

NICK HANLY
White House Acoustic Club, 9pm
(pictured below)

LIVE TRAD
Bobby Byrne's, 9.15pm

FRIDAY, AUGUST 7

WHEATUS
The Library, 8pm. €10

SATURDAY, AUGUST 8

THE AMAZING APPLES
The Library, 8pm. Free

SAVED BY THE 90S
Dolan's Warehouse, 11.30pm. €6

SUNDAY, AUGUST 9

SUNDAY SESSIONS
The Library, 10pm

MONDAY, AUGUST 10

TRAFFIC
Smyth's Bar, 9pm

THE LOWDOWN

American rockers Wheatus - famed for top hits Teenage Dirtbag and A Little Respect, among a lengthy recording career - come to Limerick for a debut show this Friday night at the Library (doors 8pm, tickets €8 in advance). The band are said to be working on the release of a new album, their first since 2013's The Valentine.

Arts

Harris film festival entry is now open

THE Richard Harris International Film Festival has announced that the submission process for the October event is now open.

The returning festival said it was "delighted to announce" that the late actor's son Jared Harris - who visited Limerick last year for the event - had joined its board of directors and that a five year plan for the festival "has been agreed with the Harris Estate and Newport Beach Film Festival in California", with whom it has a link-up.

There are a number of competition categories open to filmmakers, with entries now open.

See www.richardharris-filmfestival.com for more.

Raging Sons show a bit of Lust on their debut single LIMERICK band Raging Sons last week released their much anticipated debut single, with a gig in Dolan's to follow.

The local rock group - which consists of vocalist Fintan Tynan, Colum Kelly on lead guitar, Damian Ruddy on rhythm guitar, Peter Meehan on bass guitar and Niall O'Carroll on drums - released their debut single Lust on Friday afternoon, and will perform it live in Dolan's Warehouse, later this month on August 21.

The group have also released a music video, directed by Stephen Hall, to accompany the track. Lust is also available on iTunes, Spotify and Amazon Music.

Raging Sons, who formed in 2012, have in the past supported Riptide Movement,

Limerick rock band Raging Sons released their debut single Lust last week and will play in Dolan's Warehouse on August 21

Scouting For Girls, The Stunning, Ryan Sheridan and more.

For more on Raging Sons, visit their Facebook page at www.facebook.com/RagingSons, or follow their Instagram at @ragingsons.

Dance

Hopscotch your way to this dance

THE 2015 Step Up Dance project culminates in the performance of Hopscotch, the fruits of five weeks of intensive training and rehearsals for young contemporary dancers, this Thursday.

The contemporary dance piece, choreographed by renowned dance artist Hélène Cathala, will be performed in Dance Limerick this Thursday at 6pm.

Dancers Amy Robyn Lyster, Hayley Cunningham, Jessie Keenan, Marion Cronin and Olwyn Lyons will feature having taken part in Step Up, a partnership between Dance Limerick, Dance Ireland and the Irish World Academy of Music and Dance at UL.