FRIDAY SPECIAL

Childleader encourages Limerick children to express themselves

home

CITY EDITION

AMBRICIK INBAIDBR

ESTABLISHED 1889

Printed and published entirely in Limerick LIMERICK LEADER on the Web: www.limerick-leader.ie

16 SEPTEMBER 2000

By EUGENE PHELAN

A MASSIVE £13 million has been raised for local charities by the JP McManus Proam and charity auction — £3 million more than recently forecast.

And the good news from JP is that Tiger Woods and his entourage of American stars maybe back again in five years time.

July's event raised so much Limerick area would benefit. cash that the organising com-amount made from the golf men and women who mem-event and charity auction bers and guests of Limercomes in a week in which ick/Shannon Rotary Club. Limerick/ Shannon Rotary Sean Crowley, president of doing something in the future club honoured Mr McManus the Rotary Club, explained they maybe happy to help."

Sean Crowley, president, Limerick/Shannon Rotary Clubs presents the Paul Harris Fellowship Award to JP McManus, with Noreen McManus looking on

JP and his wife Noreen mittee are now looking at giv-turned up at the Limerick ing money to other local char- Ryan hotel this week where ities aside from the six they received a great wel-named before the event. come from a distinguished Confirmation of the gathering of local business.

for the area," he added.

"All the people I have met since the Pro- Am say that they would love to return because of the great reception they got in Limerick," JP said in an informal speech.

Speaking of his success in life he said; "I have been very lucky but it could have gone the other way. It is not always a stroke of genius that brings results; luck can have a lot to do with it."

He said that the heroes of his life were the carers who looked after the handicapped: the elderly and underprivi leged.

At a question and answer session at the end of his speech he said that he did not know if Tiger Woods would come back.

He said however that from letters he received back and from speaking to some people they told him that "if I was

Gardai warn of big traffic delays

By IAIN DEMPSEY

GARDAI have warned

And Inspector Seamus be targeting the commer-Gallagher of Henry cial sector and vehicles avoid the city."

Street warned Limerick over three-and-half- Industrial estates are motorists to use common tonnes will be blocked by also likely to be targeted

UFOs on the way

By MARTIN BYRNES

EXPECT to sight uniden-tified flying objects over Limerick from Thursday of next week

From Thursday September 21 to Tuesday 26 inclusive, regular as clockwork, they will appear, but only over the Limerick area and only in the middle of the night between a quarter past midnight and a quarter to

This information is confidently predicted in the journal of the UFO Society of Ireland. According to a member of the society who lives in Crecora (who firmly claims to have sighted one previously) a 'window' opens up to allow UFOs to enter our hemisphere, and the excit-ing week ahead of us is one such window.

Press Ball

THIS years Press Ball, Millennium Edition, will be held on Saturday, September 30, at Fitzpatrick's Conference Centre in Bunratty.

The Limerick Leader are the main sponsor of this years event.

The black tie function starts with dinner at 8.00, followed with music from the legendary event and charity auction bers and guests of Dillion itom speaking comes in a week in which ick/Shannon Rotary Club. Limerick/ Shannon Rotary club honoured Mr McManus with their highest award -

the Paul Harris Fellowship. charities there have now been applications from others in the Limerick area, which are being processed," confirmed a close aid of Mr McManus's

He said that it now looked that as they had such a big amount of money other charities and good causes in the Limerick. It was very positive keep those to myself.'

the Rotary Club, explained they maybe happy to help," that the Paul Harris Fellow- He felt that such was the ship is the highest award effort of the organisers of the "Along with the six named they could give a person. "He event; the commitment and has been very generous to the momentum, it was better Limerick city and county. We to hold the event every five are lucky to have a man who years. has excelled with such personal success; lucky to have a tive David O'Hora asked if he man with such generosity could see any areas of busi-lot of good for the image of replied jokingly; "I want to they told him that "if I was Sean Crowley, president of doing something in the future

When advertising execuand heart," said Mr Crowley ness potential in Limerick "The Pro-am did an awful that went untapped JP ahead with a 24-hour goof a 33 per cent cut in diesel tax.

Major roads into cities and around the country were facing huge traffic jams as truckers drive along national roads at slow speeds in protest.

Street warned Limerick GARDAI have warned motorists to use common Limerick motorists to sense. "There will be avoid the city coatre this major inconvenience on Friday as Irish truck Limerick roads this Fridrivers were set to go day," he said. "Truck drivers will be targeting slow protest against the in particular, round-Government's rejection abouts in the city, and we abouts in the city, and we are urging motorists to avoid the city centre if possible," he said.

"From 6am on Friday morning the truck drivers will be protesting and parking their vehicles at roundabouts. They will three-and-halftonnes will be blocked by the truckers. The less traffic through the city centre the better."

Insp Gallagher also advised that motorists travelling through Lim-erick should divert at Killaloe or Birdhill as access through the city will be near impossible.

travelling from the Birdhill side of Limerick and wish to head out the Ennis Road should divert Industrial estates are also likely to be targeted by the protesting hauliers, and Insp Gallagher warned that entrances to Raheen Industrial Estate may be completely blocked.

He emphasised three important factors to adhere to this Friday.

"Avoid the city, detour "Motorists who are as early as possible if travelling through Limerick and exercise common sense when driving," he said.

Rob Strong and his band. This will in turn be followed by a Latin American/ Samba DJ. Press Ball this year are priced at £27.50 each and are available from Dearbhla Looby at the Limerick Leader at 061-214516, or by contacting Evelyn at reception of the Limerick Leader.

from the legendary

IRELAND'S LEADING INDEPENDENT COLLEGE

Full- Time Programmes

BUSINESS STUDIES PROGRAMME

National Certificate in Business Studies Streams in Computing, Customer Care & Marketing) alidated by NCEA

SECRETARIAL & OFFICE DMINISTRATION PROGRAMMES

Diploma in Secretarial & Office Information Systems

Office Administration Programme Certificate in Office Administration - Validate Lby NCE

COMMERCIAL COMPUTING PROGRAMME

Diploma in Commercial Computing - Validated by it

ELECTRONIC ENGINEERING PROGRAMME Higher National Diploma in Electrical & Electronic

FURTHER INFORMATION AVAILABLE

Monday to Enday, 9 a m. to 5,30 p.m. or Special Information Evenings every Wednesday 5.30 pm to 7.30 pm

CONTACT THE REGISTRAR

Engineering Validated by BTE

MWBI Institute . Rutland St . Limerick Tel: 061 + 313121/313833 Fax: 061 • 315727 Email: info.mwbi@ireland.com Web: www.mwbi.ie

Wogan's claim of 'terror' days at the Crescent

By EUGENE PHELAN

THE JESUIT Community in Limerick have decided not to comment on controversial claims by Terry Wogan that they used "terror" as their main education tool during his school

In his just published autobiography "Is it Me." he recalls his days at the Crescent College in the early 50's when he claims the Jesuits regularly imparted gratuitous violence on the young boys.

But, he says, it could have been worse; he could have been sent to the Christian Brothers "whose legendary cruelty and brutality could pered Mongol horde.'

Terry Wogan

"Is it Me" is the title of top television and radio personalities autobiography which has also outraged BBC executives with its criticism of the Corporation.

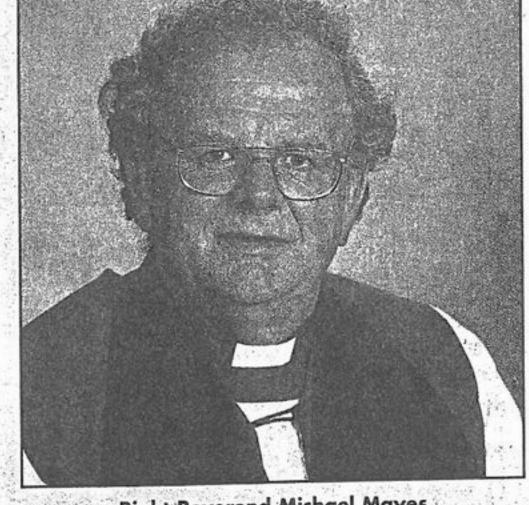

Some members of the only be compared to a Limerick public who particularly bad tem- contacted this paper were also not happy with his recollection of his school days at the Cres-

He says of the Jesuits. "Extraordinary to think that men as sophisticated and supposedly intel-ligent as the Jesuits could use terror as their main tool in the education of young minds, even allowing for the fact that it was the norm in those days."

"A grammatical mistake in homework, or a moment of foolishness in class, and the good father would write out a little chit from his docket book. Depending on the seriousness of the error or transgression, that chit would be good for three or six heavy welts across the hands with a reinforced leather strap," he claims.

See full story P17

Right Reverend Michael Mayes

New Bishop to take office before Christmas

By IAIN DEMPSEY

A MEETING of the House of Bishops next Wednes- and working among Limday will decide the date on erick people' which the translation of the new Bishop of Limerick and Killaloe will take place.

The Right Reverend Michael Mayes, from County Derry, is to suc-ceed the Right Rev expected to occur some-time in late October or early November. Bishop Mayes and his wife Beth will be moving into a splendid residence on the North Circular

Road. He told the Limerick

Leader that he is "looking forward to a new sphere of work in Limerick" and "looking forward to living

He was born in 1941 in County Derry and attended the Royal School in Armagh before going to Trinity College where he studied Hebrew and Oriental Languages. In 1968, he and his wife

Edward Darling who retired at the end of July.

Bishop Mayes is currently Bishop of Kilmore, Elphin and Ardagh.

Bishop Mayes said that he knows Limerick quite will after spending 17 and helf record convince variance. His translation is a half years serving vari-expected to occur some-ime in late October or before becoming Bishop of Kilmore, Elphin and Ardagh in 1993. He has three children, Patrick, Soren and Natalya.

His brother, the Rev John Mayes is rector of Clooney Parish in Derry.

Dead man is named

By IAIN DEMPSEY

A 16-YEAR-old male became the first road traffic accident fatality in the city this year when the car he was travel-ling in collided with another vehicle on Wednesday night.

The victim was named this Thursday afternoon as Tyrone Power, with an address at the Watergate Flats in the city. Another young male involved in the accident between the two cars at Lower Gerald Griffin Street was rushed to hospital where his condition was described as stable.

The fatal accident occurred at around 9.45pm just outside Cross's

Funeral Home. "A Nissan Micra containing four men was coming out by the Geraldine Bar and a Rover with two people in it was coming down from John's Square.

from 18.

Mr Power is the first person to be killed on the city roads this year, with all other deaths occurring on Limerick was coming down from John's Square. A collision occurred at the crossroads," said Inspector Seamus Gallagher of Henry Street.

"A collision occurred and the two men in the back of the Micra were the man who was killed and the man who was taken to hospital. The two other people in the Micra fled the scene after the accident. Luckily nobody in the Rover was injured. This accident is a terrible tragedy."

Three units of the fire brigade and an ambulance were called to the scene.

Mr Power was rushed to the Regional Hospital but was pronounced dead on arrival. The death of Mr Power brings the total road fatalities for the year in Limerick to eight.

Last year's figures for the same period show that the number is down by 10, county roads.

LIMERICK LEADER & LIMERICK CHRONICLE: the only newspapers printed and published in Limerick

WAT A TRE ACTE