

was about to pass him on the road his pony shied across the road and the bus, trying to avoid hitting the trap, crashed into the wall at the other side of the road. When the pony heard the crash it bolted and he was unable to control it for a distance of about fifty yards. When he brought the pony to a halt the head-lamps of the bus were shining on him and, as nobody came up to him from the bus, he concluded there was nobody injured and he proceeded home. The pony, he mitted by Mr. Tynan would be fairly strained if it were to be assumed that, because Carroll stopped at his home, some yards from where the accident occurred, he was entitled to be discharged, he would give him the benefit of the doubt involved and would discharge him on that count. He would, however, convict both defendants on the charges of driving vehicles without lights and would fine them 2/6 each. He would not allow expenses.

NYLONS BY AIR.

Eight thousand pairs of nylon stockings, consigned to a Dublin firm, arrived at Rineanna by air yesterday, from U.S.A. They were flown to-day to Dublin by Air Lingus.

PARAFFIN SHORTAGE

People living in the country districts of Bruff and Dromin (writes our Bruff correspondent) are still experiencing considerable inconvenience due to the unusual scarcity of paraffin oil in these districts, thus causing a black-out where country people are concerned. The December ration of paraffin oil has not yet arrived in these districts and with a short day and long night of this wintry weather, the position of these people, living out in country places, is unenviable. It is to be hoped that the ration will arrive at an early date and so relieve the black-out.

TREES BLOWN DOWN BY STORM

On Sunday night (writes our Bruree correspondent) a fierce storm raged in the Bruree district for a period of over four hours. The electric current in the village was, as a result, cut off for a period of half an hour, and trees were felled in country districts. When the storm abated at 9.30, rain fell steadily for some hours.
