

the location..
and the
sanction-is a license to kill!

"THE EIGER SANCTION"

SUNDAY DARKER THAN AMBER—Rod Taylor. Plus: THE HONKERS—James Coburn. Over 18s Only.

SUNDAY At 2.00 p.m. ONLY—THE RAILWAY CHILDREN. Also: CHALLENGE FOR ROBIN HOOD.

THE ENTERTAINMENT WORLD

BY E.C.

Week Eleven for "Towering Inferno"

Limerick Twins

...ving to enormous suc-
The "Towering Inferno"
g retained for yet an-
week at Movieland One.
his means that we shall
o wait a little longer
arry And Tonto"—yet
story about loners.
arry and Tonto" (last
big success at the Cork Festival) has Art Car-
his Academy Award
role. This takes over ieland One.

Incidentally, Tonto is a

his is the type of film
restores one's faith in
ma. It's a decided anti-
all the really doubtful
which are sneaking in
of Limerick week after
and attracting the thrill

elcome then to "Harry
nto"

Movieland Two—"Man
The House" and "Best ny Hill." Watch out for l Harris as "Cromwell"
ig to this 87-seater soon.

al

many years since the
stereophonic sound
has been used. It has specially adjusted to
the earthquake sequen-
"Earthquake" and the
are extremely realistic.
merick audiences seem
disaster films and man-Kay Ronan, says that i will remain here for
ore days at least.

ton
at Eastwood is both the

A New Cinema?

● A mini-cinema in O'Connell Street, Limerick, may materialise in the not too distant future, according to reliable reports coming from Dublin.

● If it comes—and I doubt it—it would be the first cinema in Limerick's main street for a long number of years.

● The last cinema in O'Connell Street was the Coliseum (now a theatre—and a rather well equipped one at that). It has retained its original foyer which was the pride and joy of its owner, Mr. Tom Gough.

● And of course there was the Gaiety Cinema in 45 O'Connell St. (now G. Clancy & Company).

● The original facade of the cinema has been preserved and is well worth a careful study. The archway entrance to the cinema is now the shop window area.

● There were hints of a cinema for O'Connell Street over the past two decades, but nothing came of them.

● We shall have to wait and see.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

'Jaws' for Limerick

● "One of the most successful motion pictures of all time" is how "Jaws" was recently described by the American Press.

● It opened in England (on blanket release) at Christmas and has shattered attendance records everywhere.

● It will play in Limerick in April, probably at the Carlton Panoramic.

cinema industry goes back over four decades. He has made a host of new friends is yet another hit in the parade of star movies at Limerick's luxurious city-centre years contribution to the cinema) is my highlight of the week.

● Every Hollywood star (note) has a minute or two in this unusual movie.

● Incidentally, its recent screening on American TV attracted 70 million viewers.

Savoy

● Stage attractions continue to dominate the scene at the Savoy and some very entertaining shows have been seen here in recent weeks.

● Big attraction on Wednesday next is "The Good Ol' Days" and early booking is advisable.

● At the Compton Organ John A. Enright has finalised his plans to bring back the community sing-song interlude so popular here in the earlier days of the Savoy.

● John is most anxious to have the slides in readiness so that the organ will be seen in semi-darkness—fully illuminated—and with the words of the songs on the screen.

Late shows

Among the late shows in Limerick this week-end is special re-presentation of one of the most successful movies of the past decade—"Butch Cassidy And The Sundance Kid."

The Carlton Panoramic will have "Night Watch."

Screens elsewhere

The parade of super movies continues at the Regal Cinema in Cappamore where Eddie Gleeson proudly pre-