Ghost OF THE WEEK

FOX JAW ARE BACK IN THE WAREHOUSE TO LAUNCH THEIR NEW ALBUM THIS SATURDAY

AFTER a year 'in hiding' Fox Jaw have burst back into the limelight, releasing their much anticipated album Ghost's Parade last week.

The album - the first in the band's current guise with a new line-up and name change from Fox Jaw Bounty Hunters - is a cracker, bursting with influences from heavy rock leanings to delicate ballads, showcasing the band's ever evolving sound and reinforcing their image as a modern band with an old soul.

The rockers mark the release of the album with a hometown show in Dolan's Warehouse this Saturday night, with support from The Mighty Stef and The Hipneck Blues Collective.

Fox Jaw recorded the album with producer Dave 'Skippy' Christophers and engineer Owen Lewis in the Bishops' Palace in Limerick and you can feel an expansive, dark and brooding sound on the record, one that hints at the surroundings it was recorded in.

See this weekend's Limerick Leader for an interview with singer Ronan Mitchell and don't miss out on what should be a terrific gig this Saturday night in Dolan's Warehouse. Doors 8pm, €7.

THE LOWDOWN

Fox Jaw - Shane Serrano, Morgan Nolan, Ronan Mitchell, Kieran J. Sims and Manolis Sheehan - released their much anticipated album Ghost's Parade last Friday. It is the band's first as a five piece in their current guise. The Limerick rockers play Dolan's Warehouse this Saturday. See www.foxjaw.ie for more information

Fidget Feet kick off new season at the Lime Tree

THE Lime Tree opens its new season with a spectacular show by Fidget Feet, the aerial dance theatre company that has recently made Limerick its home.

The company will perform The Second Coming this week, a co-production with Hawk's Well Theatre Sligo and musical director Michael Rooney.

The intriguing piece mixes together the work of WB Yeats with traditional Irish dancing, music, song, aerial circus and theatre and uses the poet's Second Coming as a jumping off point.

"It is basically a dream of mine to make a show that would mix Irish dancing with aerial, and really celebrate Irish culture," explains Chantal McCormick, founder and artistic director with Fidget Feet, artists in residence in UL.

Mixing contemporary dance with aerial work: Fidget Feet, who are based in Limerick

"The show takes Irish dancing into the air, taking it one step higher."

Arts

Theatre Hub to host series of workshops

THE Limerick Theatre and Performance Hub is to host a series of 'taster' hip hop workshops for 8-12 year olds in Red Cross Hall.

The non-profit company, who aim to resource all aspects of the performing arts in Limerick, have been a conduit for new theatre work, as well as offering a space for the development of music and film projects.

The hip hop workshops with Ashlea Rondezai, one of the drummers in the recent Giant's Journey extravaganza, are designed to offer a taste in each of the relevant artistic disciplines and are cheap at €5 for a two hour session and take place Saturday at 11am.
