

+ out of the wood

local soon to be heroes, woodstar, are releasing their second ep with a show in dolan's warehouse on oct 11.

the band were formed in the summer of 2000, a five piece whose influences are wide and varied from dylan & bowie to smog & red house painters and who believe the song is bigger than both its parts and its players.

their first gig was in November 2000 in the Limerick heats of the Bacardi Hotpress Plugged Band of the year, a competition which they subsequently won outright in April of the following year.

having released the critically acclaimed and well received 'time to bleed' ep, earning the band a glowing review in nme, and single of the week in both hot press and the english independent, this second ep will hopefully forward their cause even more.

contact dolans on 061-314483 and stay tuned to the next issue of LEG for further details of the gig.

+ snowed under

the avalanches released their debut album 'since i left you' in australia in nov 2000 through modular recordings to unanimous acclaim. the album has since been released in the uk, europe, japan and the states, topping dozens of end of year polls for 2001. along the way, the avalanches were awarded best live act at the muzik magazine awards and the q awards. they also won best video at the mtv europe video awards for 'since i left you'.

dj dexter is an important part of the avalanches crew, having toured extensively with them throughout europe, the states and japan as well as playing dj sets at clubs around the world and key radio shows. he also hosted a massively successful residency at the st kilda bowling club, one of australia's biggest clubs and played sets at key product and film launches.

the four time australian dmc champion, who finished second in the world at the finals in london in 2000, and the 2000 3d dance music awards turntablist of the year is now on his way to limerick as part of his first irish tour which also takes in dublin's pod and waterford's south. he plays soul clinic in dolan's warehouse on thursday oct 24.

+ step on stage

if you are between 16 and 23 years old and interested in becoming involved in one of the most exciting theatre groups in the mid-west, limerick youth theatre would love to hear from you. previous experience is not necessary as they are looking for energetic and creative young people who can work well in a team.

lyt offers a two-year course of training and experience in theatre and they will be holding auditions on saturday september 28 in the belltable arts centre. The auditions will involve all applicants in a friendly workshop, with group games and plenty of scope for showing off talent and imagination. So there's no need to succumb to stage fright!

application forms must be filled in before attending the audition. they are available at the belltable box office and limerick youth information centre. contact miriam lohan and bridget wallace at 061 - 311100 or lyt@eircom.net for further details.
