NOTICE TO ADVERTISERS

In consequence of the earlier departure of the evening train from Limerick, and the curtailment of the hour for posting to the General Post Office, it has been found necessary to issue the editions of the Chronicle at an earlier hour than hitherto. Advertisers will, therefore, please note that the latest hour at which advertisements can be received at this office on issue days is 3.30 p.m. Publication of any notices received after that hour cannot be guaranteed for that evening.

THE LIMERICK CHRONICLE

(ESTABLISHED 1786)

TUESDAY, APRIL 12, 1921

AGRICULTURE.

The month of April has, so far, proved very propitious for the season of seed time. It reminds us very agreeably, indeed, that the harsh and inclement weather of the Winter and early Spring has disappeared and with a genial, sunny, atmosphere the trees are shedding forth their luxuriant foliage, and the primrose is to be found in plenty on the countryside. In short, nature has entered on a new phase of life, and the individual, himself or herself, is re-invigorated by the passing from the gloomy winter months to all the reviving influences of Spring. February was unusually mild and dry, but March was chilly, and the latter half of the month so severe that the trileum was reversed in that it went out like a lion instead of a lamb. There were at times showers of sleet and snow, though in this district we saw little of the latter. The number of rainy days was, however, above the average, and as a result the soil was more or less in a soaked condition. These conditions, of course, retarded the sowing of seed on the farm, but notwithstanding this it is satisfactory to learn that much progress has been made in various counties in the sowing of oats and barley, and also with potato planting. And now with the advent of ideal Spring weather for the agriculturist it may be taken for granted that from this forth will be a busy time on all tillage farms. The seeding season is, if anything, earlier than usual, much earlier than it was twelve months ago when the wretched conditions of the Spring months retarded agricultural operations all round, and again their continuance into the early Summer occasioned misgivings as to the harvest. This anxiety was, however, dispelled by the fine weather which set in just as it was urgently required during the season of ingathering. What is now needed is a bright and dry spell to warm the soil and fit it for seeding. Of course, a little rain now and then would be refreshing and beneficial, and as April is a month proverbially associated with showers we may reasonably expect odd rainy days that will hasten conditions favourable to quick and vigorous growth of seed and plants. The weather across Channel up to a few days ago was in many places on the wintry side. A rather low temperature was accompanied by rain or drizzle, and much more disagreeable still was the fact that in Derbyshire snow and hailstorms prevailed on Saturday. On the whole, however, farmers have had the benefit of warm weather for the past few weeks, and good progress has as a result been made in the spring sowings of corn which are almost everywhere well advanced. Probably, therefore, the "break" on the wintry side was but temporary, and certainly present indications in Ireland are that no further cold snap, such as we experienced during March, is to be dreaded in the future to retard the progress of seeding operations on the land or in the garden. And a walk round the Limerick suburbs just now will show us that the plot-holders, who for some years past have contributed so much towards the country's food supplies, are like the farmers busily engaged at spring work, an occupation which is as profitable as it is healthy and invigorating.

THE LORD LIEUTENANT.

It is understood that, according to present arrangements, Viscount French will leave for the Viceroy of Ireland on the 30th of the present month. Lord Justice will then be appointed to carry on the government in the interval until Lord Edmund Talbot takes up the office of Lord Lieutenant, who will probably arrive in Dublin in the first week of May, and will be formally sworn in, after which he will return to England.

LIMERICK BURNINGS.

A Dublin Castle report states:—"The destruction of the houses of Thomas Moloney, P. Burke, and Mrs. Nealon, and of the furniture of Miss M. Daly, all of Limerick City, on April 9th, was carried out as a military operation. In view of the fact that the R.I.C. at John street, Limerick."

PRIVATE RESIDENCE BOMBED.

Shortly before quarter of eight last night, a bomb was thrown through a parlour window of a private residence in the New Street, Limerick, causing considerable damage to the furniture, and the tenant and his son were at the time in the dining-room. The bomb exploded with a loud crash, blowing a hole in the parlour floor, and several fragments of the explosive damaged the ceiling and a piano and furniture. The constabulary were apprised of the occurrence and are investigating it.

HOUSE-BURNING AT MILTOWN.

An official report issued on Saturday indicates that, in reply to questions as to the burning of the houses of John Sullivan and Morgan Hayes at Miltown-Malahy, on the 21st March, it was stated that the burning was carried out as a military operation following the murder of Constable Moore.

LIMERICK QUARTER SESSIONS.

His Honor County Court Judge Pigot resumed the business of the Limerick Quarter Sessions to-day, with the hearing of claims for malicious injury from the district of Newcastle West.

The Kauter Co-operative Dairy Society claimed £350 compensation for the malicious destruction of machinery and better at Garryduff Creamery on the 17th January.

Mr. J. O'Donnell, solicitor, Newcastle West, appeared for the applicants, and the evidence went to show that two years ago the applicants purchased and absorbed the Garryduff Creamery, which was about three miles from Newcastle West. On the night in question the place was tamely entered, the machinery broken, and better destroyed.

Estimate of the damage done was given by Mr. J. P. O'Connell, principal engineer for the Co-operative Creameries, with regard to machinery. Constable had been invited for replacement, the lowest of which was £350. He estimated the value of the salvage at £25.

His Honor said in view of the evidence given as to the value of the machinery and the fact that the applicants had been in possession of the place for two years, he would award a sum of £350. He estimated the value of the salvage at £25.

His Honor said he would allow the case stand for more evidence as to the value of the salvage. On the suggestion of Mr. O'Donnell, the case was adjourned to next Sessions.

The Irish Creameries Ltd. applied for £4,000 compensation for the burning and destruction of Garryduff Creamery, machinery, and stock-in-trade on the 7th of January last.

Mr. P. Kelly (instructed by Mr. R. Marshall, solicitor, Limerick), appeared for the applicants. The evidence given for the applicants was to the effect that Garryduff Creamery was one of three which took supplies of milk for Kilmacross, where the butter was manufactured. Attached to Garryduff was a co-operative store, which was established ten years ago. This appeared to have excited the envy of certain people in the locality, and threatening notices were sent to the manager and assistant manager. On the night of the 7th January the creamery and store were looked up, and secured in the usual way, and the following morning they were burned to the ground together with machinery and stock. Owing to the receipt of these letters, two employees and they had great difficulty in getting a successor.

Evidence as to the value of the stock destroyed was given by Mr. P. Kelly, the district manager, while Mr. P. Byrne, Cork, the general manager, submitted figures showing the business lost through the destruction of the premises. Mr. Kelly said the engineers who estimated the cost of re-building and replacement of machinery were not available for the present.

His Honor allowed the case stand for their production.

DEATH OF MR JAMES FLYNN.

We announce with sincere regret the death of Mr. James Flynn, which took place at his residence, Cruise's Royal Hotel, this evening. The deceased gentleman had been laid up for a considerable time, and within the past week or so only slender hopes were entertained of his recovery. He was proprietor of Cruise's Royal Hotel for many years, and under his proprietorship it enjoyed a very wide measure of public patronage. His death is a severe blow to his widow and family, and his grave sorrow will be extended to them in the bereavement that has overtaken them. Mr. Flynn was a very enterprising business man, kindly and courteous to everyone with whom he came in contact. He took a deep interest in every movement for the betterment of the city, and the people generally, never sparing himself in the interest of any charitable or other deserving cause. He was High Sheriff of the city about fifteen years ago, and it was during his term that the Winter Assizes were held in Limerick. In this movement he took a prominent part, and it may be said that he was mainly instrumental in getting the change effected by the then Government of the day. Some few years ago he was appointed a magistrate for the city, and at the last municipal elections he was returned as one of the Corporation representatives in the Dock Ward on the Corporation. In the domain of sport his activities were no less marked. He was a Director of the Limerick Race Company, a member of the County Limerick Coursing Club, in which he took a particular interest, and a keen enthusiast of Rugby football, being past master of the Irish Rugby Union and of Garryduff Football Club, and a member of the Regatta Executive. His many friends in the city and country generally will hear with poignant regret of his demise, and will ever cherish memories of a fast friend and kindly and hospitable gentleman.

DEATH OF MR MARCUS G. SLADE, C.E.

We regret to record the death of Mr. Marcus G. Slade, C.E., which took place at his residence, 3, The Crescent, on Sunday night. He had been but a short time ill, and had reached an advanced age. Mr. Slade was one of the few remaining survivors of the present with a generation almost passed away. He was a familiar figure to our midst, kindly, and retiring in his disposition, and highly esteemed by a wide circle of friends in Limerick and adjoining counties. He enjoyed a large private professional practice, was connected with many of the most important arterial drainage schemes, and the construction of pier and quay, and was also extensively associated with the business of the Land Courts fixing judicial rents. He lived, as stated, to a ripe old age, but the news of his death has been heard with grief by those who had the pleasure of the acquaintance of a genial and warm-hearted friend. The funeral is announced to take place to-morrow at 10 o'clock for St. Mary's Cathedral.

DEATH OF MRS M. DECONROY.

The death, which we regret to announce, took place this morning at her residence, The Crescent, Limerick, of Mrs. M. Deconroy, widow of the late Mr. John H. Deconroy, for many years Clerk of the Limerick Petty Sessions Court. The deceased lady, who had attained an advanced age, had been ailing for some time, and her death was not unexpected. She was daughter of the late Alderman M. O'Donnell, sister of the widow of the late ex-Mayor O'Callaghan, of Limerick, and a number of letters addressed to the Press, in which she was mentioned, had been received, but it was impossible to get an independent report, which would bring home the guilt of the murder to the individual responsible, referred the hon. member to the answer to a question on the same subject which he answered on Thursday last, in which he stated that Mrs. O'Callaghan had been investigated in public, and it was open to her to have investigated in public, and if so, he would ask the Commander-in-Chief in Ireland to resemble the Court of Public Inquiry for that purpose.

TWO CONSTABLES SHOT DEAD IN COUNTY CORK.

An official report states that Constables George Woodworth and Constable Joseph Byrne, who were out walking on Sunday at Bant, Kildorrery, East Cork, were attacked by a gang of four men, and both were shot dead on the public road. Five empty shot-gun cartridges were found where the attack took place.

THE EX-KAISERIN DEAD.

Dorn, Monday.
The ex-Kaiserin died at 6 o'clock this morning. The funeral will take place on Thursday at the residence of the ex-Imperial family at Dorn. The coffin will later be conveyed to Potsdam, and will be laid to rest there in the forenoon on Saturday. It is unofficially stated that the ex-Kaiserin in this connection were being intimate friends of the ex-Imperial family as long as six weeks ago.

LADIES ON GALWAY JURIES.

Mrs. Healy, The Crescent, Galway, was forewoman of a jury at Galway Quarter Sessions which tried one of the criminal cases. Two other ladies acted on the same jury. There were four ladies on the Grand Jury.

THE DROMKEEN AMBUSH.

Destruction of Houses.

Military Officer's Evidence.

The burning of certain houses and furniture in respect of which claims for malicious injury had been heard at the Limerick Quarter Sessions, arising out of the Dromkeen ambush on the 2nd February last, was again mentioned in Court yesterday.

His Honor said the evidence of the military officer would be with regard to the decisions pending in the claims in respect of the reprisals at Dromkeen, and would materially affect the issues in such cases as regards those in which the actual and authorised military operations were different from any excesses on the part of the military or other Crown forces, and as distinguished from authorised or insufficiently authorised actions of the Crown as of military necessity. The Commander and his subordinate placed at his disposal such military evidence. He would hear the officer, and allow the legal gentlemen engaged in the several applications to question him.

By request a military officer attended Court and was cross-examined with regard to the formalities adopted before the reprisals were officially carried out.

The witness said as far as he was concerned he was satisfied that the proper procedure was adopted in each of the houses and property destroyed. The houses that the following were destroyed—Thomas O'Connell, Cahernally, William Carroll, Dromkeen; John Kennedy, Mount Catherine; Charles Mackey, John Lynch, Cahernally; William Hayes, Killeen; and Michael Hennessey, Ballybricken. The Commander and his subordinate placed at his disposal such military evidence. He would hear the officer, and allow the legal gentlemen engaged in the several applications to question him.

MALICIOUS INJURY CLAIMS.

IN CLARE.

Destruction of Carrigaholt Castle.

At Ennis, before His Honor Judge Bodkin, K.C., Major Gallimore O'Grady, 49 Fitzwilliam Place, Dublin, claimed £18,000 compensation in connection with the destruction of Carrigaholt Castle and plantation, which was formerly the residence of the late Mr. W. O. V. Bodkin.

Mr. O'Grady, B.L. (instructed by Mr. F. F. O'Connell, C.S.), appeared for the applicant.

Mr. M. Killen, solicitor, said he appeared for a ratepayer, Mr. John Hedderman.

"Allow me to extend," said his Honor, "my most sincere sympathy to you in that capacity. I have done my best to try to get the ratepayers to be represented to assist in deciding those claims."

Counsel, making application for an extension of time within which the application should be made, referred to the previous in the case of the late Mr. Bodkin, who went on to say that the first thing that occurred after the castle was shut up was that it was broken into for the purpose of holding dances, and that was followed by the destruction of the place, the windows having been broken, and finally the shutters and framework of the windows and doors were taken, there was no caretaker in possession of the castle, but there was a man living in the gate lodge. There was tremendous damage done; people came there with horses and cars and donkeys and took away doors and windows, in removing which considerable damage was done to the walls of the castle.

Mr. Killen said the reason the claim was opposed was on account of the largeness of the amount claimed, and there were other circumstances why it was opposed. If anyone brought in a claim of £18,000 or Mr. Bodkin had, there would be no interest in the property they would have taken steps to prevent it.

His Honor—Is it if the property is left derelict that the owner cannot get compensation for malicious injury?

Mr. Killen said he did not put it that way, but if there was gross contributory negligence, and if his Honor came to the conclusion there was, he should exercise discretion as to whether he should grant the extension of time within which the service of the notice in the claim should be observed; there was great temptation when there was a house in a country place with no one to look after it.

His Honor asked for the dates on which the depositions were omitted.

Counsel gave the dates on which the depositions were omitted; in February, 1919, and in the following September.

Evidence was given by Mr. Michael McMahon that he was appointed Receiver of the property on the 2nd of March, 1920, and he visited Carrigaholt Castle on the 5th of March. The castle was completely taken down, as there was but a door or a door left in the place. On the 5th April, 1919, he held an auction of the furniture there, and the house was then in perfect condition but on the 5th March, 1920, a horse and car could be driven through the front room and into where the bedrooms were.

His Honor—Could all that damage have been done between January and March? Oh, it could not.

His Honor—The damage could not have been done in three months? No.

Witness—He thought the place might be worth £5,000. There was 180 acres of land going with the premises. If it were in any other part of the country he thought it would be worth £8,000.

Further questioning witness said he sold the land attached to the estate for £2,500. That was the sum he got for the land. He was the only person who bought the land in the district, and the highest price for it was £3,000. It was divided into 60 or 70 people amongst whom it was divided got a great bargain from Major O'Grady, for whom he divided the land.

Questioned by Mr. Killen, witness said the damage done to the house would have been done in one hour if there were people enough to do it. At the time he held the auction in April it was well known the place was without an owner. His opinion was that if there was a caretaker appointed to look after the place the damage might have been prevented.

His Honor—The damage done to the castle in July, 1919, was done by the castle. In July, 1919, he went to live in the gate lodge of Carrigaholt Castle. At that time there was nothing done to the premises. The first damage, to the kitchen garden, was started in September, 1919, when the fruit was taken away and the vines were pulled down. The next summer he sent in a man to the windows of the house. In the front room he driven through the glass of the windows, and after that witness closed the shutters, which were next broken in and then taken away; in the same month they started to pull down the roof, and five or six teams of horses with cars came there at a time to remove the stuff away; when the summer came to tear down the house witness spoke to Mr. P. J. Kelly, by whom he was put in the house, and he told him it was really a shame to have the house taken down, and that would be a great loss to the country; then Mr. Kelly told him he should write to Mr. Bodkin, and he also mentioned to Mr. Killen, to try to have it prevented; there was no mention made of his writing to Major O'Grady.

Mr. P. J. O'Donnell, C.S., gave £14,200 as his estimate for repairing the damage done to the castle. He said the damage done to the masonry work in under the doors and window might be taken away intact.

For the opposition to the claim John Hedderman was examined, to prove that before January, 1920, there was not one stone removed from Carrigaholt Castle. In September, or early in October, 1919, he said there was a head-constable in Carrigaholt, and while he was there there was not as much taken from Carrigaholt Castle as would make a castle of the ruins. What he left Carrigaholt the damage started, and the people took it into their heads to take away the lead on the roof, and the slates were pulled in that way.

The Republican police made an attempt at protecting it. Yes, and even myself and three or four more of us went to see the place.

What happened the Volunteers when they tried to protect it?—They did their best, and they saved what was left of it.

His Honor said it was eminently proper of Mr. Killen to come into court to resist the claim, the whole of which might have been graned, were it not for his defence. He allowed £2,000 compensation.

When considering the question of expenses, Mr. Killen asked Mr. Killen if he wanted expenses, intimating that such expenses could be included in the award of the court, and then paid over to Mr. Killen.

Mr. Killen consulted Mr. Hedderman and others who were apparently interested in the case, after which he informed Mr. Killen he wanted no expenses.

LIMERICK SHIPOWNERS' CLAIM.

The Limerick Steamship Company, Ltd., owners of the ex-Limerick, appealed before Lord Justice Baker, Solicitor-General, and in the Appeal Court, London, yesterday, from a judgment of Mr. Justice Balguy in favour of the defendants, Messrs W. Scott and Company, Ltd., of Liverpool. The appellants and plaintiffs claimed damages sustained by the Limerick in the course of a voyage to the Port of Aba, in the Baltic, and on the coast of Finland. The respondents and defendants were time charterers of the vessel under a charter party of the 19th of August, 1919, which provided, inter alia, that the vessel should not be ordered to any port where there was a risk that it would be unable to enter or to get out on account of ice, nor should the vessel be obliged to force a passage through ice. Both in passing up the east coast of Sweden, and in approaching Aba, the vessel encountered difficulties, and got badly "bumped" among the floating pieces of ice broken off by an ice-breaker. The repairs cost some thousands of pounds, and the question was whether the plaintiffs were entitled to recover that expenditure.

ENGLISH RACING STOPPAGE.

Cheltenham meeting, fixed for Wednesday and Thursday, is abandoned owing to the miners' strike.

His many friends in Limerick and elsewhere will learn with an ordinary pleasure that Mr. James P. Barry, James Barry, is progressing towards recovery, after a prolonged illness, and they will wish him a speedy return to robust health.

A serious situation has been created by the suspension of live cattle imports from Ireland, consequent on the recent outbreak of foot and mouth disease in that country. The price of meat has already risen 1d. a pound, and this hardship is likely to be increased by the fact that the recent importation of the embargo on Canadian store cattle, London "Daily Express."
