How did they pass the Act of Union?
By perjury and fraud,
By slaves who sold their land for gold,
As Judas sold his God.

These lines are taken from a poem which was taught to Irish schoolchildren long after the Act and the Repeal Movement had passed. While the 1798 rebellion is remembered due to the brutality and atrocities committed by both sides, the Union proved to be controversial and divisive, leaving a legacy of bitterness which lived long in the memory of the Irish people.

All those in favour

The pro-Union faction were first to publicise their intent to vote in favour of the Act being passed in the Limerick Chronicle newspaper of 25 September 1799. There are over 200 names given, including a number of lords and earls, who head the list, named by their title only. An interesting inclusion is “Rev. Michael P. McMahon, R.C.B. Killaloe for self and clergy.” The R.C.B. is an abbreviation for Roman Catholic Bishop.

We the undersigned Noblemen, Gentlemen, and Freeholders of the County and County of the City of Limerick, feel it to be peculiarly incumbent on us, at this most important Crisis, publicly to Declare our Opinion, that an Incorporation of the Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, effected upon fair and liberal Terms, would be a Measure of the most essential Advantage to both, tending to allay the Distractions, which unhappily have disturbed this country, to Promote its Commerce and Industry, and to encrease and consolidate the Strength and Resources of the British Empire, and we have full Confidence in the Wisdom and Integrity of our Representatives in Parliament, that they will give us a Measure of this Vital importance, the deliberate, calm, and dispassionate Consideration it so justly Merits. Thus marked (a) are Magistrates.

But a List of Signatures having since appeared in favour of the proposed Union, we think it necessary by publishing our Names, to shew the World that the Sense of those Counties has not Changed, is not Changing, but remains Unalterable on the Subject, and we trust and hope our Representatives in Parliament will concur in opinion with us, and will therefore use every Exertion in their Power to resist such a Measure should it again be submitted to Parliament.

All Against

The publication of the list of people in favour of the Act of Union being passed spurred those opposed to it into action, albeit over three months later. In The Limerick Chronicle of 1 January 1800, a list of people expressed their opposition to the Union. The list was much larger, but despite the inclusion of a handful of nobility and M.P.s, it did not carry the same gravitas as the pro-union list. It read as follows:

- County and County of the City of Limerick.
- The Sense of the County and County of the City of Limerick having already been declared against a Legislative Union, at Meetings Constitutionally held by the respective Sheriffs, it would be unnecessary for the Individuals of those Counties to depreciate a Measure that had already been marked with general reprobation.

To the Printer of the Limerick Chronicle.

SIR, I think it proper to correct an error in your Paper, where you insert the names of two of my nephews, William Massy, jun. Glinville, and Charles Massy, Glinville, as opposers of the Union. They could not have given their signatures for, in opposition to that measure, as they are, and have been for a length of time engaged in the service of their King and Country in the West Indies; the former a Lieutenant in his Majesty's 57th regiment on the island of Trinidad, the latter a Midshipman on board the King's frigate L'Unite.

I am, Sir, your obedient servant, HUGH MASSY.
