. of Cummin, county Sligo, Major Ormsby commenced his military career at an early period of the late French war as Cornet in the 5th Dragoon Guards.

In France, Mrs. Harrison, wife of Captain Harrison, formerly of the 10th Regiment, and daughter of the late William Townsend Gunn, Esq. of Ratoe, in Kerry.

In George-street, Mary, wife of Mr. Bernard M'Nulty, to the deep regret of an affectionate husband and an amiable young family.

In Broad-street, after a lingering illness, Mr. Richard Scott, to the deep regret of his family and many friends.

In Nicholas-street, Mr. James O'Brien, gun-maker.

In Ennis, after a protracted illness, Edmond M'Grath, Esq. M.D. a most respectable practitioner. He was attached professionally to the 20th Light Dragoons during the Peninsular campaign.

In Rutland-square, Dublin, Henry Dundas, son of Captain Saunders, of the Royal Horse Artillery.

Ephraim M'Dowell, Esq. Member of the Royal Collège of Surgeons, and one of the Surgeons to the Richmond Hospital.

At his residence, North Great George's-street, Dublin, William Maguire, Esq. solicitor.

In Douglas-street, Cork, Mr. Thomas Hewitt, aged 67 years.

On Haulbowline Island, of scarletina, Letitia, second daughter of the late Martin Tunbridge, Esq. of Dublin.

At the advanced age of 104 years, Elizabeth Byrne, of Killarney.

In Bandon, Mr. John Hunter, aged 24 years. He had for some years filled a confidential employment in the office of this Establishment, and discharged its duties with ceaseless attention and honorable and unerring integrity. His manners were conciliating—his moral principles pure; and with these recommendations he did not fail to win, and permanently secure, the good opinion and esteem of all who knew him. A longer eulogy than this may be more diffuse on his worth—a sincerer one could not be offered.—(Cork Reporter.)

On Tuesday, at his residence, Kingston, near Galway, Mr. Michael Mullery, sen.

In the 62d year of his age, the Rev. James Biggs, for many years Curate of the parish of Loughgilly.

In Tralee, Mr. John Leggett,

In William-street, Mr. Patrick Halpin, grocer and spirit-merchant, Mrs. Hourigan, wife of Mr. Patrick Hourigan, Thomond-Gate.

At Richmond House, Templemore, on the 29th of November, Major Jonathan Willington, late of the 17th Lancers.

In Pembroke-street, Dublin, Sarah Matilda, the wife of Major William Towers St. Clair, late 9th Regiment.

At North Great George's-street, William Maziere, Esq. solicitor.

Joseph Symes, Esq. of Hillbrook, county Wicklow, formerly of the 1st Royal Regiment.

Thomas Massey Adamson, Esq. of John-street, Berkeley-square.

The Rev. Mr. Kimbell, Head Chaplain of the Metropolitan Catholic Chapel, Moorfields, after a short illness.
