

and under-his Royal on, he had ion to rence is said ived from him to ministra-Vellesley,
now whe-Perceval?
d no perot he had s that he ince then continue make arod them ness im-
of a fixed pire, and ession to liver this l certain-question esterday.
Morning
ing teriety por-that may
try. To d contrahe daily st every command reuville;
e answer
made, it
e of Mr.
he Prince
d to him on. The changes in nded on.
s certain;
idmouth into the ay take ne must lar. d having d nearly service,
ne paper
and Earl em.

fore his wish that they should be discharged by proclamation. The officer of the court proceeded accordingly with the usual formalities to have them discharged.
He asked them whether they would not hold themselves bound to our Sovereign Lord the King in the sum of one hundred pounds, good and lawful money of the realm, to prosecute James Fisher and Michael O'Leary, when they should be found—they answered "yes."— They were then discharged.

We just learn that Henry Brady, of Raheen, county Clare, Esq. was accidentally wounded in the shoulder, by one of his yeomen, when firing at a target—but feel happy in being enabled to state that the wound is not of a dangerous nature.

Gen. Cole, Messrs. Talbot, Rochfort, and several other members of the house of commons, have arrived from England, to attend the assizes in their respective counties, as it is not expected that any business of importance will be brought forward in parliament until after the Easter recess.

The Countess of Clare is expected this week at her Ladyship's seat, Mount Shannon, from Bath.

Andrew Stacpoole, Esq. is appointed Stamp Distributor to the District of Ennis.

Robert Kerr D'Esterre, Esq. of this city, Attorney, is appointed sub-sheriff of this county.

The board of trade convened a meeting of the persons interested in the wine trade, and proposed to them the following regulations:

That on exporting from hence one hoghead of sugar, they should be allowed to import from France (for exportation only) two hogheads of wine, or one puncheon (not exceeding 120 gallons) of brandy.

On exporting from hence 10 cwt. of round coffee, to be allowed to import (for re-exportation only) two hogheads of wine.

In all cases the interchange to commence by the exportation of the sugar or coffee from hence, or the return, whether of wine or brandy, not to be admitted to home consumption.

This proposition is to be considered as a mere suggestion on the part of the board of trade, and open to farther discussion. The final determination is expected at the next meeting.

The losses by shipwrecks, in men and vessels, within the last three months, exceed the aggregate loss sustained by our navy, in all the naval battles fought and victories won, within the last 20 years.

NAVAL APPOINTMENTS.—Captain Carroll, to the Watchdog; Lieut. Nicholas Colthurst to the Sceptre; Lieut. William Walker to the Prince of Wales; Lieut.
Donovan to the Melpotious; Lieut. Dunn to the Primrose; Lieut. E. White to the Bulwark.

We have pleasure in stating, that the gallant services displayed by Captain Robert Mansell, of his Majesty's ship Fraser, have been rewarded by the Lords of the Admiralty promoting him to the rank of Post Captain.

Thursday morning, at two o'clock, Philip William Russell, Esq. of Rutland, in the suburbs of this city, being at a house in Glin, in this county, convenient to the receipt of his rents in that vicinity, was attacked by five fellows, two of whom armed, entered his apartment, and after threatening his life, robbed him of a writing desk, containing upwards of £200 in bank notes and also of his wearing apparel, which was in the room, with which they absconded.

To Mr. Lancaster's system of liberal and excellent Education, our readers are aware is now zealously opposed, under the special auspices of the present ministry, Dr. Baill's circumscribed and narrowed system, which according to the Cart of the Courier, has a special saving for "the established church." Before the lamented indisposition of our venerable sovereign rendered him insensible to public occurrences, it is well known that he was a warm patron of Mr. Lancaster's system conferred on the gallant officers and seamen composing our navy, for the performance of some noble achievement for the benefit of their country; and scarcely a week passes by that we do not read accounts in the newspapers of brilliant acts of courage displayed against the enemy by those employed in the sea service, and, it is indeed an unexpected sight to see British seamen deserting their King, and arranging themselves under the banners of the enemy. You, however, have each of you been found guilty under a prosecution conducted against you, not only with humanity, but with a degree of delicacy which must have been evident to every one present during the course of these proceedings; the law in its humanity, directs you should have assistance, and you have had the most able. The offence of which you have been found guilty is the highest except effecting the very death of the King, that our law recognizes. The murder of a single individual is a heinous offence; but how much more aggravated an one is it to aid and assist the enemy in their efforts to destroy a whole people. You have by your conduct tempted the enemy to use, with aggravated severity, any of your countrymen who may be so unfortunate as to fall into their power, by shewing them that there are even English seamen so base as to be induced, by the hardships of imprisonment to quit the service of their country, and enter into that of the enemy. It now only remains for me to pass upon you the sentence of the law, a duty painful indeed, and one which, after having passed so great a portion of my professional life without having been called to exercise, I had hoped it should also have passed through it without the necessity arising which should call for the performance of it.

That sentence, however, is—"That you be taken to the place from whence you came, and from thence (severally) drawn on a hurdle to the place of execution, there to be hanged by the neck not till you are dead, but to be cut down, and whilst yet alive, your bowels taken out: your heads cut off, your bodies cut in quarters, and those quarters to be at the disposal of the King—and the Lord have Mercy on your Souls!!

EXPORTS.—Oporto, for London, 604 tierces and 50 brls pork, J. Kelly and co.; 240 tierces 202 brls pork, 19 cwt. lard, M. Egan and co.; 136 tierces pork, Bart.
Clancy; 100 tierces 86 brls pork, Fisher, Mark, and Fisher.—Eliza, for Lisbon, 1500 brls barley, 1100 brls oats, Richard Nugent.—General Knox, for Lisbon, 800 brls barley, 3000 brls oats, Richard Nugent.—Two Brothers for Belfast, 30 tons oatmeal, 950 brls wheat, John Wortall.—Ceres, for Belfast, 1047 brls barley, 1864 brls oats, Richard Nugent.

BIRTH.—At Carrick-on-Suir, on Wednesday last, the lady of the Rev. standish Grady, of a daughter.—In Charleville, on Friday last, the lady of Robert Maxwell, Esq. of a daughter.

MARRIED.—In London, Richard James Mansergh
St. George, of Headfort Castle, county Galway, Esq. to Sophia, daughter of W. C. Shawe, Esq.

DEAD.—At Boyle, the head-quarters of the regiment, on Sunday se'night, Redmond Barry, Esq. senior Lieutenant-Colonel of the South Cork militia, and one of the commissioners of public accounts.—In London, Major-General Eate, Lieutenant-Governor of Carlisle.
—In Bath, Vice Admiral Lumsdane.—At Monmouth, Mr. Andrew Cherry, formerly of Drury-lane theatre, author of the Traveller, Soldier's Daughter, and several other successful pieces: he was a native of this city.— At Longhrea, Mrs. Daly, wife of Arthur Henry Daly, Esq. and daughter to the Hon. Paul Gore.—In Birr, Mrs. Moore, relict of the Rev. Fowk Moore.—Last week in the county Galway, Mrs. Egan.—In Athlone, Mrs. Tins, wife of Mr. Henry Tins, of that town.