Rule members were very plainly esday to last themselves into an ey could starcely have sincerely ial suffect of their wrath was the lovernmen to give facilities for a of the levances of the Irish ally in a hexion with the land the were de lared to be crying and But arresty during the present have been two debates of the first rish land question, the one upon Mr s motion, the other upon Mr Shaw's tress of the Irish farmers, like that and Septe farmers, must no doubt nsidered by Parliament, though the the House of Commons to approach aing with mischievous and doubtfu fremedial measures may be readily. The writing protest of the Homo esday against the alleged suppression which has been repeatedly debated months was probably intended to ow of obstruction forward upon the y scene Whether the threat is vaporate in words or not, we are no r belief that the obstructive policy, in as well as its extreme form, is a strice folly of which Irishmen of all opinions are becoming heartily. This policy has been called into a craving for excitement, and by coling of bastility to England which celing of hogility to Eugland which odic waves among the Irish people was one of these surges of ant ling, and the crest of the wave lifte nentary Obstructionists for a litt of their obstructy. But. as in ever rement of the same kind, the waved recede while the watchful eye se er they are advancing or receding the tide continues. The high water may e Rule agitation touched a lower point our of the rigour of O'Connell's Repeated of the revolutionary efforts the the Union during our great strugge. The politicians of the Home Rube wise if the y master the fact that to their spells has departed, at least for reland is to donger disposed to responsively war-thes, and if they will limit to those questions which are recognized by farliament, they will not lish a new claim upon the respect of Composis, but will conquer to though the pay be silent and a little of the composition of the composition.—The I the United during our great strugg
