

THE BONA FIDE PEST.

Before the Tipperary magistrates, a man named Dick Barry was charged with having obtained a licence to the licensed premises of John H. Burke, Main street, on Sunday, and having sold drink by falsely representing himself to be a traveller from Drumcliffe. Constable Reidy, who prosecuted, said he was informed the man was in the habit of doing that on Sundays. A fine of 2s. 6d. and costs was imposed.

RUNAWAY IN THE CITY.

A horse attached to a trap took flight near the Sarsfield Bridge and raced madly up Sarsfield street, William street, Newtown Mahon, and into Grave Street on Wednesday. Opposite the Operative Wholesale Stores he was pulled up by some of Mr. Stokes's employes. The animal's escape created great commotion. The horse and trap were the property of Mr. Patrick Sheahan, of Regent street.

ALLEGED ATTEMPTED ROBBERY.

(By Telegraph To-day.)

The caretaker at a jeweller's establishment in Birmingham this morning fired a revolver. A bullet went through a door, and struck a man in the head, seriously injuring him. The injured man is charged with attempting to break into the premises.

A LOCAL SANDOW

A contemporary says:—At Abbeyfeale, Co. Limerick, a few days since, the wheel of a car which were ten half barrels of Guinness's stout, weighing roughly about a ton, came off its axle. While the carrier was contemplating what was best to be done, a well-known local sportsman, remarkable for his physique, arrived on the scene, and solved the difficulty by grasping one of the beel shafts and raising, with aid, the car and its contents to a height sufficient to permit of the readjustment of the wheel.
