Shannon Mourns Appalling Air Disaster
Twenty-Nine Dead; Twenty-Three Survivors

Italian 'Plane Crashes Into Cemetery

Shannon airport is in mourning today for the victims of the disaster that befell an Italian airliner, which crashed less than two miles from the airport in the early hours of this morning.

At a result of the crash, twenty-nine people have lost their lives, and twenty-three others passengers are in different hospitals, many suffering from extensive injuries and severe shock.

A Franciscan priest, Rev. Father Giuseppe Castelli, is among the injured.

The first point of impact was on the cemetery wall. The plane came down in a fireball, and the bodies were scattered around the crash site.

A helicopter, one of the survivors of the crash, landed near the airport to aid in the rescue operations.

A family of four, including two children, were among the dead. The father, a businessman, was on his way to a business meeting in Rome.

A group of tourists from Rome, on their way to a weekend in Dublin, were also among the victims.

The airport, which was closed to all traffic, is now under strict guard. The entire city is in a state of mourning.

Remanded On "Soccer" After Larceny Charge

Pat Williams was remanded on a larceny charge for the theft of a diamond ring, valued at $1,500, from the hotel where he was staying.

Pat will be at press

Pat will be at press

No tax on Blarney Stone kisses

Pat: "I'm not going to pay a tax on those Blarney Stone kisses!"

Buried at Sea

Several bodies were recovered from the sea off the coast of Shannon. The victims were identified as Italian nationals.

Confirmation

Lenten skit of children, "Dressy Cats and Suits for the Younger Misses!"

It boils water in less than one minute

The New Ascot 509

GAS

It's being given as a free prize at the Press Ball.

Cruises Hotel, Friday, Feb. 19th. It's on view at the Gas Showrooms. Now.

Showrooms: 15 O'Connell Street. Phone 4428.