

'Que vous sentez bon, Madame!'
(... oh, how delightfully fragrant you are!)

A black and white photograph of a smiling woman in a light-colored dress, surrounded by people in a crowded setting. The image is grainy and has a high-contrast, vintage feel. The woman is the central figure, looking towards the camera with a joyful expression. She is wearing a light-colored, possibly white, dress. Around her, the faces and shoulders of other people are visible, though less distinct, suggesting a social gathering or event. The lighting is dramatic, with strong highlights and deep shadows.

Is Mrs. Gallagher GUILTY?

Mrs. Mary Gallagher, seen here with two of her children, may be guilty of criminal negligence yet she is not careful enough about cleanliness.

Mrs. Gallagher knows that three-year-old Margaret and the twins Anne and Michael are at the ages when their mischievous fingers are into everything, and

Mrs. Gallagher, and every mother, should know that regular use of a good health soap is essential, and the most reliable health soap of all is Lifebuoy.
