

LIMERICK HARBOUR BOARD

Mr L. Morley presided at the meeting of the Limerick Harbour Board yesterday. There were present: Alderman Mr. O'Donovan, Deputy Mayor; Messrs J. H. Roche, D. Griffin, B. C. O'Connell, D. L. O'Connell, B. C. O'Connell, G. R. Ryan, C. E. W. H. O'Connell, J. P. Goodbody, G. R. Ryan, C. E. W. H. O'Connell, J. P. Goodbody.

The officials in attendance were—Messrs J. F. Power, Secretary; H. V. Morony, Engineer, and Captain J. Fitzmaurice, Harbour Master.

THE CASE OF TWO PILOTS.
The Secretary read the minutes of the Pilot Committee of the last instant called for the purpose of conferring with the eastern body of pilots as to the question of restoring pilots M. Reynolds and M. Hanrahan to their position on condition that they be kept at the Limerick station for one or two months for observation.

The pilots unanimously declared that they were averse to such an arrangement, as they would be given the best and most lucrative part of the work. The pilots further stated that if these men were restored they should refund the money that they had drawn as pensioners.

In reply to Mr. Griffin, the Chairman said there was no recommendation from the Pilot Committee; just a report.

The Chairman—The Committee has committed itself to nothing.

Mr. Griffin—I do not agree with the report, Mr. Goodbody. It is only a record of the proceedings of a meeting.

On the motion of Mr. Roche, seconded by the Deputy Mayor, the minutes were adopted.

The Chairman—in connection with that matter, we will now consider Mr. Griffin's motion, of which he has given notice.

Mr. Griffin proposed that the resolution adopted on the 8th August last, concerning the licences of Pilots Reynolds and M. Hanrahan, be rescinded, and that the said licences be renewed. He did not want to go over the history of the case at all, and thought that some compromise would be arrived at with the body of pilots. A compromise not having been arrived at, it was now open to the Board to do their own business and reinstate these two men. They were both experienced servants, and their services, he felt, would be required during the winter months on the river.

Mr. O'Flynn, in seconding the motion, said he sincerely trusted the benevolent action of the Board would find an echo and response in the breasts of the pilots concerned. He appealed to the members to restore these men to their positions, and make their lives happy during the winter months. He quite appreciated the heavy responsibility on the Board under the recent legislation, and made a final appeal for the reinstatement of these men, and hoped it would meet with the unanimous approval of the Board.

The Chairman—I am not going to say anything on this question as you are all cognizant of my view.

Mr. Goodbody said he did not want to propose an amendment, but suggested that the men be put on duty for a period of two months on probation. If any further delinquency was reported against them, the Secretary be empowered to suspend them out of hand.

The Chairman asked if Mr. Griffin were agreed with Mr. Goodbody's view.

Mr. Griffin replied in the affirmative.

The resolution was adopted, with Mr. Goodbody's suggestion as an addendum, and the Secretary was directed to intimate this to the affected pilots.

SAVING PROPERTY AT THE DOCKS.
The Secretary read a letter from Mr. L. Morley containing a request for the Board to take steps for guarding property at the Docks without interfering unnecessarily with the use of the place by the public.

Mr. Goodbody suggested that the letter be referred to a Committee, as he did not think the questions raised would be altogether feasible to those having business at the Docks.

Mr. Griffin said he had reason to know that there was a big diminution in the number of pilferers in the city, and that the property at the Docks would be protected.

The Secretary—Yes. We may think certain pilferers for that—the St. John's police, who arrested a number of boys at the Docks the other day for pilfering coal.

The matter was adjourned for a month.

THE MAIL QUESTION.
A letter was read from the Dublin Chamber of Commerce relative to the Harbour Board's suggestion that a meeting of public bodies be called to consider the question of acceleration of the cross-Channel mail. Owing to the unsettled conditions consequent on the political situation, the letter pointed out that the purpose would be served by calling this meeting, and nothing could be done pending a settlement of the Irish question.

The Chairman—At first it was the coal strike, then the railway strike, and now the political situation.

It was decided, on the motion of Mr. Ryan, seconded by Mr. Hollday, to invite the co-operation of the Cork Chamber on the matter, as Dublin has no interest.

DUES ON MOTOR CARS.
A letter was read from the Limerick Motor Works objecting to the dues on motor cars, and pointing out that if the dues were insisted on they should take their traffic by a cheaper route.

The Secretary said the dues on motor cars at Cork were 23s 4d; Dublin, 11s 8d; and Waterford, 15s.

Mr. Roche gave notice of motion to reduce the dues in Limerick to the Waterford level.

PILOT COMMITTEE.
The outgoing Pilot Committee consisting of the Mayor, Alderman P. Walsh, Mr. W. Hollday, Mr. J. P. Goodbody, Mr. L. Morley, Mr. J. N. Russell, and Mr. G. R. Ryan, were re-elected on the motion of Mr. O'Flynn, seconded by Mr. Hollday.

THE SWIMMING BRIDGE.
Mr. Griffin called attention to the necessity of erecting the swimming bridge. The material, which was on the ground and was every day deteriorating, and it was time a move was made to put the structure together.

The Secretary—The military authorities have indicated with the erection of the bridge.

Mr. Griffin pointed out that the bridge was a true commiseration.

Mr. Ryan—I don't think so.

The Chairman considered it better to communicate with the military authorities and ask them the reason for prohibiting the erection of the bridge.

The Board concurred, and directed the Secretary to write accordingly.

CHARGES FOR LOADING SAND.
A communication was received from Messrs Henry Ford, Cork, complaining about the charges for the shipment of mounding sand from the port of Limerick as being excessive.

The Secretary said that the sand was taken from Ballymurn, and the Board were not concerned in the charges made for loading at the docks.

It was decided that the matter was one for the local Transport Workers' Union.

The Secretary reported that eight regular traders, seven coasters, and five ocean-going vessels arrived in port since last meeting.

FOR RHEUMATISM
—TRY—
A Hot Saltrated Bath.

A bath in hot saltrated water will stop the aches, pains, stiffness and swelling within ten minutes. Millions of packages of Rosend Bath Saltrates for the preparation of saltrated water have been sold, every one with the manufacturer's plain and legally binding money-back guarantee enclosed, and the sale is increasing daily. This means success. Thousands of packets were sent by soldiers during the war for the relief of rheumatic or other muscular aches and pains, gouty joints, foot troubles, and other ailments. A chemist is authorized to return money to full immediately and without a word, if you are dissatisfied. It is always kept in stock, already put up in packets of convenient sizes, and selling at very low prices.

IRELAND'S SHARE OF RELIEF GRANT
At a meeting of Tipperary U.D.C. Mr. T. Dawson, Clerk, said some steps should be taken to secure for Irish local authorities some of the £20,000,000 Relief Grant Act recently passed in the British House of Commons. The Council authorised the Clerk to deal with the matter.

CORK HARBOUR AS A PORT OF CALL
The Council of the Cork Incorporated Chamber of Commerce and Shipping recently protested against the continuance of the embargo on West-bound vessels calling at Cork Harbour, by which the Irish passenger and mail, instead of being landed at Cork, are taken on to English ports and sent to this country—a procedure highly prejudicial to the commercial interests of Ireland.

THE MISSION OF ST ITA'S HOUSE.

Tribute by Most Rev Dr Hallinan.

On Wednesday night his Lordship the Bishop, Most Rev Dr Hallinan, addressed the members of St Michael's Total Abstinence Society in St Michael's Church. Having alluded to his own connection with the foundation of it when Administrator of St Michael's Parish in 1894, he paid a well-deserved tribute to the zealous and successful labours of Father O'Connell, who charged the new Society was placed. Under his fostering care, aided by a number of most earnest co-operators, who joined the Association, not through any personal need, but for the exercise of self-sacrifice in taking the total abstinence pledge, and still more to encourage by their example their weaker sisters, it assumed vast proportions and made its influence for good felt all through the city. Many a woman and girl have been reformed or saved from the degrading drink habit, and many a wretched home made bright and happy in consequence. Father O'Connell—as he was then known—Father O'Connell—felt that this thing more was needed to complete the work of the total abstinence pledge and the weekly religious exercises in the church. Temperance men had their rooms, where they met night after night for reading and recreation of various kinds. For women there was nothing similar suitable to their sex. To supply this want he procured and fitted up at very considerable expense the house, now so well known as St Ita's House. Aided by a committee of zealous, influential ladies and many co-operators from all sides, he started night schools for girls, where education had been neglected; also classes for sewing, cooking, and laundry for more grown girls. They got opportunities for innocent amusements—concerts, excursions—and thus it was that the two works—that of the total abstinence in St Michael's Church, and that of the house carried on at St Ita's House—became inseparably linked together, and formed one grand movement for the religious, moral, and social betterment of the women of the city, which had its reflex in the complete change of many individuals, and many homes that were brought within the range of its saving influence. Owing to his untiring labours on behalf of this work, when Father O'Connell was promoted to the Parish of Atha he was much broken down in health. It was his conviction, not only while he was engaged at it, but ever since he severed his connection with it, that such grand work of such proportions, if it were to be placed on a permanent basis, in addition to the zeal of the Spiritual Director and lay co-operators, whose services would be of a varying and contingent kind, it should be placed under the fostering care of a religious community. He made an effort in that direction before leaving the city, but without success. This want is now supplied. The spiritual daughters of the Venerable Don Bosco, the Sisters of Our Lady Help of Christians, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temperance Society, generally known as the Salesian Nuns, have been invited to Limerick, and principally to look after the work. This work is particularly congenial to the aims and institutions of their venerable founder, Don Bosco. Having alluded in suitable terms to the Salesian Nuns, the Bishop, continuing, said—It is from the fostering care and help of the Salesian Sisters that the clergy of St Michael's Parish and myself look forward with much hope to the spread and permanency of the Women's Temperance Society and St Ita's House—both of which go hand-in-hand. The Women's Temper