Fatality In Tipperary

Comdr. Richard Roundell, British Royal Navy, aged about 46, came by car on Sunday from Waterville, co Kerry, on a visit to the residence at Ballykisteen Stud Farm, co Tipperary, of Mr Richard O'Brien, solr, whom he had known as a personal friend for the past twelve months. He retired to bed about midnight apparently in his usual good health. Next morning he was found lying dead in bed with a book beside him.

Dr M J O'Sullivan, Tipperary, visited Ballykisteen on Monday morning. Death is attributed to heart failure.
