

Miss Ann Benson. nents were very d, and the tribute nson by the com- al O Ceallaigh, made the concert by his showing of At Knock, 1952," k Parades for the animents for the rovided by Mrs. N. B. O'Boyle, organ- Church.

A Shirt:

ng To

A Suit

Justice Charles lyneety Court on ast., that he stole irt because he was y a suit and could rice of a shirt. Court was Joseph arm labourer, of Limerick, who h stealing the shirt aughnessy, also of November 12th. rdan prosecuted.

G AFTER VISIT. nessy, in evidence, ant came to his day of the offence im. When Breen witness discovered is missing. He did rment again until rwards when the it to him.

ntendent, the wit- Breen came to his him if he would k with him. After k, however, they o dark to go to the

TO BUY A SUIT.

, in evidence, said it" for a shirt and onging to Shaugh-didn't you buy a lf?—I was saving suit and couldn't shirt.

that's a very good it you should not shirt just because our money to buy

IMPOSED.

ed f1. directed that the 1 to its owner.

D MARTIN

AZINE"

back readers will ur columns adver- new booklet, by ssed Martin Maga- ed by the Irish ers, it was placed mage of Our Lady Blessed Martin de had a most grati- Although in exist- elve months, its already reached ws every sign of further. The maga- ping the name and f Blessed Martin tholic people, and y appeal to all de- coloured Dominican ur readers are pro- of the existence of

The Pope will drive through crowded streets in Rome to-morrow to inaugurate the Year in the 1,600-year-old Basilica of St. Mary Major. He will be attended by 3,000 girls and young women of the Italian Catholic Action Movement. His Holiness will recite prayers to the Mother of Christ, which will be said by Catholics all over the world throughout the special Jubilee Year.

Throne
Our happy hearts we lay.
Our own true Mother she will be
As life's rough way we go.
Content when skies are dark
o'erhead,
Since God will have it so;
Rejoicing when the glorious sun
Shines out on us anew,
Through storm, and sunshine
hidden, 'neath
Our Lady's mantle blue!

—(E. de M.)

CITY THEATRE INSTALS NEW WIDE SCREEN

(By EARL CONNOLLY)

THE biggest surprise in cinema circles for many years was exclusively revealed to me on Saturday night, when Lorcan Bourke announced that it was his intention to instal the new wide screen in the City Theatre in time for this evening's performance.

The City Theatre, therefore, becomes the first cinema in Southern Ireland to instal the new wide screen.

Occupying the entire width of the auditorium, engineers have worked all day so as to ensure that Limerick cinemagoers will have their first taste of wide-screen with this evening's performance of Metro Goldwyn Mayer's "The Merry Widow."

"Although there has been no definite decision in the film world as to which type screen picturegoers will eventually go for," Mr. Lorcan Bourke told me, "I believe that wide screen does offer something really new."

This is undoubtedly the best-kept secret in local cinematic history and even the staff were not aware that the equipment arriving daily was to eventually become the giant panoramic wide screen so popular with audiences both in America and England.

"I intend to give Limerick the very best possible entertainment both on my stage and on my screen," Lorcan Bourke concluded, "and wide-screen is only another of the many surprises which I have in store for this city."

LORCAN BOURKE

Introduces wide screen to Limerick at City Theatre this evening.

EXCUSE ACCEPTED

That he got an attack of lumbago which prevented him from cutting all the weeds on his 34 acre farm was the excuse sent by letter to Ennis District Court on Friday by Matthew Clune, Quin, who was summoned for permitting noxious weeds to grow on his land.

Guard Sullivan corroborated this statement, and Justice Gordon Hurley applied the Probation Act.

BREACHES OF LIQUOR LAW

NAMES OF HOUSING SCHEMES

(To the Editor, "Limerick Leader")

Sir—On Monday's "Leader" there was a letter written by someone who signs himself in Irish. Now, I am a man over 50 years old and don't know one word of Irish, because in our time we left school early and never learned it. Now, our friend I suppose, went to college, and is surprised that all working men don't know Irish. When in Cork last year I noticed that some of the old streets bore on one that our esteemed Bishop, Rev. Dr. O'Neill, who preside Saturday night's lecture, felt incumbent on him to apologise to lecturer for the very poor at ance?

We are supposed to have organisations in Limerick working for the language. Were they all last week? Were the teachers, the Civil servants and all the hundred others who know Irish? surely could not all have been busy on all four nights on v lectures were delivered. I blush my City which could provide audiences of twenty out of a j lation of 50,000. It is not the I rick that was. Any village o people would have done better dr ndeinimis heart do reir mbriarthar i Luimnigh!

Mise, le mor mheas.
"BLATHNAI

University College For Limerick

Limerick Mental Hospital, C mittee on Saturday unanimo supported the idea of a Univer College for Limerick.

Before the meeting ended, M O'Connell B.C., said he would lik put a matter before the meml He asked them to approve of principle of a university being established in the city for the us Limerick and the adjoining c ties. At present, he said, pe were obliged to send their chil to Dublin or elsewhere if they ted to give them a unive education. He thought that w pity because of the very great pense involved. He formally posed that the members give approval to the principle of a versity being established in I rek.

Mr. K. O'Sullivan, B.C., sai would second the proposition. university would be a very thing for Limerick, he said.

The members decided to apr the proposition unanimously.

Must Appear At The Next Ballyneety Cou

If Ellen Cleary, of Bantard mallock, does not appear in l neety Court next month to ex why she failed to produce her ing licence and insurance to Guards, she will be fined f6, J C. S. Kenny said in 'Bally Court on Thursday of last we

The defendant was summoned Guard Michael Keohane on Oc 13th for having no driving li or insurance when he discovere at Ballyneety on that date. was due in Court on Thursday inst., to give an explanation failed to appear.

"If she is not here at the Court, I will fine her f5 on th surance charge and f1 on the ing licence charge," said the tice.

BOVINE STROLL: FII OF £2

For permmittng 22 head of