In consequence of the earlier departure of the morning train from Limerick, and the curtailment of the hour for posting to the General Post Office, it has been found necessary to issue the edition of the Chronicle at an earlier hour than hitherto. Advertisers will, therefore, please note that the latest hour at which advertisements can be received at this office on issue days is 2.30 p.m. Publication of any notices received after that hour cannot be guaranteed for that evening.

THE LIMERICK CHRONICLE

(ESTABLISHED 1788)

THURSDAY, JUNE 2, 1921

AGRICULTURAL TOPICS

The passing of the month of May was marked by a cold snap in the weather which was in striking contrast to the genial summerlike conditions that prevailed about the middle of the month. Low temperatures were the feature of the closing week, but while that was so refreshing rain so much needed for the growing crops as well as the parched pastures fell during the past few days, and the country is, undoubtedly, all the better for the moisture, the need for which in the four provinces was emphasised in the latest report of the Department of Agriculture and Technical Instruction. Since the issue of that report the much desired atmospheric change has come, and agricultural prospects are all the better for it. About the middle of April showers of hail and sleet fell, and there were heavy night frosts. These conditions prevailing to the 23rd. The result was that in many countries the early potato crop was badly burnt, and pastures which suffered in growth were unusually bare. Outgrazed cattle appeared thin and backward and in some counties required to be handfed in order to maintain their condition. In a further review of the month, the report observes that owing to the increased number of cows which calved during that period the milk supply improved and butter also became more plentiful. The demand for horses continued weak, and the supply at fairs was small. It is satisfactory to notice that the supplies of potatoes held out well. Prices showed little or no advance till near the end of the month of April. Winter wheat looked well and vigorous, but catch-crops were delayed in growth by the cold weather. As might have been expected, the continued restrictions on the export trade had a depressing effect on the live stock market during April. Demand at fairs and markets was purely local, and with no competition from shippers prices suffered as a natural consequence. Unfortunately for some time past the Irish cattle trade has been severely hit by the embargo put in force by the English Ministry of Agriculture, and at the present time exports are held up owing to an outbreak of foot-and-mouth disease in the New Ross district. The country is suffering severe loss through depreciated cattle values and uncertainty of outlook. With the view of minimising this depressing state of things Captain Redmond asked Sir A. Griffith-Boscawen, Minister of Agriculture, in the House of Commons this week whether precautionary measures in regard to this outbreak could not be adopted as in certain cases in England—namely, the drawing of a cordon round the infected area alone, and thus permit the cattle trade in the rest of Ireland to pursue its normal course. This is a reasonable proposition, and it is hoped it will commend itself to the English authorities. Sir A. Griffith-Boscawen declares that "the question of the conditions under which the cattle trade of Ireland may be resumed is under consideration." He further states that he will have the trade resumed "as quickly as possible." In the interests, not alone of this country, but of cross-Channel requirements, the sooner things can be restored to the normal the better for all concerned.

CHURCH OF IRELAND.

A meeting of the Limerick Diocesan Council was held on Friday, 29th May, the Dean of Limerick presiding. The scheme for amalgamation of parishes was finally approved, and ordered to be sent to the Commissioners appointed by the General Synod, and the Dean of Limerick and the Diocesan Secretary were appointed to represent the Diocese at the inquiry. The Council allocated a bonus of £700 out of Diocesan funds to the Clergy of the Diocese for the current year.

FATAL BURNING ACCIDENT IN CITY.

Michael Bourke, aged between four and five years, residing with his parents in Clare-street, sustained fatal burning injuries yesterday morning. It appears that the little fellow and another were in the house at the time during the mother's absence momentarily. Through some inexplicable cause his clothing came into contact with the fire. In a moment he was a mass of flame, and despite the efforts of residents next door, who were attracted by his screams, it was impossible to do anything for the little sufferer, who subsequently succumbed in Barrington's Hospital.

THE NEWPORT AMBUSH.

Yesterday Dublin Castle issued a report stating—A military Court of Inquiry, held in the case of an inquiry, assembled at the New Barracks, Limerick, on the 18th May, 1921, to inquire into the death of District Inspector Henry Biggs, aged 28 years, of Newport, and Winifred Barrington, aged 22 years, only daughter of Sir Charles Barrington, Bart., of Glastonbury, Newport. A report of the evidence follows. The Court found that Miss Winifred Barrington and District Inspector Henry Biggs had been murdered by persons unknown and are satisfied that the persons who fired the shots had known that a woman was in the car.

THE VICEROY.

Absence from Ireland Explained. The P.A. says: The suggestion that the return of the Viceroy to Ireland is delayed owing to difficulties in the case of the late Lord Curzon is ridiculous in official circles. It is stated that the reason for Viscount Fitzalan's journey in England is that the Viceroy's Lodge is in the deplorable state. His Excellency is expected back in a few days.

CONTRAVENTION OF REALM REGULATIONS.

Limerick Courtmartial.

At a Field General Courtmartial in the New Barracks, Limerick, today, Thomas Madigan and Michael O'Brien, Ballycubane, Kildimo, were charged under Regulation 9 A.A. of the Defence of the Realm Regulations with not having fired some snacking a pistol under military control on the 24th May.

The accused, who pleaded not guilty, were defended by Mr H.O.B. Moran, solicitor. The Prosecutor said on the morning of the 24th May a search was made at the house of a woman named O'Brien, and in an out-office a pistol was found. The pistol had been fired, and the appearance of a smoke trail was seen, and had not been where it was discovered very long.

A police constable, in his evidence, stated that on the morning of the 24th May he was one of a party that searched the house of Mrs O'Brien, Ballycubane, Kildimo. In a shed about twenty yards from the dwellinghouse he found a brown paper parcel under some old snacking, which contained the pistol (produced). In his opinion it was originally a snacking pistol, and was capable of carrying a 22 inch cartridge. The accused were about the premises when the pistol was found by witness, who handed it to his officer.

In the course of cross-examination the witness said the house of Mrs O'Brien was searched, but nothing was found, as far as he knew. The shed was quite open and not under lock and key, and that being so, it was possible for outsiders to get into it and conceal a pistol there.

A police officer stated that he was in charge of a search party at Mrs O'Brien's, Ballycubane, Kildimo, on the 24th May. During the search a snacking pistol was found, and the pistol (produced) and landed it to witness. He should describe it as being a snacking pistol, and with a new stock put into it. At the time the weapon was handed to him, O'Brien was outside the house and Madigan inside. When questioned, O'Brien said he knew nothing about the pistol, and Madigan made a similar statement. Accused were arrested because they were the only male members in the house at the time and resided there.

In reply to Mr Moran, the witness said that accused expressed surprise when the pistol was found in the place. It would be quite possible for an outsider to conceal the weapon in the shed which was an open building.

This closed the prosecution. The accused O'Brien said he never knew of the existence of the pistol until it was produced by the constable. A like statement was made by Madigan. He was engaged at Mrs O'Brien's as a farm worker.

An order of police, and at present a temporary warder in Limerick prison, stated he knew the two accused, who were good characters. A constable in the R.I. Constabulary stated he knew the accused for five years, and never knew them to take part in politics. They were both respectable young men, and of good character.

A sergeant stated he knew the accused for a number of years, and during that time they had not been mixed up in politics in an active way. They were both men of good character.

To the Prosecutor—Accused may have political opinions, but certainly they did not go beyond opinions.

A Moran having addressed the Court, the accused were found not guilty, and were released.

CROOM COURTHOUSE BURNED DOWN.

Two Charred Bodies Found. It was officially reported in Limerick yesterday afternoon that Croom Courthouse was burned down during the night. When the fire abated a search made through the debris resulted in the finding of two charred bodies, which had not up to last evening been identified.

The constabulary are inquiring into the circumstances of the burning. A Charleville message of last night says:—An appalling occurrence took place at Croom, Co. Limerick, last night resulting in the death of two civilians, presently unidentified. Some time before 12 o'clock the Courthouse was observed to be on fire, and in less than an hour the building was a huge conflagration. On making an examination of the building to-day the police found the charred remains of two civilians, whose identity cannot be established. One body was burned practically to a cinder, a heap of bones being the only remains left. The remains of the other civilian were also burned beyond recognition. The remains of both were removed to-day to the workhouse.

Nothing now remains of the Courthouse only the four bare walls. Before the building was fired the whole place was apparently well saturated with petrol and other inflammable materials, which were being used in the building. The fire was evidently well controlled, and it was not until an explosion occurred, resulting in the terrible death of the two who perished in the flames.

ENNIS SENSATION. Tennis Party Held Up. Clare D.L. Wounded. A tennis party at the residence of the Hon. Edward O'Brien, at Roslevin, Ennis, on Tuesday afternoon had a sensational development. While play was in progress a party of about forty men, many carrying guns, suddenly appeared and called "Hands Up," and began firing shots about the place. The party also fired shots at the chicken pen on the grounds. Mr W.H. Ball, D.L., was wounded in the arm, and also had his head grazed. No one else appears to have been injured.

The motor car of Mr F.N. Studdert, Secretary of the Co. Council, who was one of the guests, was taken, set on fire, and destroyed. The guests were terrified, and several ladies collapsed. The shots were heard in the vicinity of the town, and police and military hurried to the scene.

GOODS TRAIN DERAILED

On Kerry Line. Our Newcastle West correspondent writes:—A goods train consisting of eight wagons of goods was derailed near Burren on Monday night owing to some rails having been removed from the track. The guard and driver escaped without injury. Passengers en route for Kerry had to remain in Newcastle West for the night.

LIMERICK FISHERY BOARD.

The meeting of the Limerick Board of Fishery Conservators, convened for yesterday, fell through for want of a quorum of members. The attendance included Messrs S.C. Vanattit, J.P., and W.J. Holmes, C.E., with the Secretary, Mr H.B. Altom.

LETTERS AND TELEGRAPH INSTRUMENTS SEIZED.

A Limerick postman was held up this morning by two men, one said to be armed, and letters addressed to the Ulster Bank branch forcibly taken from him. The Glen Post Office was raided last night, and the instruments carried off. The postmen from Foyens and from Glin to Tulla were also held up yesterday, and the letters with them taken.

ONE-DAY SHOP SALE.

This evening, in the Diocesan Hall, Perystre, a one-day shop sale was held, in aid of St. Michael's Church. There was a fairly large attendance at the opening ceremony, which was performed by Mr. J. Shaw, who in a few brief sentences outlined the promoters, and trusted that the sale would be even a greater success than last year's undertaking. The stalls were models of good taste, and attracted a large number of visitors, for which there was a brisk demand during the evening. The following were the stalls and stallholders:—The Misses Galbraith (Fancies), the Misses Watson (General), Mrs Delmore, Mrs Robertson, and Miss Wilson (Refreshments), Mr R. Watson (Books), Mrs Johnston, Miss Mrs Morrow (Cakes and Sweets). The musical programme was carried out under the direction of Mr F. Brislane, and was greatly appreciated.

TO SUBSCRIBERS

We must ask the indulgence of numerous subscribers, who, owing to the suspension of the evening night mail from Limerick, as a result of the postal strike, cannot receive their paper on the morning following the issue of the CHRONICLE. We trust the inconvenience will be but temporary.

LIMERICK PRISONERS.

Question in the Commons.

In the House of Commons on Tuesday, Captain Wedgwood Benn, on private notice, asked the Chief Secretary whether the beating of prisoners was reprehended by the Judge-Advocate in the Limerick trial, and what steps the Government have taken to put a stop to it. Sir H. Greenwood—This arose in the martial law area, and I am informed by the Commander-in-Chief that the ill-treatment of prisoners was disclosed in two separate trials by courtmartial in Limerick. In one case the court gave it as their opinion that the ill-treatment was detestable and very damaging, statements made by the accused shortly after their arrest were not admitted as evidence. In the second case the constable admitted on oath striking an accused man in the absence of his superior officer. The Judge-Advocate pointed out that this was the second occasion on which the police were alleged to have beaten an accused man after arrest, and further remarked that he would not admit any statements taken in evidence from accused persons, a few minutes after they had had a sound beating. It is only fair to state that the accused, after his arrest, was not admitted against him. The statements of the Judge-Advocate were immediately brought to the notice of the Commander-in-Chief and the Divisional Commissioner of Police, and orders were at once issued that the allegations of the ill-treatment of the accused were to be the subject of further and stringent inquiry and severe disciplinary action taken against the persons found responsible. The inquiry into the conduct of the police referred to is proceeding. Naturally, concluded Sir H. Greenwood, the Government repudiates any such ill-treatment, and every step possible will be taken to prevent any recurrence of it, and to punish every offender (derisive Opponent). I am, Sir, a member of the statement of the Judge-Advocate throughout the police forces in Ireland.

Lieutenant Commander Kenworthy—Is the Chief Secretary aware that I have given him chapter and verse as to the ill-treatment of prisoners month after month, and why is it that he is still making denials of his own officer, that he has taken action.

Sir H. Greenwood—I agree with the hon. and gallant gentleman as to the excellence of the action of the Judge-Advocate. As the House knows he is the legal adviser in every courtmartial, I think it is an compliment to his courage and to that of other officers to bring to the notice of the Government any breach of discipline or crime in their forces.

Lord Cavendish Bentinck—What else do you expect British officers to do? (General cheers). Sir H. Greenwood—I assure the hon. and gallant gentleman that any case brought to my notice is probed to the bottom. There is no interest greater in the Government than to see the good discipline of the police and other forces in Ireland.

LIMERICK CITIZENS' AND RATEPAYERS' SOCIETY.

The annual general meeting of the Limerick Citizens' and Ratepayers' Society was held in the Chamber of Commerce last evening.

Dr W.A. Fogarty, chairman, presided, and there was a large attendance of members.

The report of the Committee for the year 1920 was read by Mr J. McNeine, in the course of the report it was stated that in June, 1919, the Executive Committee took up the question of the city roads, and after getting expert advice and making exhaustive enquiries, entered into discussion with a Committee of the Corporation in order to ascertain improved and economical methods of road-making.

A large number of resolutions were passed, and it was decided that experiments be made by the City Surveyor in several systems of road-making, but nothing had been done so far to give effect to the recommendations. At the last municipal elections the Society decided to put forward candidates to represent it in the Borough Council. Candidates named John J. O'Connell, Captain J. O'Connell, and Mr J. O'Connell, in the course of the report it was stated that in June, 1919, the Executive Committee took up the question of the city roads, and after getting expert advice and making exhaustive enquiries, entered into discussion with a Committee of the Corporation in order to ascertain improved and economical methods of road-making.

LIMERICK QUARTER SESSIONS.

His Honor County Court Judge Pigot resumed the business of the Limerick Quarter Sessions yesterday.

Michael Hayes, Geoff Street, Limerick, and John P. McCarthy, Mount Mungret, to recover £15 damages for the wounding of sheep by defendant's dogs on the lands of Ballycubane on the 22nd January.

Mr P.E. O'Donnell, solicitor, appeared for plaintiff, and Mr J. Duggan, solicitor, for the defendant. The plaintiff's case was that on this date in question he had sheep grazing at Ballycubane. He saw two dogs belonging to defendant having hold of a sheep which was torn. One was dead and four other sheep were missing from the land.

In cross-examination, plaintiff said he did not examine the dogs' mouths, as he thought there was no need to do so, as the dogs had been crushed through the dog water in the field. They were two terriers, black and brown in colour.

The case for the defendant was that the dogs did not cause the injury to the sheep, and if it were established that they did he was willing to pay for the damage done.

His Honor said the plaintiff had not sustained his claim, and consequently he should dismiss the case.

CAREY'S ROAD BOMBING.—COMPENSATION CLAIMS. Constable J. Redfern, R.I.C., Boherbuoy, claimed compensation for the loss of his clothing at Carey's Road and for compensation for damage to his clothing.

Mr James S. Gaffney, C.S., supported the application, and evidence was given detailing the occasion on which the applicant was wounded by a bullet in the left leg, close to the ankle, during the Carey's Road bombing and bombing later on the evening of the 22nd April last.

His Honor said the plaintiff had not sustained his claim, and consequently he should dismiss the case.

Pending the arrival of the medical witness, his Honor next took up the claim for the damage to the applicant's clothing, for which he paid £10 10s, and allowed £4 compensation.

Constable McGinnis, who was wounded by a bomb on the occasion, described his injuries when making a similar claim. He was suffering intense pain still, his hearing was affected, and he was still under medical treatment. He was a married man. He had lost a terrible lot of blood, and his clothing was absolutely destroyed.

His Honor gave judgment for £8 8s for the suit, and expressed the sincere hope that the constable would soon be greatly improved.

The injury claim was in this case also held over pending the attendance of a medical witness.

Constable Anderson, another member of the police party, claimed he was suffering from shock as the result of the bomb explosion on the occasion of the Carey's Road bombing, by a missile, but he was not wounded. He had been fourteen days under treatment.

Dr Roberts gave evidence that in Anderson's case he found him complaining from nervousness. He was nervous at the time, and that would be the result of fright and concussion.

Witnesses—Yes, exactly. To His Honor—At the time I saw him I did not think it necessary for him to be in bed. I thought he would be better up.

As regards Redfern, he was complaining too, but was not as bad as Anderson. He gave him a rest, and as a subsequent to the case he considered that he had all right, except for the wound which was being treated in the military hospital, and which witness did not examine.

Sergeant Courtney, Boherbuoy, described the applicant as a good character, intelligent and active, and they had shown no signs of nervousness or shock previous to this incident.

His Honor gave a decree for the case of Anderson's clothing, and £30 for the injury to his health, with expenses.

The other claims are not decided as regards the physical injuries, pending medical evidence.

To-Day.

His Honor Judge Pigot continued to-day the hearing of the business of the Quarter Sessions.

Mr Skelton, an ex-soldier, was plaintiff in an action to recover the sum of £50 from the defendant, John Bugler, for personal injuries received while on duty in the army, and received a discharge in 1916, being given a gratuity of £40.

With this sum plaintiff turned Carter, and on the morning of the occurrence a son of the defendant John Bugler was driving some cattle through Rutland-street, when the animals became somewhat restive, and in the effort to control them plaintiff had his leg broken, and sustained other injuries. Mr Bugler (instructed by Mr P.J. O'Sullivan, solicitor), for plaintiff, held there should have been protection afforded by having some men in front to prevent any rush of the cattle, and a danger on the highway. The defence was that the cattle were under the control of the defendant, and Mr T.O. Kelly, solicitor for the defendant, produced the son of Mr Bugler to prove that it was so. It appeared on the evidence that there was more than one owner of the cattle, and the Court dismissed the case without prejudice.

Dennis Woods, a labourer, was plaintiff, and Mrs Kate Hartley, Castle Cary, defendant, in a case to recover a sum of £7 balance claimed to be due for wages.

Mr Kelly, solicitor, was for plaintiff, and Mr A. Blood-Smyth, solicitor, for the defendant. His Honor on the evidence gave a decree for £3 12s.

Police claims for hearing were postponed, in the absence of a medical witness. The Court adjourned.

THE YOUGHAL EXPLOSION.

Another Bandsboy Dead

A Youghal correspondent writing last night says:—After a day of tensions, Youghal faced a night of anticipated terror, and indeed it was. Soldiers walked the streets singly or in groups as usual. Some people left their homes, others put up additional protection, but nothing untoward occurred. The behaviour of the troops during the evening and night was truly exemplary, and very commendable.

The hospital train returned to Cork last night with all the dead and wounded, except Boy Heasman, aged 15, who underwent a serious abdominal operation by a city specialist. It was successful, but a change for the worst set in to-day and he died this evening.

Thanks from the Glengolund, expressed their warm appreciation of the kindness of the local people who helped their wounded at the terminus. They also gratefully acknowledge the skill and care exercised in the local hospital by doctors and nurses, of whom the wounded men spoke very highly. The report that the hospital was being used for the purpose of a military hospital was incorrect, its use being applied for and freely given.

Suffering severely from pain, shock, and loss of blood, Father Roche spent a bad night, but is easier to-day. All the young men arrested have been released with a caution. The attack upon the band which was made on the 24th, and which was not fired until the musicians had reached the spot. Some suggest it was meant as a reprisal for the Clonmalt conflict.

DUBLIN CATTLE MARKET

(BY TELEGRAPH.) Numbers:—1,683 beasts; 8,354 sheep. Market dominated by a healthy disposition because of the better tone of the meat trade in England, and especially Birkenhead. Quotations: Cattle from 60s to 85s per cow; sheep, 11d to 18d per lb; and lambs from 45s to 100s each, according to class.

Martin Sheehan, a labourer, aged 75, was found dead in his residence, Arthur's Quay, yesterday morning.

The Duke of Devonshire and Lord Montagu celebrated their birthday on Tuesday. Lord Montagu was born in 1849, and succeeded his grandfather, the first Baron Montagu of Brandon, in 1886.
