UNDAY EVENING, JANUARY 23, 1906.

THE MAYORALTY AND

SHRIEVALTY AY at noon the members of the newlymed Oprporation met principally for the pose of electing a Mayor and selecting o names for the office of High Sheriff for ensuing twelve months. As usual, a conable amount of linterest was centred in proceedings, especially in the election of or. That was due to the fact that two men as the outgoing Mayor (Councillor M ENELLY) and Alderman M Jords, M.P. mentioned as candidates for the honour. are is much in common between the two which, as we before stated, rendered it swhat difficult on the part of the other bers of the Corporation to make a shoice the choice had not to be made, for Coun or DONNELLY took the earliest opportunity intend seeking re-election. Councillor XXELLY was already two years in the civic ir, and though he gave the namost satisfacn to all classes by his ppright conduct and his collent administration of city affairs, was felt that it would be only nitable and fair to give another member of Council an opportunity of bearing the me bonour that was conferred on himself o years ago. This Councillor DONNELLY idently had in his mind when he graciously ve way to Alderman Joyce, And Conneillor NNELLY must feel in relinquishing the obain office that he does so to one worthy and mlified in every way to year the fasignia

the members of the Council and the isons we have not the least doubt. Those be know his character-and he is sufficiently og before the public to enable the citizens to dge for thesiselves will readily form the pability and fairness, and that he will at all nes see justice and fair play meted out to all see, while at the same time preserving the litical honour of our suctest city

derman Joyce's record in the Conseil namber is one that marked him out as a pable successor to Councillor DONNELLY

He always believed in the physical force policy as against constitutional agitation. He took up the cause of Labour in an authusiastic manner, and in '99 sought the suffrages of the electors of the Irishtown Ward on the Lebour having received 533 votes. This was the highes number polled, and therefore suitled him to rank as sonlor alderman in the Municipal Council (Of course the rule as regards the election of Aiderman has since been shanged) He entered the Ocrporation supported by a strong Labour Party, and unanimously elected Mayor
