PRO-GERMAN FABRI-CATORS the pro-German propagandists, especially their disregard for facts they are a sorry lot deed. They appear to be past masters o raggeration and to have developed the powers hary. Of their inflaite capacity for torturing nd perverting the truth and inventing lies we are had plenty instances, but the latest ample is a very characteristic and interesting excimen of what certain people can stoop to the attempt to bolster up a hopelessly bad contenant Michael O'LEARY, V.C. the hero of responsibles in that town. It was stated at he time that the Sinn Fein Volunteers Fere gullty of this plece of cornerboyism, at they promptly disavowed all responsibility or the incident. But what the Sinn Fein dunteers felt ashamed of in Ireland, and ightly so, was magnified by the Clan-na-Gael ress of New York into nothing less than a etreic and magnificent display of Irish pattotism. The renegade Irish World, which was once such a powerful force on the side of reland, dished up for its readers a funtastic tory to the effect that the famous V C was no only hooted but was actually shot at! Here is low it treats the incident for the information of the poor dupes who are gulled and misled by ampaign of falsehood -- " A marty of Irish Volunteers, of Ballaghadereen, Co Mayo, reently shot at MIKE O'LEARY and missed him. They will probably be sentenced to a couple of souths' imprisonment for shooting at blm. When they get out they should get twenty-five years for missing him." as a contemporary remarks, the Germans have bust hurlers on the Commercial side. good reason to hate Lieutenaut O'LEARY, but that does not justify them or their supporters

ame lasue of the Irish World contained another gross and deliberate fabrication. " After the significant anti-conscription demonstration beld in Dublin on December 14th," it said, "the Irish Party held a meeting and suddenly bassed a resolution deciaring opposition to compulsory service. This resolution was 're adopted' on December 16th. No one ever stard of it before. The files of the Dublin Freeman's Journal, the official organ of the lrish Party, show that if the resolution was passed on June 7th it was not published in the official organ." This unblushing lie can best be answered by the Freezen's own words. "The resolution," says to day's issue of that journal, " was not passed on June 7th; it was passed on June 8th, and the files of the Freeman's Journal will show that it was published in our lasue of June 9th, and was made the subject of our first editorial on that date." The cause that needs such gross misrepresentation and concoction to bolster it up must surely stand self-condemned. The attempt to enlist on the side of Germany the sympathies of the Irish in America must be proving an extremely difficult task indeed, when tactics of the kindhave to be resorted to. It is becoming clearer and clearer every day that the overwhelming majority of our kith and kin in the United States, and especially the responsible people amongst them who really count, are heart and with the Allies and the cause of freedom, and nothing could better illustrate the extent to which this is the case than the ludicrous tabelossions of the Irish World and the other Cian na Gasl organs of a similar type.

Mr Morley said there was an important ment i not be fully aware, which he desired to bring before the meeting. He understood that there was a decrease in the imports of coal for 1914 He had taken some little trouble to analyse the fluores to see how they would work out. As a about the weight of the cargo of the steamer, Fairearn," If they lost those 21,000 tons imports - as they actually had -- it would mean a lose to the post in dock dues of £142-that was calculating the vessel to make 33 voyages, The loss on Harbour dues would be £297, mak ing a total loss of £439. The loss on running ines-loss to the men of the port who ran lines - would be almost £16 193; the loss on pilotage would be £206 5s. Therefore, the total loss between pilotage and running lines would be 2222. In addition every vessel coming to the port meant the spending of a certain amount of money. On each ton of coal fromthe time the men commenced to work on the steamers until the coal was put into the yard it would mean is 2id paid out for labour, and the cartage to the merchants represented is 1d per ton. Do those who keep their employes in late think they will derive much benefit from them by staying open till 11 o'clock and sometimes 12 o'clock on Saturday night ! I say emphatically they will not. In the first place, from the customers that visit some of those small shops the takings would not pay for the extra light consumed. And still these shopkeepers go blindly on, bit financially and otherwise. I may tell you that the drapery business of Limerick is not so pushing bat that the drapery shops and boot stores could very well, at a service to the health of those assistants and a financial gain to themselves. close at nine o'clock on the Saturday nights. I am sure that the Drapers' Association will look to it, and help those members to get shorter hours. It is downright white slavery to see those respectable men and women, some of them not too robust, working those late hours, sometimes in stuffy, badly ventilated shops. Justice now demands the shortening of taose hours .- Truly yours,

Miss l'itzgerald was in her usual health up to a few days before New Year's Day. mas Ceilidhe of the Gaelle Society on the evening of the 29th, and next day she complained of a cold. . The following afternoon symptoms of appendicitis developed, and she was taken to hospital, where an operation was performed. She rallied from the operation, and seemed to be progressing favourably when, at six o'clock on New Year's Day, peritonitis set in, and she mother passed away a few hours later at her residence, the end being hastened by shock on bearing of her daughter's death. "Corrig O'Sheen," well known to the readers of Irieh-American papers in New York, was her brother. In private life this brilliant writer, and poet is William R Pitzgeraid, Michael Gr. At the Limerick Liberties Petty Sessions on Thursday, the magistrates present being—Lord Emly (in the chair). Mr Wm M Nolan, Mr N Humphreys, and the Mayor (Mr S B Quin), who attended at the close of the proceedings, The Chairman said that on the part of the members of the beach and himself he wished to offer their warment comments to the contract their warments are the contract to the contract the contract to the contract t offer their warmest congratulations to Mr Quin on his election as Mayor of the historic City of Limerick. The election brought him back to old times, and revived the memory of those who had passed, amongst others the Mayor's father, John Quin, a man of the most upright character, and who gave magnificent charities in his day. Although the liberty enjoyed in those days was something in the nature of a sham, they could not help remembering them. They were days in which the Mayor's father played an important part in the politics of Limerick, and he (the Chairman) felt perfectly certain that the Mayor would follow in his father's footsteps, and that when his term of office was ever it would be found that he was chip of the old block, a greater compliment than which he could not imagine.

Mr Humphreys said he wished to be assometically and to be assometically and the property and the magine.

Mr Humphreys said he wished to be associated with the compliment paid by Lord Emly to the Mayer, and to add that he congratulated Mr Quin on his election, wishing him every happiness during his year of office.

Mr Nolan said that being assessed with Mr Quin on that Bench for some years past he had very great pleasure in joining in the con-gratulations to the Mayor. He coincided in the expressions of regard, and he had only to re-scho the hope expresse —of which he had a atrong fealing of cortainty—that the Mayor would carry out to the full all the duties of the ancient office to which he had been elected in a worthy and befitting manner. He was intimately associated with Mr. Quin in another place and it was not necessary for him to say more than that he agreed with all Lord Emly had said regarding him. self with Lord Emly's observations, and congratulated the Mayor most sincerely on his alection. He knew that all the City Surreyor wanted in this matter was the support of the Mayor and the members. He hoped that the Mayor would enjoy a happy year of office, and tuat at the close he would receive the general acclamation of the citizens for having filled the high office with credit to himself

Mr J H Roche wished to associate himsel with the welcome to Mr Quin as Chief Magiatrate of the city. He was sure the citizens were delighted with his election. He was a son of a man well known in the city for his many charitable acts, and be (Mr Roche) wished the Mayor a pleasant year of office, Mr J J Delaney also associated himself with the complimentary remarks made about their distinguished Mayor, who had that day come to take up his position as Chief Magistrate. Mr J.F Barry, J P. who was not able to be preent owing to life recent sad bereavement, also wished to be associated with the welcome to their Mayor.

Mr E J Daly said he also wished to join i the references made regarding Mr Quin, who as Mr Holliday had stated, was no stranger to that Court. Mr Quin had a long experience as a magistrate, and at all times he used his great judgment and experience in coming to a conclusion in a case without inflicting undue hardship on the parties concerned. The election of Mr Quin as Mayor gave general satisfaction, and he trusted when his year of office came to a close that the citizens would have no reason

Mr Holliday said he had received a letter from Mr PJ Kelly, R M, in which he stated that he was exceedingly corry that he could not be present to join with the other magistrates in welcoming the recently elected Mayor of Limerick into his new position in the Court as Chief Magistrate. He wished to join with the other magistrates in wishing Mr Quin a very successful and pleasant year of office. Mr R Nash, solicitor, said he desired to be tended to the Mayor. Mr Quin was a gentleman he knew all his life, and he could say with absolute confidence that he would discharge his duties as Mayor with honour and credit to a conspicuous degree, He personally welcomed him, and he also expressed the welcome of the solicitors' profession, and wished him a pleasant and successful year of office. Mr Craig, D I, wished to be allowed to join in the expressions of welcome. He need not say that he wished the Mayor a happy and presperous year of office. Mr S Hastings, solicitor, said it was wholly unnecessary for him to say anything except to state that Mr Quin's election gave pleasure to everyone in the city.
