

By a letter received this week, from New York, dated the 21st of June, written by Miss Merry, late of this City, we are fully authorized to contradict the statement in the English Papers, of Captain Merry's vessel having been boarded on its passage by a French Privateer, and plundered—from the sailing of Captain Merry's vessel from Belfast, to its arrival at New York, after a pleasant passage of 42 days, they did not meet with a single French privateer.

Sunday evening, Hugh Hayes, Roger Hayes, Patrick Molony, Patrick Leonard, and Patrick Quin, were brought in and lodged in the County Gaol, by a detachment of the Essex Fencibles, charged with robbery.

Last night a number of those infernal wretches who have leagued against the peace of this County, visited several Dairy-men in the neighbourhood of this City, on the Roxborough road; John Shaughnessy, in the employ of Jas. Cooper, Esq, was flogged on his naked body in such an unmerciful manner, that his life is despaired of.

On Wednesday last, the Printer hereof, as Treasurer to the House of Industry, received from Colonel J. P. Smyth, Eighteen Pounds, Interest money, handed by him to the Lord Bishop of Limerick, agreeable to the Will of the late Bishop Smyth.

PORT NEWS, Aug. 24.—Sailed, the Alarm, Knowles, Sligo, wheat; Norway, Newill, Dram, ballast; Drobach, Elleton, Norway, ditto.

BIRTH. Yesterday morning, the Lady of George Mauntell, Esq, Collector of Limerick, of a Son.

MARRIED. Monday last, Mr. Joseph Bradshaw, Printer, to the agreeable Miss Sarah Nash, daughter to the late Richard Nash, Esq, of this City.—Last Friday, at Glia, Henry Irwin, Esq, Captain in the Rifleman Regiment of Militia, to Miss Standish, eldest daughter to the Rev. Richard Standish, of Frankfort, in this County; if every virtue that can adorn human nature, can ensure happiness, we may justly say this couple will enjoy it.

DIED. On the 14th instant, of a fever, at Swales, in Wales, John Smithwick, Esq; late of Lillyput, Co. Limerick;—liberal, amiable, and worthy, his death must be regretted, and his memory respected by all who knew him.—On Sunday evening last, at his Seat at Abbeyville, in this County, after a lingering illness, John Finch, Esq;—a Gentleman who possessed in an eminent degree a spirit of universal Charity; his Purse was ever open for the relief of the distressed; and thro' the Printer of this Paper, he frequently contributed liberally to the various Benevolent Schemes for alleviating the distresses of the Poor, without permitting his name to appear as the Donor.—his death, therefore, is as sincerely as it is deservedly lamented by the Poor in general, as well as by his Family, and extensive acquaintance.—Monday, at his house in Mungret-tree, sincerely lamented by his family, friends, and numerous acquaintance, Francis Russell, Esq; one of the Burgesses of this City; a Gentleman of the strictest probity, and a useful Member of Society.

By the destination or procedure of that fleet, is of importance to be known. On the 14th inst. we informed our readers of the prudent precautions that had been adopted for bringing home the fleet then looked for from the Baltic, before any alarm could have taken place in the ports of Denmark. Captain Westbech, of the Favourite, as we then stated, had no sooner received the instructions sent to him than he ordered all the merchant vessels to follow him into the Carriac to receive farther instructions. We announced some days ago the safe arrival of a great part of that convoy, and this day the rest of the fleet, under convoy of the Favourite, is also arrived.

We have learnt from a most respectable quarter another circumstance connected with the instructions sent out to Captain Westbech, which shews not only the care which we have been commending, but also the serious fears that were entertained of measures being taken by one or more of the Northern powers, for detaining our vessels.
