Correspondent in Easky has forwarded to us a of the following notice, posted up at the church oman Catholic chapel at Easky, County Sligo, nday morning, August 31st, 1862:—

"NOTICE.

As there are three Landlords about this locality we must make mention of beyond others for Tyranny on Tehants our Society do honourably wledge and warn that if they do not quit their ing on their tenants one will not long enjoy his ded new residence the other his new purchased rty and the other his new reclaimed property.
These managers are also required to take notice as we are inclined to believe that they are ex ing laws in the absence of their employers with ny authority from them we respectfully inform and wish that they remember that it is in Ire they are and that Irish men is Blood thirsty evengeful and will not allow — novices to rule them.

st The life of a poor labouring man Is worse than the brute creation For he toils away both night and day In want and with starvation—nd And when the Sabbath day is come His is worse than the brute creation For he wanders about in want and doubt About his habitation—rd Now where is the coward wont aid our plan That is bound by what we mention And by command wont join heart and hand To oppose such cruel invention th We have born too long to Tyrants laws Which we will have no longer For we will sacrifice our lives Or make the above surrender The Labourer is worthy of his hire—" r correspondent mentions the names of the gentle supposed to be alluded to, but, of course, we ot give them here. We trust the miscreant will ected. He is, we are told, suspected, and will atched.—Sligo Chronicle.
