

description arose, which ended in a challenge. The parties met on the spot before mentioned, and in the first fire Mr. D.'s bullet passed near the blade bone of his antagonist, carrying away with it part of the flesh. He was conveyed to Hampstead. The wound does not, it appears, assume a dangerous complexion, nor is it of a nature likely to render long confinement necessary.

On Friday last, a meeting took place in a field at Gouge, near Castle Connell, between Mr. L. attended by Mr. W. and Mr. W. attended by Lieutenant G. when, through the interference of friends, the matter in dispute was amicably adjusted.

BIRTHS—The Lady of James Phelps, Esq. of a son—At his seat, Ballinamanta, King's County, the Lady of Maj Marsh, of a daughter.

MARRIAGES—Tuesday last, at Crosthwaite Church, Mr. Edward Slack, of Greta Grove, near Keswick, to Mrs. Wise, late of Wigton. The parties are very respectable; but there is something so uncommon in this union as to render it worthy of further notice. This is the fourth time this gentleman has visited the Hymeneal altar, and the lady has appeared twice in the capacity of a bride. About six years ago, the present union was agreed upon; but some objection being started, the match was broken off, and the gentleman recollecting that the object of an earlier attachment had now become a widow, he renewed his addresses to her, and they were married soon after. This lady, however, dying about seven or eight months ago, and Mrs. W. being then in a state of widowhood, Mr. S. again solicited her hand. He succeeded; the obstacles which had separated them for so many years were happily removed, & were united on the day above mentioned—By the Rev. R. Stoney, A. M. a few days ago, Robert John-ton Stoney, only son of Major Stoney, of Grayfort, county Tipperary, to Frances Margaret, youngest daughter of Thomas Stoney, of Arranhill, in said county, Esq.—At Fethard by the Rev. John Pennefather, on Wednesday, Kingsmill Pennefather, Esq. Lieutenant Colonel in the Tipperary Regiment, to Grace, second daughter of Thomas Barton, Esq. of Grove.

DEATHS.—At his house in Sackville street, Dublin, at the advanced age of 87 years, the Rev. Henry Maxwell, Rector of Dromore, in the county of Down, and of Maryborough, in the Queen's County—A few days ago in Dublin, much regretted, Mrs. Raymond, wife of Anthony S. Raymond, of Ballyloughran, County Kerry, Esq.—On Saturday evening, in John Street, quite suddenly, Mr. Christopher Boland, late Collector of St. Michael's Taxes—Also suddenly on Thursday, Joseph R. Fisher, Esq. one of the Society of Friends, Merchant of Youghal—At Ardagh, in this County, the Rev. Mr. Corbett, P. P.—In Nicholas street, Miss Peacocke, in her 75th year.—On the 23d instant, at Camden Fort, near Cove, Isaac Wood, Esq. formerly Lieutenant and Paymaster of the 8th Light Dragoons—and late a Lieutenant in the 6th Veteran Batt.—his remains were conveyed to this City yesterday and interred at St. Munchins—This morning in Corn Wallis St. Mr. Laurence Casey—a truly honest man, and most sincerely lamented.
