

Hermitage Green

go back to basics

LIMERICK'S Hermitage Green have recorded a video for Aertv's Back to Basics series. The combo perform a storming rendition of their current release, 'Golden Rule' on the grounds of Rathfarnham Castle. Back to Basics is an initiative from Aertv and Today FM to promote independent Irish music with videos filmed in beautiful locations of 12 Irish bands performing their music acoustically. Hermitage Green's regular weekly sessions in the Curragower Bar made their performance for Aertv look slick and effortless. Hermitage Green are gaining momentum nationwide with their live performances, having just sold out their Whelans gig on December 6, following a sold out show at the Dublin's Academy 2 earlier this year.

with tour dates taking them to Australia in January for 6 weeks including shows in Perth, Brisbane, Melbourne and the main stage for Australia Day at Sydney's Darling Harbour. They will also take in US with shows in Las Vegas, Chicago, Florida and New York plus dates in France, Abu Dhabi and Dubai.

See www.aertv.ie/backtobasics for performances from the 12 acts, Delorentos acoustic take on their track 'The Storm' is particularly good even with the uninvited "guest" appearance.

The single 'Golden Rule' will be available for download now. Hermitage Green play Aubars, on Friday November 23; The Scholars Club on Wednesday November 28 and The Curragower Bar every Sunday.
