IDAY. SATURDAY. SUNDAY
 atthew Sheedy.

to find her husband. This she does, only to discover that he is living with her step-daughter Samantha Eggar, a mere child when Ingrid last saw her but now a lovely young woman who wants Max for herself.
 This explosive situation comes to a head when Samantha persuades Max to murder his wife. Maximilian Schell, who shot to stardom in "Judgment at Nuremberg", gives a very fine performance as the man whose wife suddenly returns after years in a concentration camp. Samantha Eggar, fresh from Sweden actress Ingrid Thulin is impressive as the wife who tries to pick up the pieces of her shattered life, and a strong supporting cast is headed by Herbert Lom, to whom she turns for help.
 Naturally, the film bears a restricted certificate—over 18's only.

ROYAL

SINCE it was filmed entirely on location in San Francisco, the viewer is given the Mayer Panavision film, co-starring Alain Delon, Ann Margret, Van Heflin and Jack Palance is a pulsating drama of an ex-crook who tries desperately to go straight, but who is hunted down by a relentless Nemesis.

 Extra: "Quick Before It Melts"—a Panavision and Metrocolor comedy set in the South Pole.
 George Maharis, Robert Morse, Anjanette Comer and James Gregory are the principals in this hilarious adventure story.

CITY THEATRE
 CITY Theatre Manager, Jack Bourke, makes a personal visit each week to tell me about his forthcoming attractions.
 He takes a showman's pride in his selections, and next week's offerings are well up to the very high standard which he has set himself.
 Naturally, there will be trailers of the future attractions as well as the release edition of the Fox Movietone Newsreel—the only showing of this news in Limerick.
