BISHOP OF LIMERICK And "Patriotism" Pamphlet

HIS LORDSHIP'S VIEWS

His Lordship the Most Rev Dr O'Dwyer has sent copies of the following to the Managers of National Schools in the diocese of Limerick:

GENTLEMEN—The Commissioners of National Education have issued for use in the schools which are subject to their jurisdiction, a pamphlet on "Patriotism," written by Mrs. May O'Starkie, the wife of the President Commissioner. In my opinion, that gentleman himself has been quite enough for us for many years, without inflicting upon us the activities of an educational Mrs. Proudie. If he finds himself unequal to the task of organising the very elementary course of studies in the National Schools, let him ask for an assistant, or make way for someone more competent, than he has proved himself to be, but it will be simply intolerable if the ladies of his family exercise a right of semi-official interference. The pamphlet pretends to be a consideration for supporting a blind. It is really a recruiting manifesto, and if any attempt is made to impose it upon the children of Ireland the Commissioners of National Education will probably meet with unexpected opposition. At this moment there is an angrier feeling in this country than I remember for many a day. Recent events in Dublin, the peridy of the English Government on Home Rule, the dishonesty with which we were promised self-government as a consideration for supporting England in the war, so that our people were led to believe that in reality it was a war for Ireland, all this and a thousand other phases of the duplicitous which has just been revealed in Parliament, have put the Irish people in a temper that will not brook the trifling of England's retainers, or accept lessons on Patriotism from them. The whole history of our country is one lesson in Patriotism. The Yellow Ford, Benburb, the Curlew Mountain, Limerick, Fennyng, these are the memories that thrill the heart of every young Irishman, but the Commissioners of National Education have little to say upon these topics. Patriotism is not a subject for the school, it is a subject for the home, and it is to be made to work in the minds of our little children, but they are not to think or speak about their country, her wrongs and sufferings or her national rights. There is not a word in this precious pamphlet about Grattan or Emmet or O'Connell or Burke or Parnell. The teacher who would speak of these within school hours would do so at the risk of dismissal, but they are to revert to the days of Whately, and teach their pupils to bless the good English grace that made them happy English children. I need not point out to you, gentlemen, the absurdity of this latest attempt at political proscriptions or its great danger. There are plenty of boys and girls in the schools who would not stand it, and would probably express their appreciation of Mrs. Starkie's anxiety for their patriotic by suggesting that she might be more usefully employed in teaching her maternal grand-parent the way of extracting, by intimidation, the paymaster of ease. Anyhow, I think you will see the danger of introducing such matter into the schools. I am, gentlemen, yours faithfully in Christ.

EDWARD TIGHE, Bishop of Limerick.

"A STRANGE OCCURRENCE"

LIMERICK MOTOR PARTYS EXPERIENCE

Shots in the Night

We take the following from the Clare Champion:—"News of a strange occurrence has just reached Ennis from Newcastle, which is to the effect that when a motor car, with four occupants, of which the driver of Limerick was one, was returning from Galway Ennis on Wednesday night, the party had occasion to stop the car a small distance on the Limerick side of the village. A number of shots immediately rang out on the vicinity. There was nobody strange. The party started to Newmarket and reported the matter to the police. The car had previously been stopped in the village for some time. On Friday morning District Inspector Townsend, Ennis, proceeded to the place to make inquiries. Further details are not available for the present."

PATRON OF ST MALO

Our Kilmallock correspondent writes—There was a very large attendance at the Patron of St Malo—Enniscorthy and Knocknagone on Sunday, many people having come long distances. Devotional exercises were performed by the assembly, and the scene was very impressive. The weather was beautifully fine.

KILMALLOCK SHOW

THE AMUSEMENT TAX

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

At a meeting of the Committee of Management of the Kilmallock Show, the President, Mr. T. W. W. Bennett, M.C., occupied the chair, and the members present were—Messrs J. W. A. Harty, T. O'Connell, M.J. Mitchell, V.S.; M. J. Hurley, W. Moloney, D.C.; J. O'Connell, M.C.; J. Doherty, D.C.; J. E. Hickey, and L. M. Harris, secretary.

On the subject of the Amusement Tax the following was read from Sir Gilbert Grenall, Bart., O.V.O.:—"I expect you will find that there is nothing for it but paying the tax. It is rather a matter for the Committee to decide if they think it wise or otherwise to make an extra charge for admission into the Show in order to meet the tax. The Royal Commission will make an extra charge and will pay out their funds whatever is demanded by the authorities. The Royal is in somewhat different position to other societies, its work being carried on under a Royal Charter."

The Chairman asked for the views of the members. Mr. Hurley said at the previous meeting he had mentioned when the question was before Parliament it was stated that the tax would be met by the Agricultural Shows and according to the measure, itself, it should be exempt from it. He had also referred to the fact that in the spring the Government Department for the Interior had decided to exempt the Agricultural Shows from the tax, and that they were now to be taxed for exhibiting the produce. It seemed as if the Agricultural Shows were to be taxed for exhibiting the produce.

The Chairman said that was true, but how were they to have their position made plain? Mr. Harris—The Cork Show had to pay it. Mr. Harris said that they could get a copy of the Budget Resolution dealing with the matter. He agreed with Mr. Hurley that there was some exemption.

Mr. Harris—I think there was with Gaelic pastimes. The Chairman said amusements of a national character were excluded, but he had no idea if they could rely on it.

Mr. Hurley said anything proposed for partly educational or partly scientific purposes was excluded. Mr. Harris said that would be very serious. The Chairman said that would be very serious.

MEETING OF LIMERICK COUNTY BOARD

INTERESTING PROCEEDINGS

LAST SUNDAY'S HURLING GAMES

AT MARKETS FIELD

Mr. William Gleeson (Vice-Chairman) presided at Saturday's meeting of the Limerick County Board of the Gaelic Athletic Association. There was a small attendance of delegates present.

The minutes of the last meeting having been read and confirmed. The Secretary (Mr. James Ryan) read a letter from Mr. Tim Moleony, Pallaquerry, stating everything was done to procure a suitable field for the matches fixed for Friday on Sunday next.

The Secretary reported that he had received a telegram from Mr. Tim Moleony, Cork, asking if the Limerick County team were travelling to Cork on Sunday, 13th inst. It seemed, said the Secretary, that Mr. Moleony and Mr. Tim Moleony had made some arrangements about this match, but he (the Secretary) did not know anything about it, and he wired back to Mr. Tim Moleony to let him know.

Mr. Harris—Does anyone know what this match is about? The Chairman said it was the return match between Cork and Limerick. You may remember that Cork travelled to Limerick some time ago. There are fixtures made by this Board for an hour after scheduled time for starting of any game, and if a team had not lined out by that time to award the match to the team on the field. This would bring the match to a halt and have matches started at the proper time. No players should be allowed to enter the field as it induced their supporters to leave the field. The Chairman said that was a very good idea.

The matter was not further discussed. Replying to Mr. D. Maher, the Secretary said he had not yet received any report from Mr. Tim Moleony, Pallaquerry, of the match played in the Markets Field on Sunday, 13th inst. The Chairman said that was a very good idea.

Mr. Maher—Surely the report should be received after a fortnight, and the Chairman said that was a very good idea.

PULMONARY CONSUMPTION

Professor M'Weney's Views

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

Speaking at the twenty-fourth annual general meeting of the Royal National Hospital for Consumption, Professor M'Weney, M.D., as regarded the treatment of pulmonary consumption, there was practical agreement that the leading remedy was cod liver oil.

It was recommended that in other words, plenty of good food, continuous exposure in the fresh air, and rest of mind and body. In addition to these remedies, various drugs and vaccines had been employed with varying results. The problem of finding a chemical substance which would produce a destructive effect upon the tubercle bacillus, whilst sparing the tissues in which it was embedded; in other words, the chemotherapy of tuberculosis, was receiving much attention, and was being made the subject of much experimental work, which was being carried on with the aid of funds donated by the National Health Insurance Scheme. In the speaker's own laboratory, University College, Dublin, investigations with this object in view, are being actively prosecuted, and there was good reason to hope that a drug may yet be found which will considerably delay the progress of the disease so acutely induced in animals, and which may also be sufficient to justify its application to the human subject.
