

it at the same time he felt and was t they, as good Catholics, recognised of consecrated for these things, but s lay in a higher sphere, and reests that for both, were holier and nt. After a dejeuner, his lordship nvent of Mercy, and expressed him-pleased with its working and the the children were trained.

l for horses on the second day of Fair was very poor, and the supply e animals equally so. Amongst the were:—Mr R J Kelly, manager of Bank, Kilfinane, sold a hunter to M elange, Paris, for £100; Mr P finane, parted with a bay horse to , Cork, for £60; Mr T Donovan, r Brodie £110 for a weight carry-he also purchased a four year old r Filly, Waterford, for £15, a bay P J Galwey for £110, and a chest-Speculation, out of Sister to Pirate, 1 Mr Atkinson, County Limerick ; urchased a useful mare from Mr nallock, for £40, and sold a hunter monds, Killucan, for £60; Mr J in, purchased fifteen troopers at an 40; Mr Hardy, Dorsetshire, paid harness horse to Mr James Neilan, nd £47 to Major Bury for a bay Doneraile parted with a good look-to M Ferdinand Delange for £110, to an English gentleman for £85 ; old Mr Donovan, Reading, a roan h, for £65; Mr Brazier Creagh def £120 for a very clever grey hunter o the exports of horses from Dublin, nes says:—The celebrated fair of bringing its usual complement of ublin for shipment to England. itories are pretty well supplied with igh class from that quarter, and rge number went to Glasgow, these unting and carriage pattern, many ndid animals valued at over 100

A big consignment of equines e quarter wegt to various parts of ondon and North-Western boats to l to-day more than a couple of hun-hipped by the same route for the es of Belgium, Austria, and France. ible at Cahirmee during the week nothing was done in the way of he British cavalry service, although most suitable kind were largely rices at the late fair were an im-those ruling last year, and breeders is to be a more profitable occupatle raising. Among the animals rday were a couple of dozen magni-horses for gentlemen in London ought up in County Limerick, and ng placed at 120 guineas each. Cer-; finer in the way of horseflesh has r a long time, that going to Scotanything, better in form than the to England, though both were id specimens of what Ireland can ter of horse-raising.

Ballinacourty.

Fire screen, No 22, Miss Westropp, Doonass.
Crochet quilt, No 27, Lady Barrington.
Small screen, No 9, Mrs Vanderkiste.
Fishing rod, No 16, Col Dyke.
Splasher, Miss Roe, Prospect.
Black fan, No 50, General Fraser.
Macramme lace bracket, No 39, Colonel Mac-Adam.
White fan, No 6, Mrs Stapleton Penny.
Necklace, No 18, Capt Hamilton.
Chimney-piece border, No 32, Mr Richard Nixon.

SAD DROWNING ACCIDENT.

Yesterday afternoon, about four o'clock, a little girl named Mary Vaughan, aged seven years, and daughter of a labourer residing at the Quarry Road, Thomondgate, proceeded with her brother to an open space abutting the river near the distillery, for the purpose of getting a can of water. While filling the vessel, the child appears to have slipped and tumbled into the water. She was immediately carried out into deep water by the current, the tide being about half full at the time, and in a few seconds was about eighty yards from the bank. The little brother, who is a year her senior, cried for help, and two boys immediately arrived, one of whom, Denis McInerney, at once divested himself of his clothes and swam to the drowning girl's assistance. He rescued the child, who was still floating, but life was found to be extinct. The body was taken to Vaughan's house, a short distance away from where the fatality occurred, and to-day an inquest touching the cause of death was held by Mr M. J. DeCourcy and a jury. Evidence was given embodying the facts stated above.
The deceased's father, Michael Vaughan, deposed that the place where the child went for water was resorted to by the public for procuring their supply, that formerly the open space was on a level with the water, but that within the last nine years a lot of rubbish had been thrown there by the Distillery Company, so that the ground was now sixteen feet over low water mark, and was in a dangerous state. There was a slip thirty yards further up, but this, he stated, was for the convenience of those living in the houses near it. The jury returned a verdict of accidental death, and added: "We consider the place where she fell in, and which is used as a public watering place, in a dangerous condition." Serjeant Whelan, Thomondgate, conducted the inquiry on behalf of the Crown.

FATAL RESULT OF AN ACCIDENT.

The man named James Ryan, (24) unmarried, the Newport carrier, in the employ of Mrs Allen, Newport, who sustained a fractured skull and other injuries through falling under a heavily laden car in William street, on Tuesday evening, under circumstances already reported in these columns, succumbed to his injuries last night about half-past nine. The deceased was conscious only for a very short interval from the time of the accident up to his demise. Mr Mathew J. DeCourcy, City Coroner, held an inquest this afternoon on the body at Barrington's Hospital.
Head-constable Wall watched the case on behalf of the police. Mr Robert M'Cutcheon, Newport list, for he began an i Nationalism, giving h Ireland. Murray nc had not eaten for 28 from "chills," he was was so impressed w subject upon which tl would not let him go-The conversation cha wished for the price o the price of that seen ling was handed over so another was given, his escape. What m was that these negotia in a narrow alley. Tc disbursed another 6d, But that did not finis introduced as "Mr

"young ladies," prop to a house of his, wh night. Murray ende but his muscular frien at last they found the been," "the worst h a bag of hay on the flo else. The place se house, and was lit b length. Feeling that on again, in order
"lady" 6d, another 1s posed as a landlady he g performance, and whic was the unannounc stature, whose first ac women about the roo Murray could not sa
"dowsed the glim." a Clohessy's hand in money, while the othe his throat. He had r and told Clohessy tha but he would identify loose he made for the followed him up the al to make his retreat immediately proceede he told his story, wit prisoners were arreste man "of low stature."

The three women ar
to Friday's Petty Sess

TE
The Court opened t twelve o'clock, befcre chair.

Several cases of dru among them being Jo as an habitual drunk night, and who was or of good behaviour, he ties of £5 each, or, in

Sergeant Daniel pr servant man out of e stealing an overcoat Limerick Warehouse remanded until to-mo