"THE DANCING YEARS."

"The Dancing Years" is a lavish screen version of the Ivor Novello musical play, one of the most successful ever written, as seen by over 6,000,000 people during its record ten-year run.

Studded with lilting melodies, "The Dancing Years" tells a tender and unforgettable love story against the background of some of the most colourful and spectacular settings ever created in an English studio.

Though strictly adhering to the original stage play, the film makes full use of the wider scope offered by the movie camera, and many of its scenes were actually shot in the magnificent Austrian Tyrol.

Dennis Price has the romantic role of Rudi, a young Viennese composer, faced with a choice between love and ambition. Lively French star Giselle Revell plays Maria, and blonde, nineteen-year-old newcomer Patricia Dallton acts and dances her way to stardom as Grete.

KEG OF BUTTER FOUND IN BOG

A find which should be of great interest to antiquarians was made at Cratloe East, Athenry, last week, on the lands of Miss Dollie Woulfe (writes our Abbeyfeale correspondent). The discovery was made by Thomas Saunders, Michael Cotter and John Connon, who were cutting away turf cutting operations. They found a keg containing approximately 28 lbs. of butter about 4 feet from the surface. It was resting on the sub-soil. The container was a hollowed tree trunk; and as skirks were in use over 200 years ago this butter must have been hidden for about 300 years. The owner must have intended to return as a stone was placed overhead to mark the spot. Why he didn't come back to remove his property will never be known, but it is likely that he died or was killed in the meantime. Except for being discoloured, the butter is in perfect condition and can be served at Miss Woulfe's residence, the Glen, Cratloe.

The next outing of Arctic Prince, the English Derby winner, will be decided on in due course by his trainer, W. Stephenson.

The colt's engagements during the next two months include the Irish Derby at the Curragh on June 30th, the King George Cup, and the Queen Elizabeth Festival of British Stakes at Ascot on July 21st.

SECOND HALF.

In the second half, Piasrig played a masterful moulding of the ball control, precision and combination. Were it not for the brilliant display of M. Kelly, full-back, who was ably assisted by M. Parra and R. Kelly, Piasrig would have piled up a considerably higher score. T. Hogarty had the score for Piasrig when he notched a fine point from P. Croke. Shortly after M. McCarthy added another point from a difficult angle, to leave the scores 2-0 to 1 in favour of Piasrig. In the closing stages Piasrig played Piafra but they failed.

R. Holman, M. Donoghue, MacDermott and L. Moloney were amongst Piafra's best; while Piafra's best was served by P. Croke, S. Cleary, M. McGrath and J. Horky. Clanna Morna 4-1: Eoin Rua 1-0. In a game full of excitement, good football Clanna Morna is Eoin Rua, and so meet Piafra in the final.

The foundations of victory lay when the Clanna half line held Long, Ryan and Burke, while J. Kennedy chose the right to play his best game. His coming was needed as the game was M. Fleming, a forward, never tired from start to finish.

Eoin Rua had many star players. C. Mulloy was outstanding at full back, while N. and K. were hard at mid-field. Of the forwards, Joyce and Ryan were best. Long but not least, comes Kennedy, who played a real captain's part, which was not enough. Neither goalie was tested, owing to the good covering of the back. Clann attacked from the start and Griffin wailed.

Play swung from end to end with no score coming for ten minutes. Kennedy sent a long drive down centre Long fastened on it and shot from twenty yards. Hehir was attempting to catch the ball, but was successful, in the kick. Eoin Rua attacked and Kennedy scored a beautiful goal. Just before half-time a forward move from Clanna was finished to the net by Griffin. On the change-over the selection of A. Jones was beginning to tell and Noonan scored a goal equaliser. The next minute a point came from a free and then, a scores came from Gueir (1-0) and Keane (1-0). Eoin Rua fought the finish but the lead was too much.
