

Limerick Sympathy

Late Lady McCalmont

The unexpected death of Lady Helen McCalmont at her home in Kilkenny has been learned with regret in Limerick, where she was well known. For two seasons this noted Irish sportswoman was joint master of the Limerick Hounds with Mr Alexander, and frequently hunted in the county. She was a consistently successful exhibitor of bloodstock at the Limerick Horse Show. Lady Helen's many interests extended even to motor racing, and she was the donor of the magnificent trophy given as first prize in the motor race held this year and in 1930.
