BUSINESS IMPORTANT People are apt to forget that health management is the most important business in which they can be engaged. It requires only a few moments' reflection, however, to realise that, if through neglect or ignorance one's health is injured all one's efficiency and enjoyment of life is impaired. You simply cannot afford to let yourself get run down or to ignore any symptom of impending ill-health. Whenever you have any reason to believe that your stomach is out of order or that you are inclined to be bilious or constipated, you will be wise to take a dose of Beecham's Pills and to continue taking them according to directions until you feel quite all right again.

LIMERICK CHRONICLE

[ESTABLISHED 1766]

SATURDAY, AUGUST 20, 1921 THE MAIL SERVICE. Tais week has brought to light some interesting information with respect to the projected acceleration of the English mail service. Is is unnecessary to recall the fact that for a long time past strong complaints have come from the Limerick Harbour Board and Chamber of Commerce, the Cork Incorporated Chamber of Commerce, and other public bodies in the South of Ireland as to the delays in the mail service, the result of which is that the interval between the delivery of letters and the departure of the outward midday mail practically leaves merchants and traders no time to answer their correspondence by return of post. constitutes an intolerable grievance, and while admittedly it was unavoidable during the war, and to some extent to more recent conditions, it is felt now that there can be no reason for the Post Office refusing to meet the demands of the commercial community, and putting into operation a reform too long delayed. The state of things complained of is not confined to the South of Ireland, The North has been strongly protesting, too, and now it is announced that as from September 1st the mail train to Belfast will leave Dablin forty minutes earlier than at present, reaching its destination at 9 5 a.m. instead of 9 55. This will be adistinct improvement on present arrange- | the defendant had no lamp, and lighting-up time ments. When the nev departure was announced this week the question, naturally, suggested itself-what concession will be given to the South, and when will it take Phureday that the question of accelerating the morning mail from Dablin to Cork, and of course correspondingly to Limerick, is being considered by the Great Southern and Western Rulway Company, who, it may well be taken for granted, will leave nothing undone to meet the requirements of the merchants and traders in the great area of country that they serve. The delays at Amiens S reet and at Kingsbridge if surtion of the service. It is computed that be saved if the Great Southern and Western Railway Company ran an independent train of their own from Kingstown to Kingsbridge, and then, if it is possible to sond the Northern mails from Amieus Street at 6 45 a.m (is proposed by the Post Office) it ought to be also possible to despatch the Southern mails from Kingsbridge at 7 a.m., and thus effect a saving of 35 minutes on the present running time table. To the autsider one would think there should be no difficulty in returning to the service of prewar days when the mails arrived in Limerick ! about 10 a.m., and the delivery was on its | 88" Aranmore," Glargow, general, Clyde Ship. way in the city long before noon. Now the train is due to arrive bere at 11-15, and even in the most central parts of the city it is not possible to complete the delivery before say a quarter to one, leaving but, roughly speaking. an hour to reply by the next outgoing mail, while in remote locali- | Fete, organised by the G F.S., will be held at the ties the time available is necessarily far less. this evening. Various stalls are being arranged, The running of the mail train direct from Kingstown would economise time and labor Tournament, a Hat Trimming Competition, Clock and benefit the traders and travelling public at both cads. Then there is the question of the outgoing English mail. The hour of Lights on Vehicles. Ye terday at the City Petty Sessions Court the magistrates gave a salutary warning to parties who cil and against the statute which requires velicles being driven after dark to have a light on thing. The Act of Parliament, designated the Lights on Vehicles Act, was passed some years ago for the benefit of the public safety, and hare in Line, ick up to recently it was pretty generally objected. Judging by latter day experience would appear as if it were about to become either obspicte or fall into abeyance. For some time past persons using bicycles after dark seem to have distigated the statute, and at yesterday's Court quite a number of people, principally young women, were prosecuted for contravention of the Agt. The migistrates now desire it to be known that the last must be respected in this direction. and futures dences would meet with punishment of an exemplary character. The safety of the public is a mot er that cannot be overlooked or lightly dieregated, and cyclists in their own inturests would do well to take the magisterial admonition seriously.

CITY PETTY SESSIONS

The magistrates attending at the City Petty Sessions yesterday were-Uclonel Williamson, R.M., and Mr H Dickinson, R.M. David Barry was prosecuted by Constable Bell for eyoling without a light through William street at 10 10 r.m on the 17th inst. The constable said

Col Williamson-We are going to stop this. District Inspector Greatly-There is a number of these oases here to-day.

Col Williamson said the Bench was determined to put a stop to this very dangerous practice From that date drastic measures would be taken offect. It was satisfactory to learn on against offenders of the Lights on Vehicles Act, as they did not want tragedi a to take place in the streets of the city. The defendant, who did not appear, was ordered to pay a fine of 5s. A number of other defendants, principally young women, were fined similar fines for gontravention of the same statute.

Although no official announcement has been made, we understand, says the "Dally Telegraph," that it has been decided that the Prince of Wales shall visit Japan next year. Be will embark en the Renown at Karaobi on March 17th, on the conclusion of his Indian tour, and will most probably vivit Ceylon and the Federated Malay States on route. A brief tour in Japan is being acranged, in consultation with the Japanese Government. It is highly improbable that the Prince will proceed to Canada from Japan, as has been reported. Present intentions are that His Royal Highness will return from the East by the same route over which the outward journey will be made.

Lord Chancellor's Statement In the discussion of the Children's Bill in the House of Lords on Thursday, The Marquis of Crewe sail if there had been an autumn session the Bill could have been dealt with properly.

The Lord Chancellor suggested that Lord Crowe should move the adjournment of the debate adding that the nature of the situation and possible developments in Ireland might very asily, even at the moment, lead to a modification of what up to the present had been the intentions of the Gay rement as to prorogation.

Lord Crowe moved the adjournment of the debate, and this was agreed to. The Telegraph Money Bill and the Public Works Loans Bill were passed through all stages.

MR LLOYD GEORGE'S SPEECH IN COMMONS,

"Limit of Possible Concessions In the House of Commons yesterday, Mr Lloyd George moved the adjournment of the House to | October 18th, with a priviso that if necessary the House should meet at any earlier time during fice all round the adjournment. His speech dealt with the Irish | situation, and in the course of his address the right hon gentleman said-All the Government have to say has been said in the two letters sent by me, as head of the Government, to Wr De Valera. Not only were the proposals very care. fally ponsidered, but the very words were barefully weighed. In nego tations there are two courses to adopt, and men who are accustomed to negotiating, know that perfectly well. You can always, time.

If you like, keep something in hand to use later on. That is one course which my right hon friend (Mr Thomas) is very acoustomed to (laughter). But there is another course, and that is to put all your cards on the tuble (cheers). After Chairman with two labour and two ratepayers to considering carefully which of these courses we decide the question. Both parties to abide by the should adopt, without healts in we adopted the decision. latter, because of the importance of ranging on the side of our proposals all cane optnion, not merely of this pountry and in Ireland, but throughout the world. We therefore desided an putting the whole of our terms into the letter without keeping any. thing book. I think we were right in adopting that course (oheers). I have heard of no suggestion from any quarter in this country, or from proposals we have not gone to the very limit of possibly obnogesions. I have heard the suggestion that we have gone too far-(An Hon Member : Very true). Therefore I want to make it clear if I have not made it clear before, that we do not put forward what I call haggling term. We put forward everything that we could possib'y concede, in order to obtain peace and the goodwill of the Iri h people. Were that misfortune to befall the relations between these two islands, whose history has been so full of unfortunate icoidents, we should be faced with a graver situation in reference to Leeland than that with which we h d over been confronted. There is one thing which has been achieved : The issues have been more clearly defined than they have ever been defided before, and their rejection would be an unmistakable challenge to the authority of the Crown and the unity of the Empire. Here we are in the heart of the Empire, and no party ! in the State could possibly pass that ever without notice. I dee no languege ; not to take, and which the Extoative will not wish to take, without first conculting Par lament and giving the representatives of the people a full appointualty of expressing either approval or disapproval of the steps we propose to take. So this will be the position under this resolution if the House thinks fit to adopt it. If on October 18 an agreement has been reach d, or it negotiations are proceeding satisfactorily, then the H :use will only meet to receive the Royal message of prorogation. It will be a purely formal meeting. That is what we contemplate and propose to the House. If, on the other hand, negotiations break

"For the Blood is the Life."

Sufferers from Eczema, Boils, Pimples and Eruptions, Bad Legs, Abscesses, Ulcers, Piles, Glandular Swellings.

Rheumatism, Gout, should realise that these complaints are simply the symptoms of deep-rooted blood impurities, and while outward applications may give temporary benefit, they can do no more, because they cannot get below the surface of the skin.

The One Way to Real Relief, complete and lasting is to rid the blood of the poisonous waste matter, the true cause of such troubles. "Clarke's Blood Mixture," by reason of its remarkable blood purifying properties, promptly attacks, overcomes and finally expels the impurities, that's why so many lasting recoveries stand to its credit. Pleasant to take and harmless to Old and Young alike.

the cost of production remained practically the same. The position of the Irish farmer was one of grave danger in the future. If the farme worked long hours and found at the end of the year he had no wages for himself and his family, and in many instances debt stared him in the face, discontent must necessarily arise and disaster quickly tollow. The farmers were drifting back into the condition in which they were 20 years ago, and it was unfor unate that they had done so little to help themselver. It was true they at tended to the work in the farm, but forgot the most important part, the calculated prior of their own labour and that of their families. Was there any reason why the farmer should drift into the condition of slavery in which he was 20 years ago? He could not expect that the outsider would help him. No doubt the outsider would exploit him in every possible way for his own advantage. All th factors who handle the produced stuffs had a profit, and too often a very large profit. The farmer was powerless to prevent it except by com-bluation and co-operation. They ha heard a great deal about profiteering for some time, but this year the average farmer stood to lose heavily

He could assure the Limerick farmers organiser, who was present, the farmers of this district would be worse off this year than before Land Purchase even took place. He had hopes that every farmer in the district would become a member of their Union, and thereby help hi tellow farmer to live and thrive in his own land.

The organiser, Mr Walshe, in addressing the meeting, dw. It especially on the method and aims of their organisation. He pointed out the Farmers' Union was now more than a scotlonal union. It was a union of national importance. Every farmer in Ireland by j idiog the farmers' organisation was only plainly doing his duty to the State. The land in this district and that of Bridgetown appeared to be all reclaimed, and the toil of the ancestors of the present owners was sonk in it. The rates were now nearly equal to the old rents, and a large number of unpurchased tenants were in the district. It was only reasonable and right that a substantial reduction should be granted if the tenants were to be rescued from a state of glavery. Unfortunately, in Ireland the agricul tural industry is not valued as it should be simply because in the past the industry did not give the workers a living wage. It had been stated that the farmer had constant employment.

No doub be had; he of en worked 14, 16 hours, on the necessity of the Union. The rates were now 19s 7d in the £ in the Glin district, and there was no doubt that the farmer would work for nothing this year, a.d in many instances would find himself in debt at the end of the year. The same would probably occur next year except they combined to prevent themselves being wiped out.
