

on the way

A little taste of what's in the post for Limerick

Crazy P Live

Early Show 9pm
Trinity Rooms
Friday November 7th

These funk masters of live house music played a great show in Trinity Rooms back in '07 that was minimally disturbed by the sound of a fire alarm, which barely stalled the party. So it is with joy and a spit and polish on our dancing shoes that we bring you news of their imminent return to Limerick. Crazy P's (the full band name is Crazy Penis, the group prefer to keep the origins obscure believing it just adds to their allure) and journey started back in '96 and continues gleefully to this day as this British 5-some release their fourth studio album and hit the road for a tour of the U.K and our own home shores. If you like house, deep or otherwise, funk, a sexy songstress and all round great music than don't miss this one, it'll be one hot and happy party.

For more info log onto trinityrooms.ie or myspace.com/crazypenismusic

Ian Whitty & The Exchange

Dolan's Upstairs
Thursday November 6th

The Lucky Caller No.9 is the long awaited studio album from Ian Whitty and The Exchange, produced Ken McHugh who has worked with Dave Kitt and Autamata and mastered by Dave Collins in Los Angeles. Singles 'Not On Your Side' and 'Houndstooth Shirt' have been playlisted on stations nationwide. Lush strings and brass dominate the indie pop arrangements of the new recordings and the up tempo nature of the songs marks an exciting progression from Ian's stripped back beginnings. Since Ian's emergence, he has been a highly active figure in the thriving Cork scene as well as being invited to perform with many of the luminaries of the Irish scene including Declan O'Rourke, Bell X1, Josh Ritter, Damien Rice, The Frames and Rodrigo y Gabriella. A special show not to be missed.

For more info log onto dolans.ie or myspace.com/ianwhitty

Soundings

Daghda Space
St John Square
Friday November 7th

Soundings is a performance series based in Limerick that is designed to open the senses to new forms of music, sound art, and media interaction. Now in its third season, Soundings continues to champion Irish sound art composers and practitioners, while bringing the best of the global scene to Limerick. The Soundings team hope this cross-fertilisation will enrich both the local and international scenes. Soundings is curated by Jürgen Simpson a composer, performer, sound artist and Course Director of the CCMCM at the University of Limerick. Robin Parmar is a media designer, sound artist, poet and theorist who has released several albums as escalation 746. The next soundings event welcomes sound artist Jonathan Sage to the Dagda space.

For more info log onto soundings.ie

GiveaManAKick

Dolan's Warehouse
Saturday November 15

Steveamanakick and giveamanakeith return to Dolan's for a big night of loud fun next month and bring special guests Adebisi Shank and Shield Your Eyes along for the ride. Since they released their second album, 'We are the way forward' more than two years ago GAMAK have been keeping themselves busy with another stint in the studio to record a split 7" single with Berkeley and many many tours and support slots with the Deftones, Lightning Bolt, Dinosaur Jr and The Warwick to name but a few. Then came the festivals with electric performances chalked down at The Picnic, Mantua, Hard Working Class Heros and Bloom. Not tiring just yet the boys are bringing it all back home in November. Take the kicking, it'll be worth it.

For more info log onto myspace.com/giveamanakick or dolans.ie