

rging views. He said:
*casions we have been too l by party differences, but nes attached to the present ind the signature of per-ing almost every possible ous and political opinion. o, for the purpose of laying t of an institution, which
 , by uniting in youth per-ite creeds, to soften the h at present exist in socis, to teach us to respect id opinions of those who and in youth to cement ich in age will not be dis-* nents which could well n to modern Ireland.

 nts were to prove, they at that particular meet-the need to extend the education of the more
 When he posed the quesnot the opportunities at e for this purpose were s answered by loud cries e one hand and 'no, no', was clear from this on,

Bishop John Ryan.

description of education, as is best calculated to fit them for the duties which belong to their station in life. (36)

in such an institution Smith O'Brien and o
 religion of the distric preponderate' and th
 over the young min
 Indeed, his rhetoric c ther when he saw su
 an engine to overth
 Church in this countr

Monsell's speech
 tion from O'Brien's s were charges that he which was offensi Catholic religion. Oth support of Monsell
 Archdeacon Maunse
 Elmes, Vicar of St. Jo unsuccessfully tryin resolution amended supporters eventually meeting. The motion carried unanimously.

It is interesting some members of the
 who reacted strong denominational asp colleges. Whether th
 gious zeal or not is c tude could only be existing position in